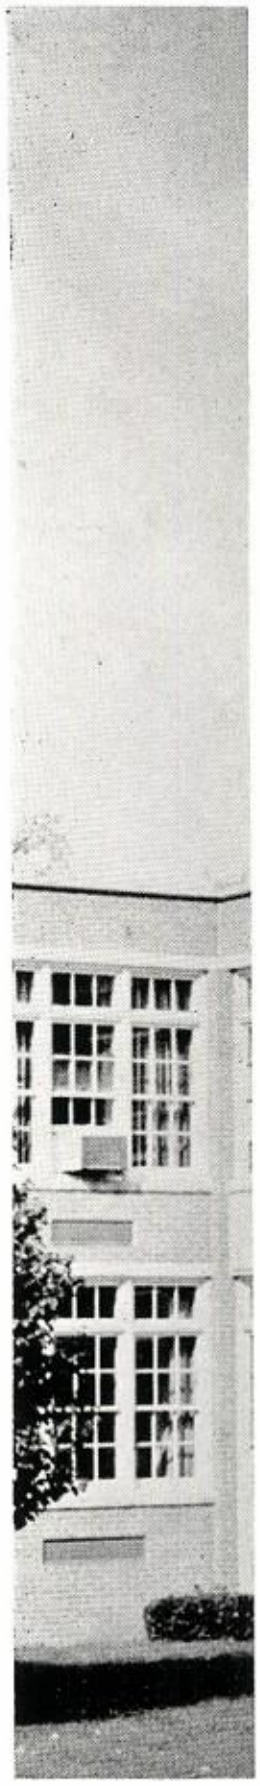
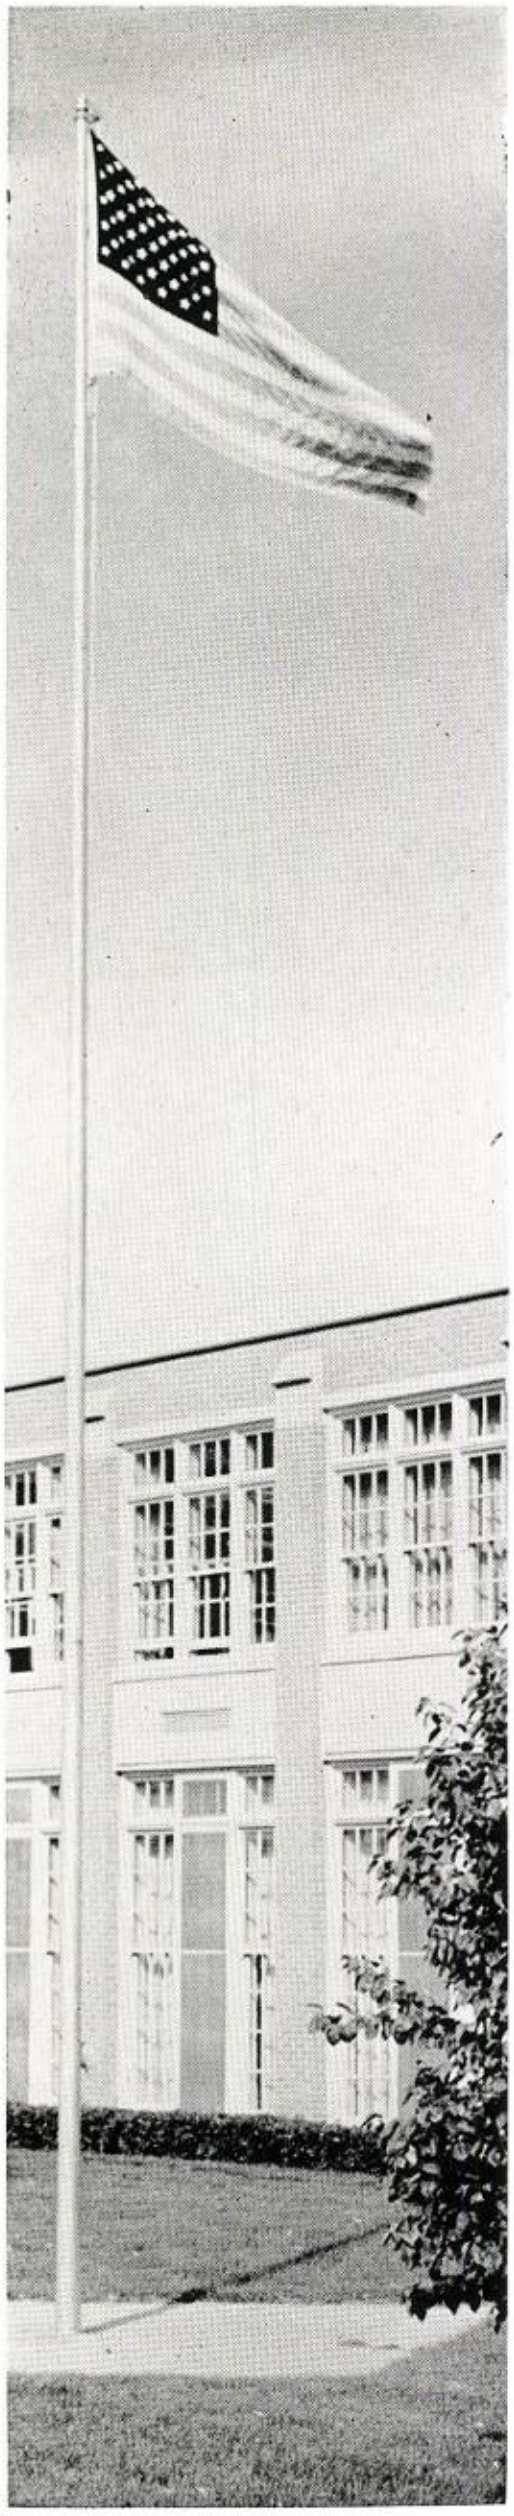
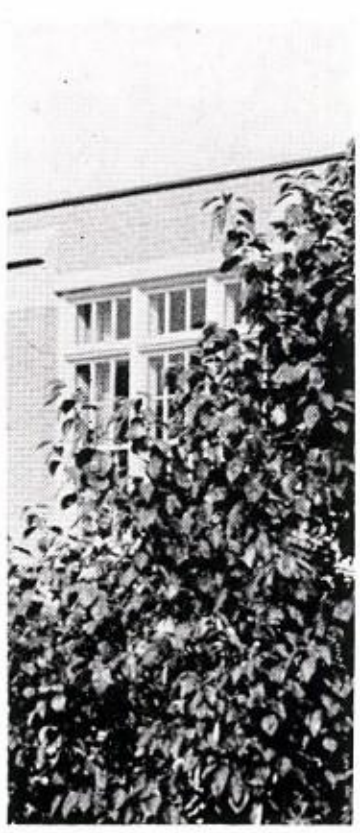
Arlington High School, District 214
Arlington Heights, Illinois, Vol. 48







Arlington High School — a synthesis of past and progress — vividly reflects the old confronting the new, the old assimilating the new. For this reason, "Tradition in Change" has become the theme of Heights '69.

Tradition at Arlington is forty-eight years old. It manifests itself in the atmosphere, the activities, and the actions of the twenty-three hundred individuals who crowd its halls daily. Tradition is the past, but it is not static because each year tradition takes on new meaning. The old is not destroyed; the old at Arlington is reshaped by time. Heights '69 has consciously attempted to preserve and to restate this tradition, but it has attempted to do so in a way that adequately displays the spirit of "Tradition in Change" that keeps Arlington alive. Through the use of a two-section format, Heights '69 has put the old face to face with the new. Coronation, sleigh bells, and the prom take their places along with the new locker room, senior seminars, and student lounge. The first section represents change; the new layout and design feature those happenings particular to 1968-69. The second section represents tradition; the design and the content are reflective of past editions of Heights.

The motif of Heights '69 again stresses the idea of past meeting progress. As the numerals "6" and "9" evolved historically, their appearance changed; yet their traditional shapes are still recognizable.

In a sense tradition is sacred, but its observance is never rigid. Tradition reflects the best of the past while it accepts the best of the present as the tradition of tomorrow. With this in mind, the editors and the staff of Heights '69 take pride in presenting "Tradition in Change" with the hope that the student body will always have the strength to accept that which cannot be changed, the courage to change that which must be changed, and the wisdom to know the difference.

With visions of six weeks of vacation and study dancing in their heads, Arlington "French Abroad" exchange students leave for Quimper, France.

Senior Debbie Yates, one of our AFS exchange students, reflects on the friendship and happiness gained in Norway the past summer.

For Betty White happiness is recalling the fond memories of her musical tour through France last summer.

Anticipating their summer trips, the exchange students look forward to learning, fun, and new experiences. Maggie Adams goes through the confusion of confirming reservations and checking luggage, while Cathy Rowe says goodbye to her friends.

Roving Cardinals Fly Abroad

Several students spent exciting summers in Europe. Our AFS representative was Debbie Yates who was in Norway for seven weeks. Her home was a farm 20 miles south of Bergen. She spent time pitching hay, climbing mountains, swimming in freezing fjords, and knitting a Norwegian sweater.

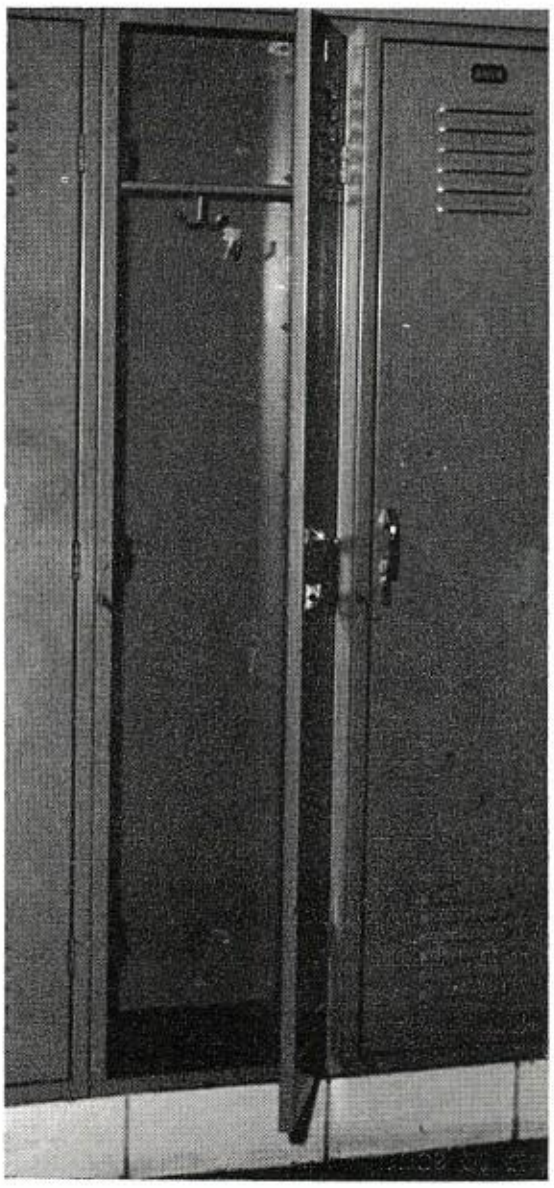
This summer, senior Cathy Rowe was among 160 Student Council members and 40 adults who were in Europe for seven weeks visiting nine different countries. One unusual experience was having a snowball fight in the Alps in the middle of July.

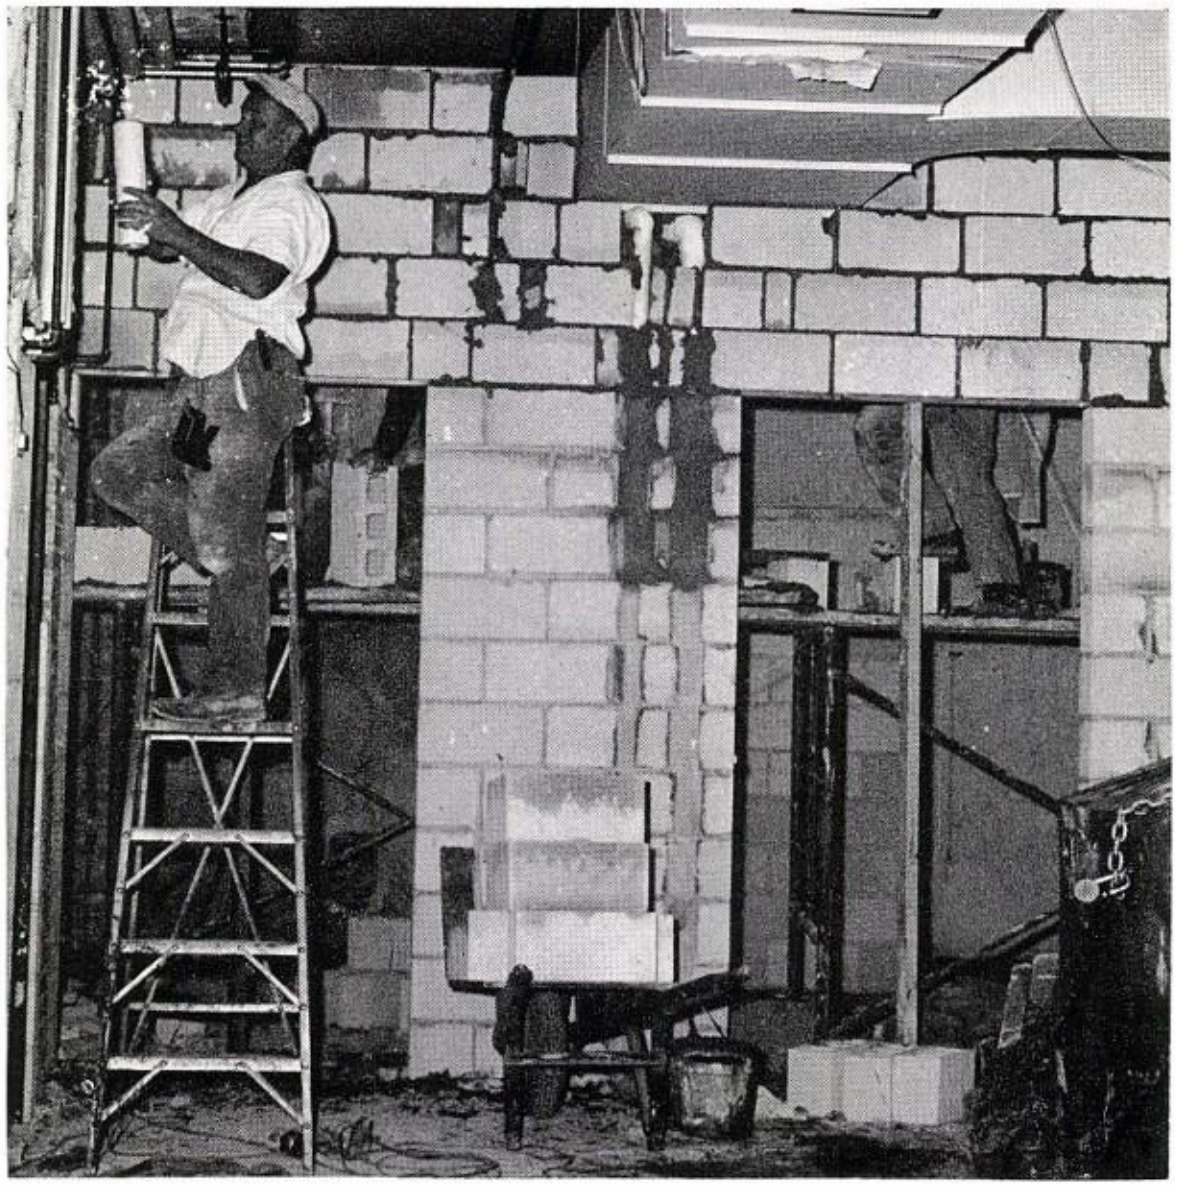
Maggie Adams, Ginny Hawley, Pam Lindsay, Barb Schultheis, Pam Townsend, Kathy Waara and Carolyn Wacaser combined sightseeing and studying. After a four day stop in London, they went on to school in Quimper, France.

Summer's End Fills Empty Halls

(Above) Shelf upon shelf of wily ALM books lie in wait for unsuspecting French students. (Right) Colleen Guilfoil views the rubble that will be a door to the girls' gym.

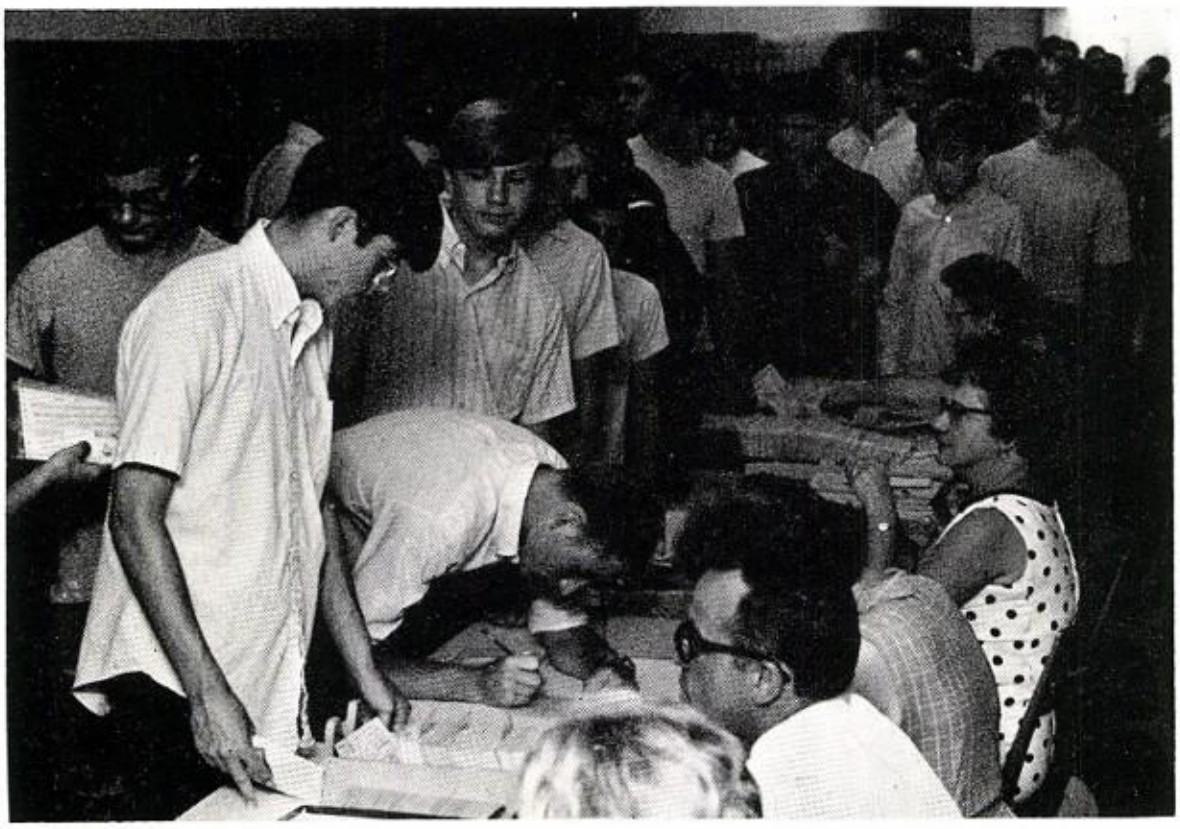
Lonely locker 90237 stands waiting for beaches to close and school to re-open.





The walls of the old locker room come tumbling down as custodians make a valiant attempt to provide Arlington's female population with latest in locker room decor.

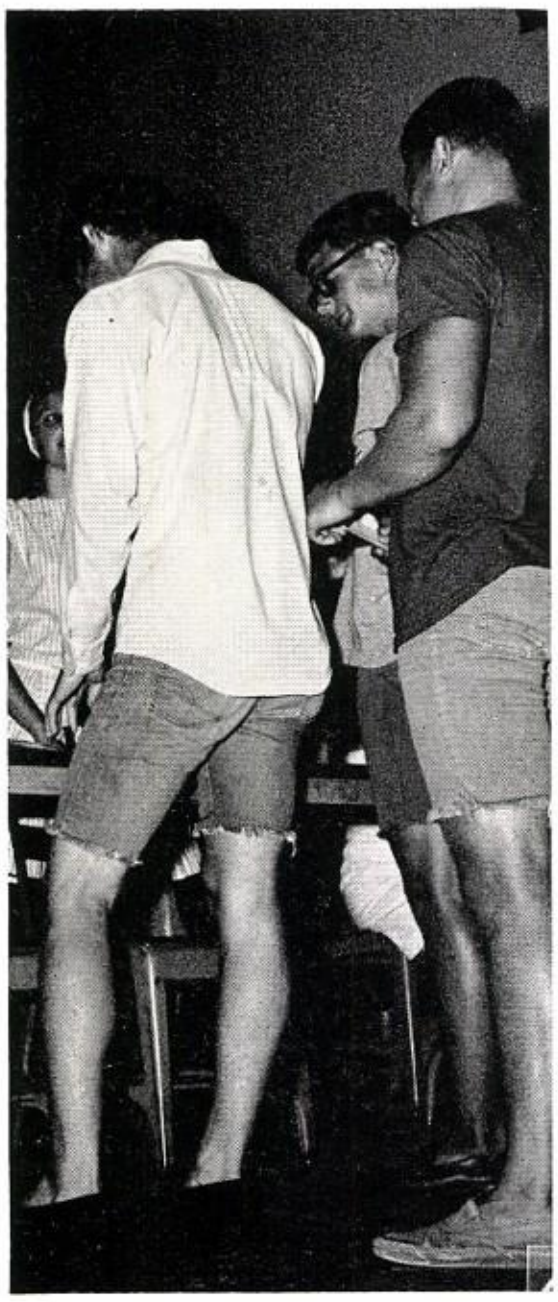
Cardinals Return For New Year At "New" AHS



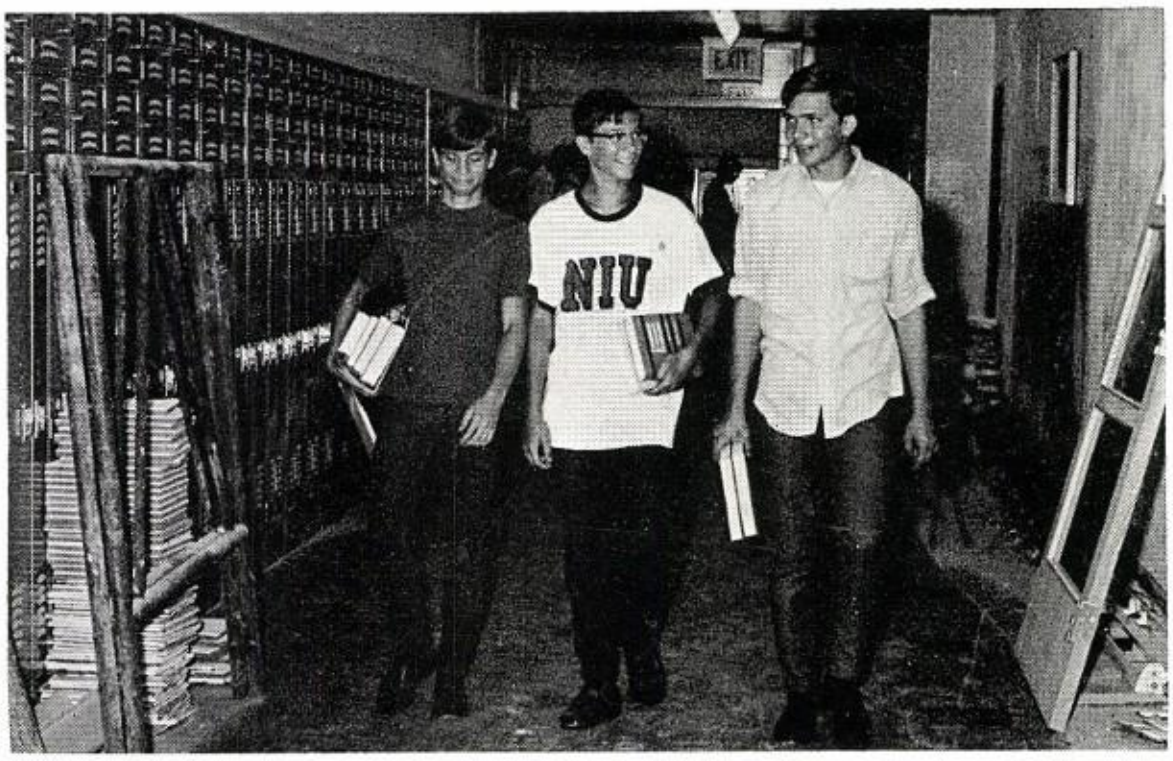
Standing wearily in line in the hot, humid heat of August are Arlington '68-'69'ers awaiting the secretaries' revelation of the coming year's enthralling class schedule.

Ebbing summer brought the Cards back from jobs and vacations to homework and term papers. Returning for registration and senior pictures in the oppressive August heat, students were greeted by the sights and sounds of the construction and remodelling of the school building. Fire doors were installed in strategic spots, and the girls' locker room was completely renovated.

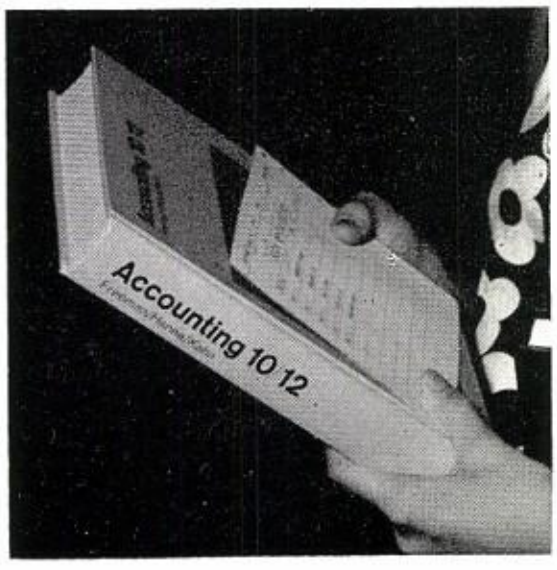
After registering in the air-conditioned conference room and picking up new sets of books, new students, as well as upperclassmen, could be found wading through the dust-covered corridors; freshmen searching for elusive classrooms; and seniors, visiting the familiar sites of years of memories and experiences.



Summer tans on students tempt Mary Tuomi away from book distribution.

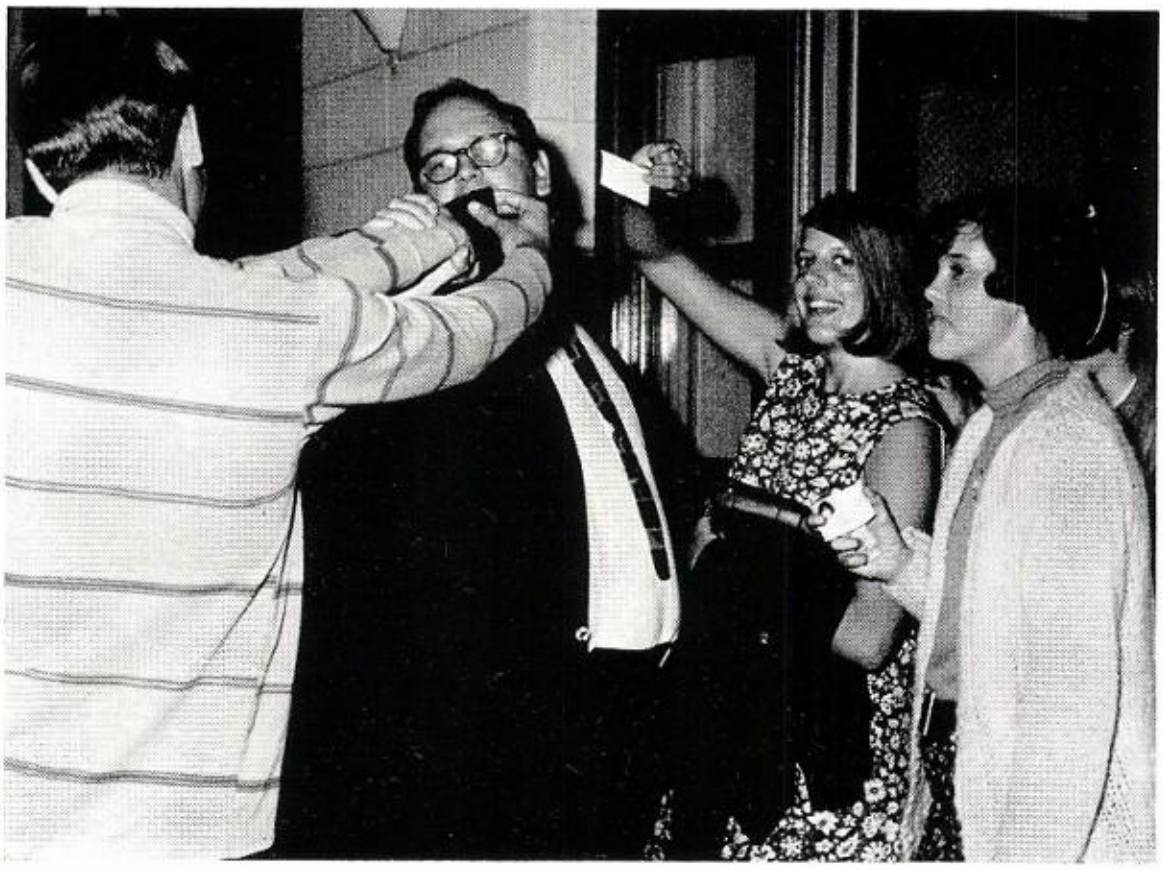


Tom Ungaro, Kevin Koeneman, and Lee Mirs begin to readjust themselves to the unfamiliar sensation that comes from carrying books after vacation.



Memories of fun-filled days in the sun fade with the first look at next year's schedule.

ROYAL CORONATION
Height o' Hectic Homecoming



Counselor Mr. Clark is overwhelmed by Arlington students. (They've got their I.D.'s to prove it.) Janice Parvin and Paula Greeley enter the Kickoff Coke Dance first.

Homecoming 1968 was the traditional highlight of the school year. The many activities during the week included "A" Club selling raffle tickets, Student Council selling shakers and Homecoming ribbons, and cheerleaders selling mums. As always the construction and completion of the floats for the Homecoming parade became the goal of everyone.

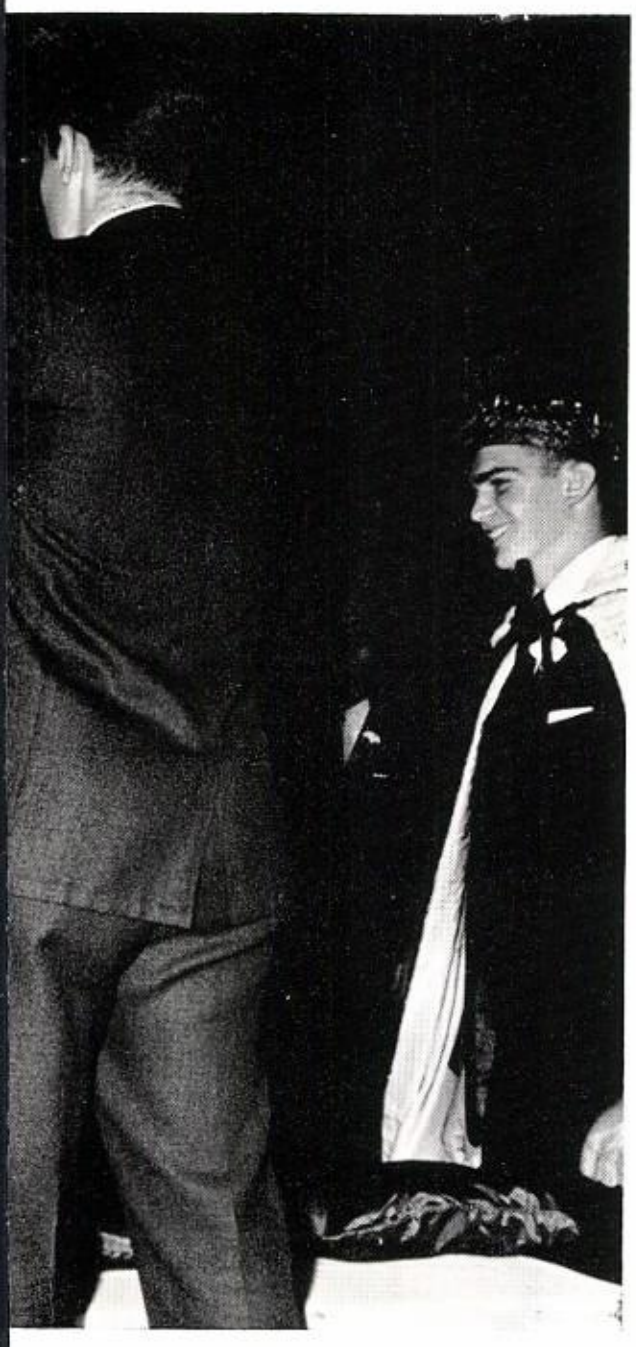
On Friday, October 11, 1968, the coronation ceremony climaxed the week's festivities. Tension mounted as the candidates walked down the aisle. The unbelievable quickly became reality as the master of ceremonies, Curt Wilson, announced Todd Somers and Donna Kuharich as the reigning couple. Tears of happiness and joy were shed by many as King Todd presented Queen Donna to her loyal subjects. The Homecoming parade concluded the afternoon's events for King Todd and Queen Donna and their court.

The Homecoming spirit continued during the football game as the victorious Cardinals sunk the Palatine Pirates 41-0.

The final hours of this year's Homecoming were danced away at the Homecoming ball, "Autumn Mist," which was presented by "A" Club. The Grace Gym was transformed into an atmosphere fitting for the season as the magic of Homecoming 1968 faded away; only memories remained.

Crown—Robe: Imperial Keys

Todd Somers, the Homecoming King of 1968, and his royal Queen Donna Kuharich find that the emotional impact of the Homecoming proclamation (far left) is quickly replaced by the serene happiness brought by a crown and a robe.



The crowning moment is reached as an excited Donna Kuharich begins her reign as the 1968 Homecoming Queen.

As the Arlington Homecoming royalty circles the flower-strewn gym floor, the Choraliers hail the couple by leading the audience in singing the school song.

Homecoming Court:

Nick Isaacs adds a finishing touch of spray paint for a more natural look.

This little piggy hogs the attention of the Homecoming parade onlookers.

Slowly and majestically the scroll is unrolled to the fanfare of the organ.

Varsity cheerleaders and a friend await the start of the Homecoming parade.

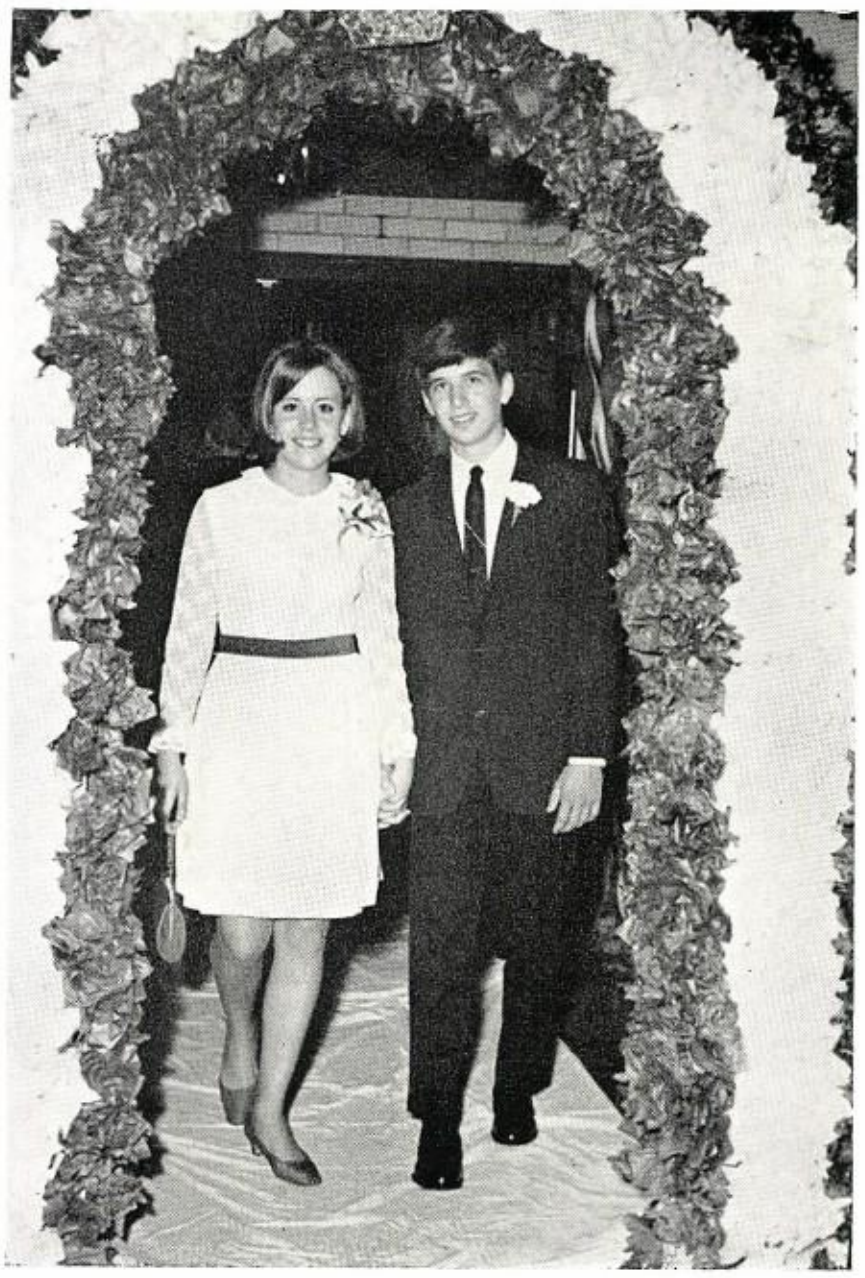
Chicken Wire, Napkins, Fun

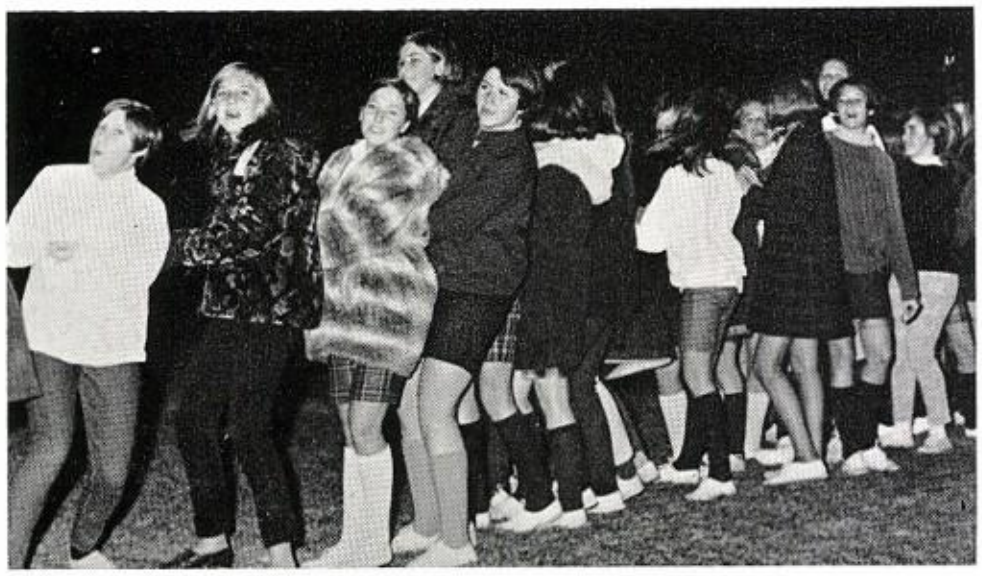
Unfortunately, Peter did not pick this healthy-looking pumpkin as a winner!

The class of 1969 proves that seniors "rule the roost" as they take first prize with their float proclaiming the inevitable superiority of Cardinal Power over Pirates.

Gary Drake escorts Donna to the microphone as she announces the winning ticket for the Homecoming football.

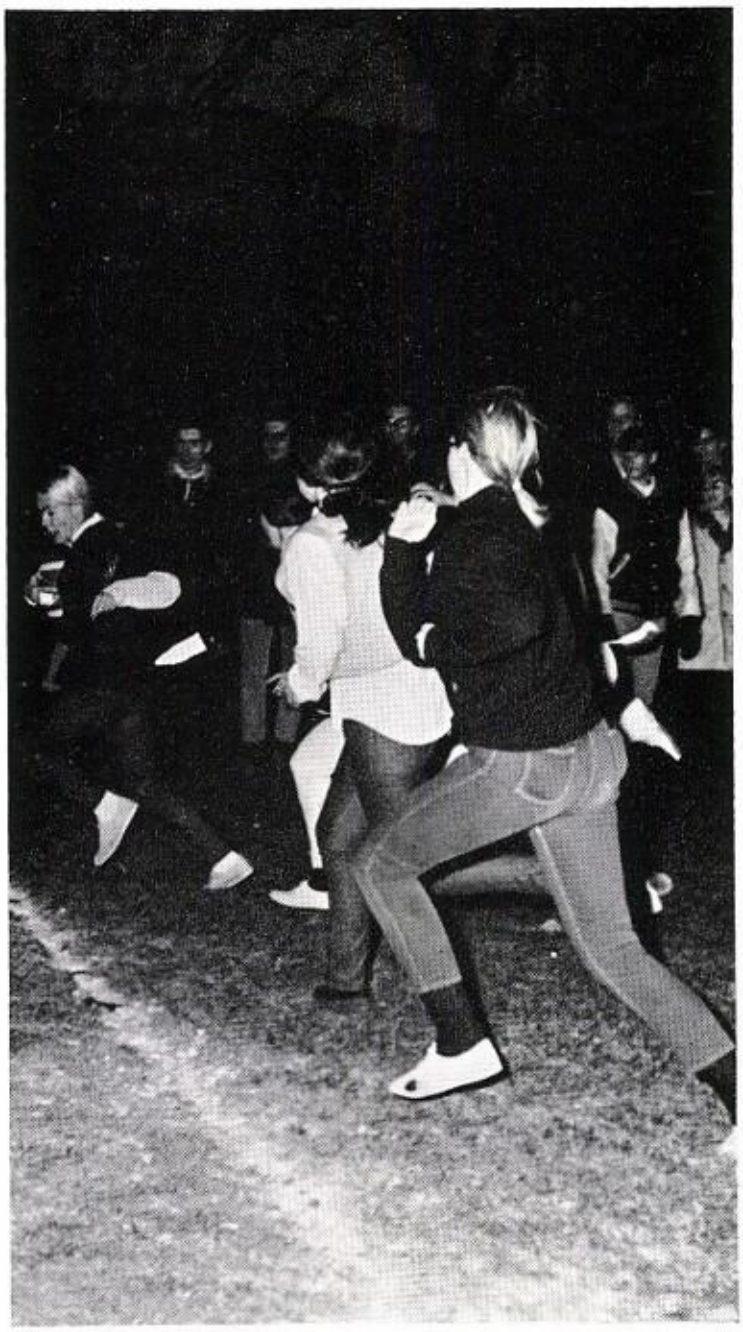
Mark Larson and his date walk under the arch of tradition into the conclusion of the fall festivities, "Autumn Mist."





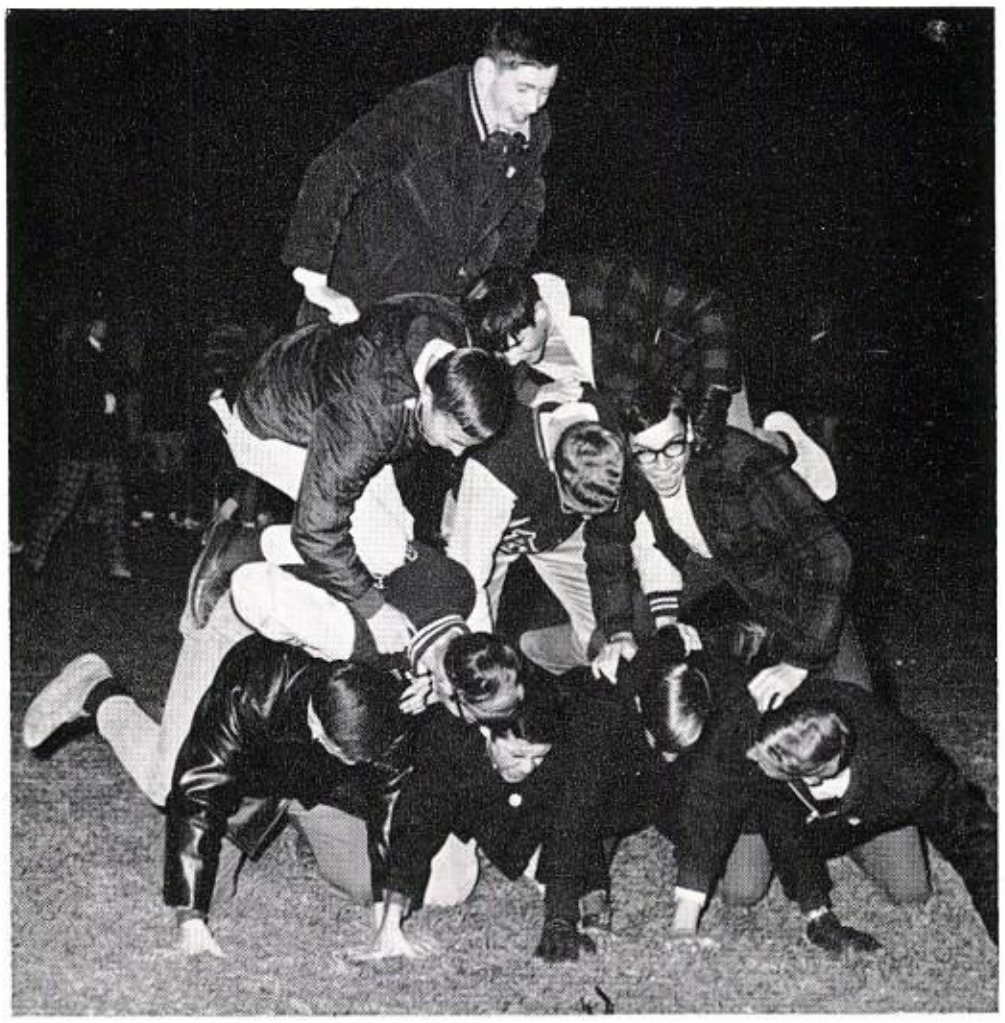
As the powder puff gridders relax and receive additional advice on the strategy of the game, the audience is entertained at half-time by the traditional tug-a-war done annually by freshmen and sophomores.

Powerful Powder Puffers

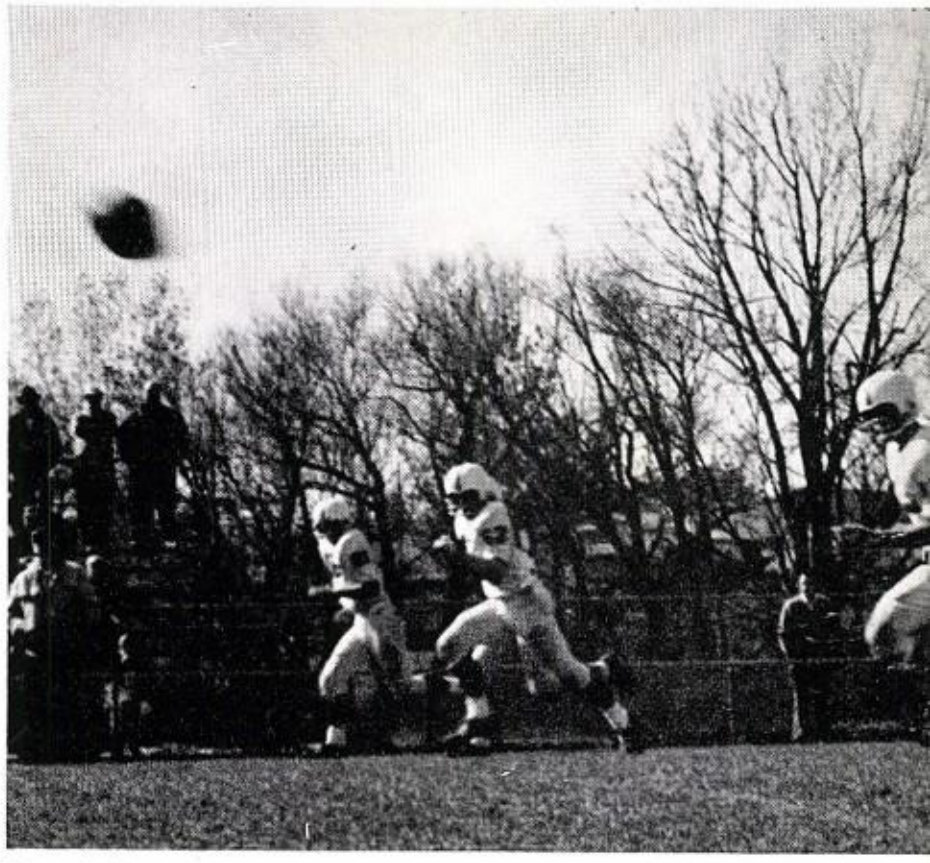


With a look of determination, Pat Strothers attempts to make a touchdown for the victorious senior girls.

Senior Dave Ewart keeps up with junior ball carrier Gail Collins as she stampedes toward her goal line.

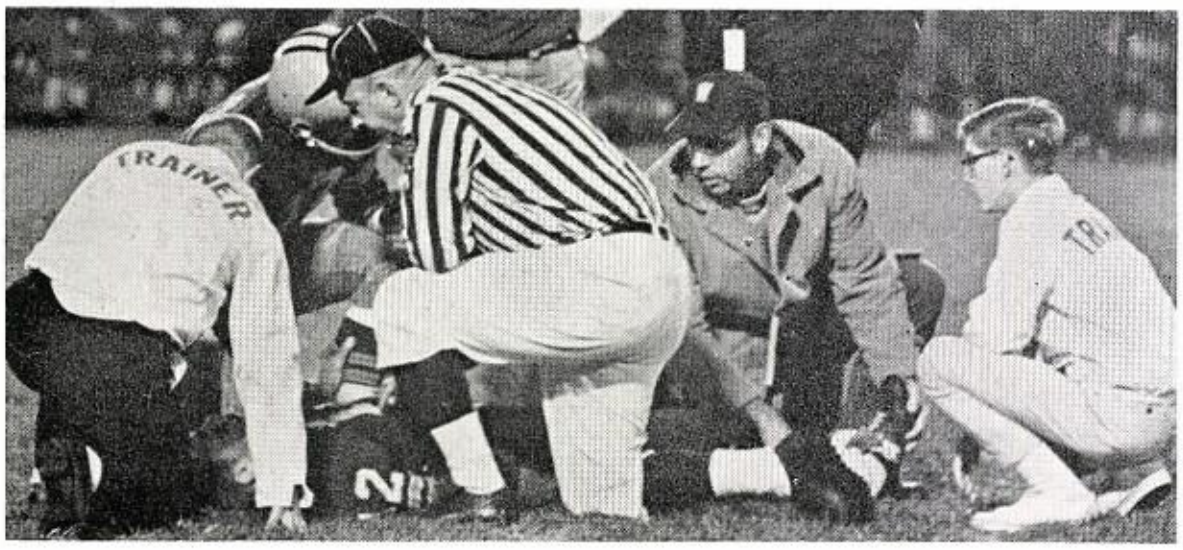


While the varsity cheerleaders take a short break, senior boys show their skill in a perfect pyramid.

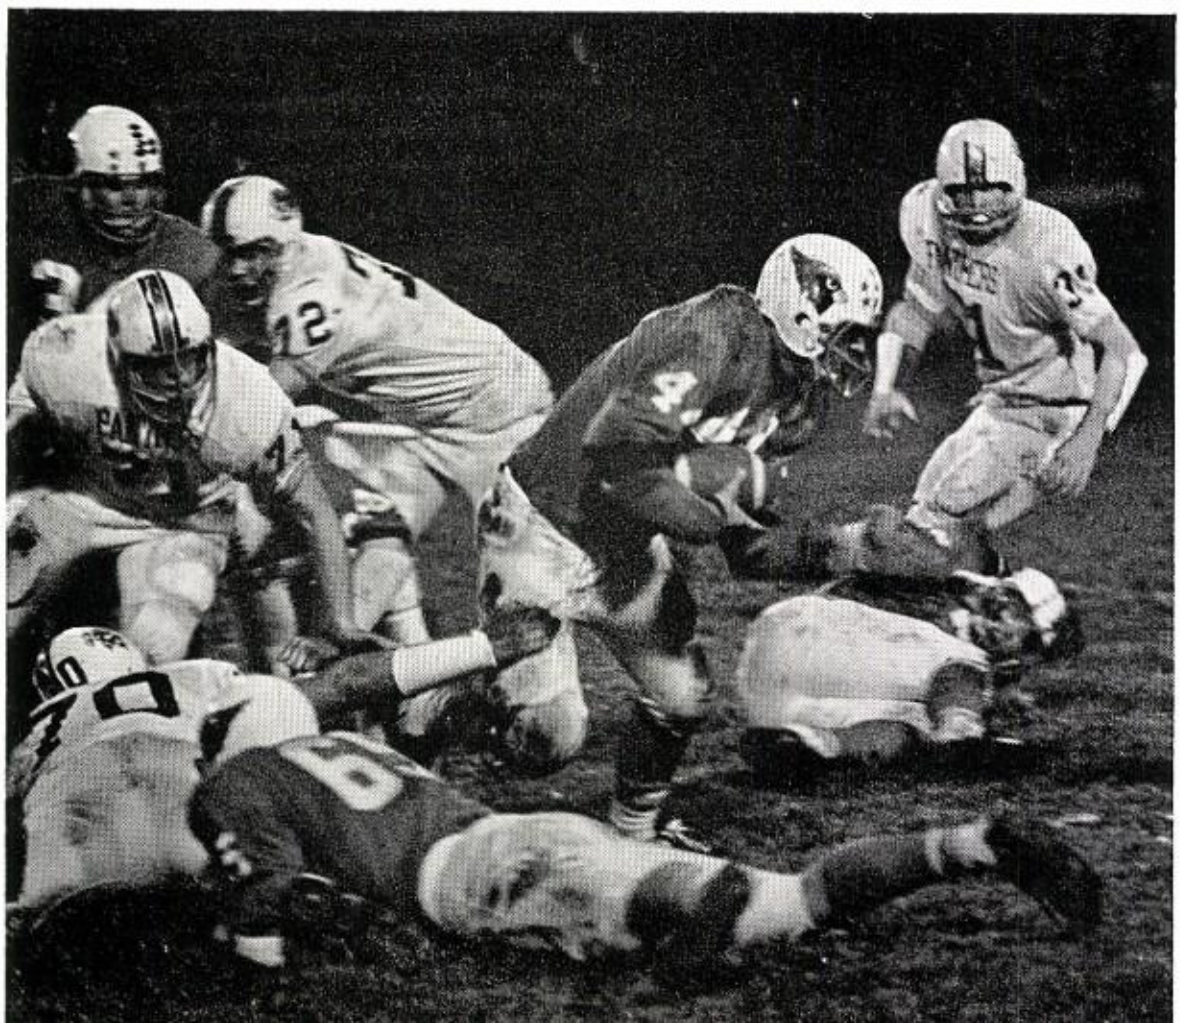


The field during the tense moment of the kick-off seems far removed from the noisy crowds who are shouting "Go, Go."

As much a part of football as a touchdown or a pass, a player's possible injury requires the attention of all others.

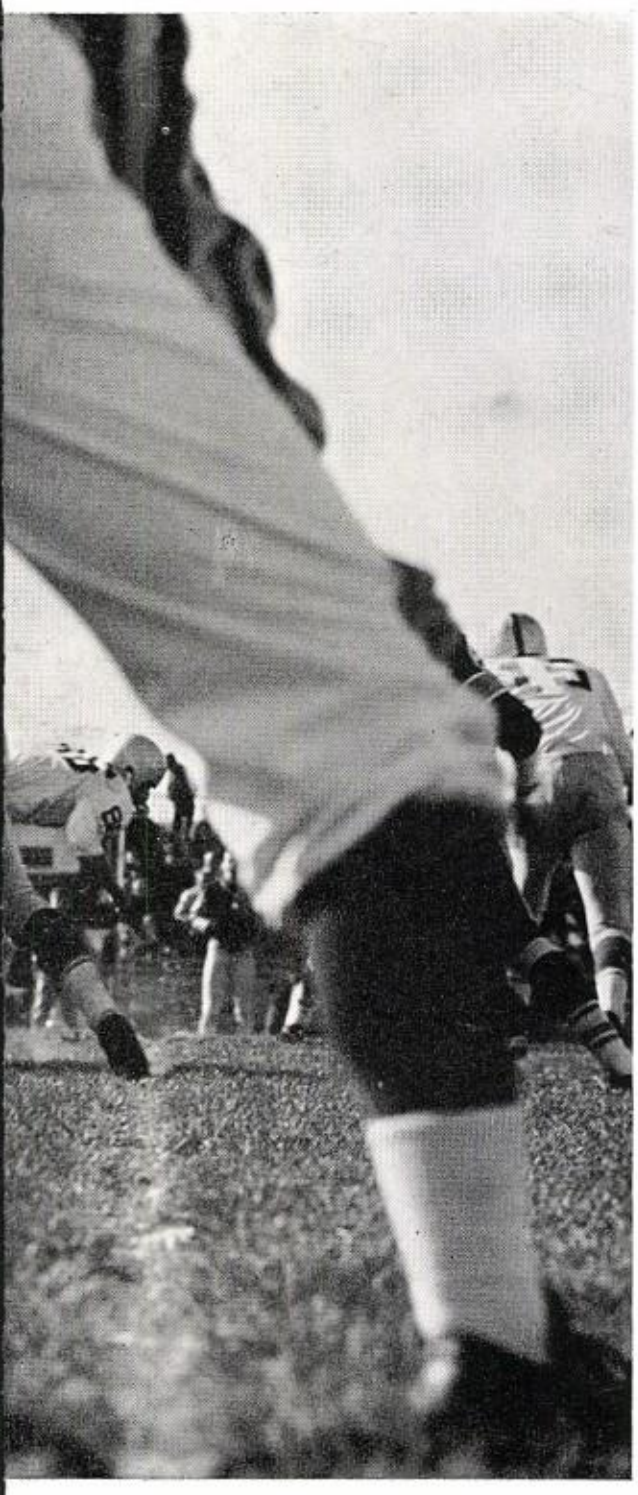


Arlington's halfback Denny Meacham dodges Glenbard North opponent's outstretched arm to complete another touchdown in the typical Cardinal fashion.



In the midst of a successful tackle, varsity team player number seventy-two "flies through the air with the greatest of ease." His hopes are running high for a win.

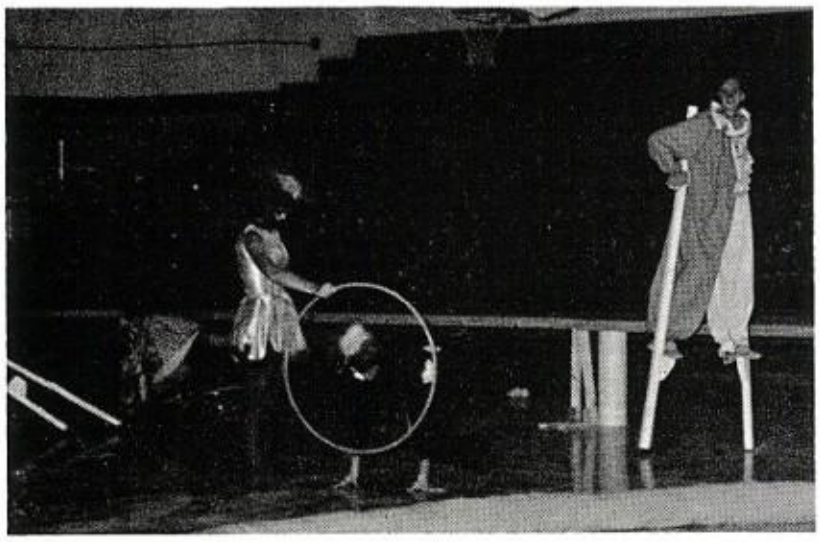
Cardinal's quarterback Todd Somers makes a pass to a team of real movers. Our Arlington Cardinals crumple Elk Grove on their way to an MSL championship.



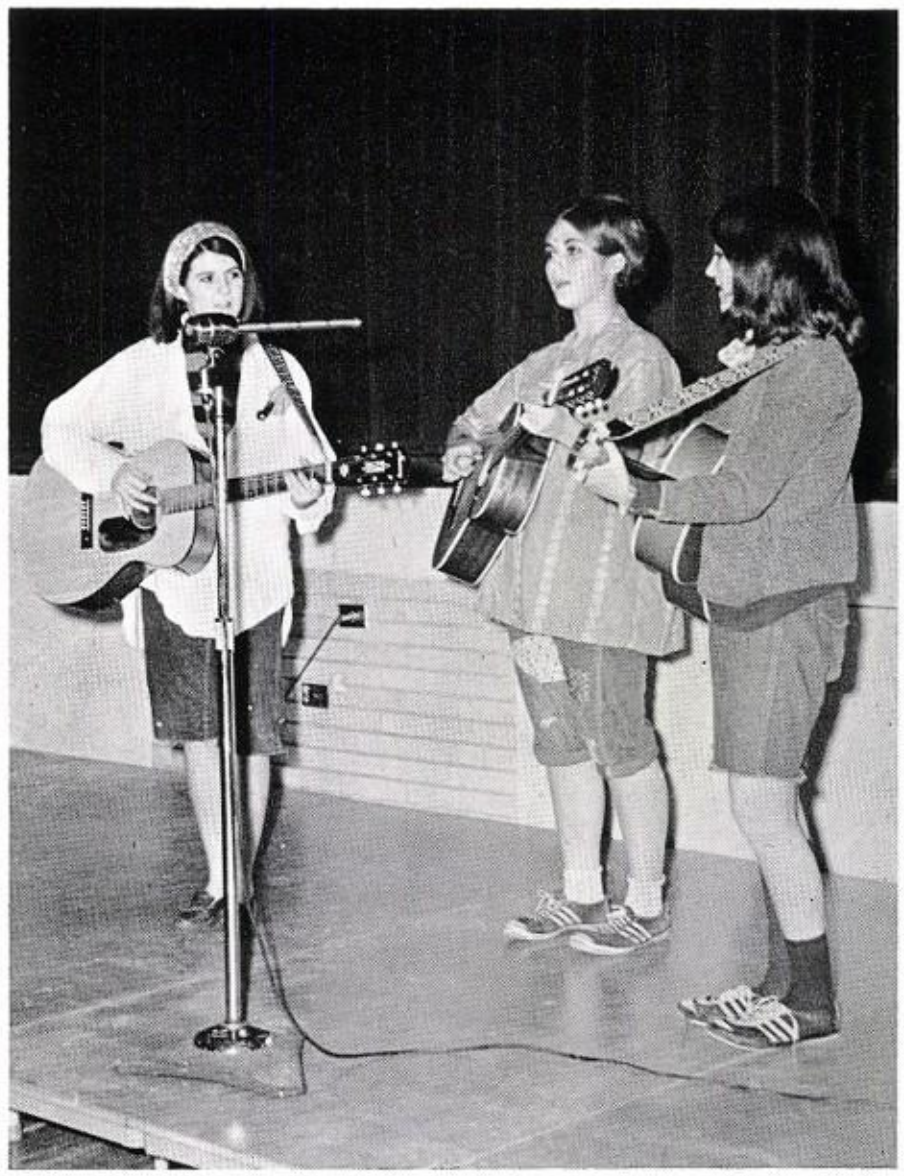
It's hard to understand the decision of a referee through his eyes, but try to view the situation through his legs!

Marjie Bowen is "on the beam" with a difficult stunt as Sharon Martin spots.

"Rope 'em up, round 'em up. Yee haw!" Pam Miresse, still in her cowgirl clothes, and Connie Crenner, dressed as a Scottish dancer, cavort about after a dress rehearsal.



Agile talent show performers frolic, tumble, and ambulate during one of many exciting acts beneath the Big Top.



Chris Markstrom, Patti Miller, and Carol Richards conclude Act I of The Really Big Shew with a promise that they will "Be Back Soon" with more fun entertainment.

AHS Big Top-
Really Big Shew

A band of rugged cowboys (above) and a swarm of mighty fleas (below) are just a couple of the hilarious acts appearing under the action-packed Big Top.

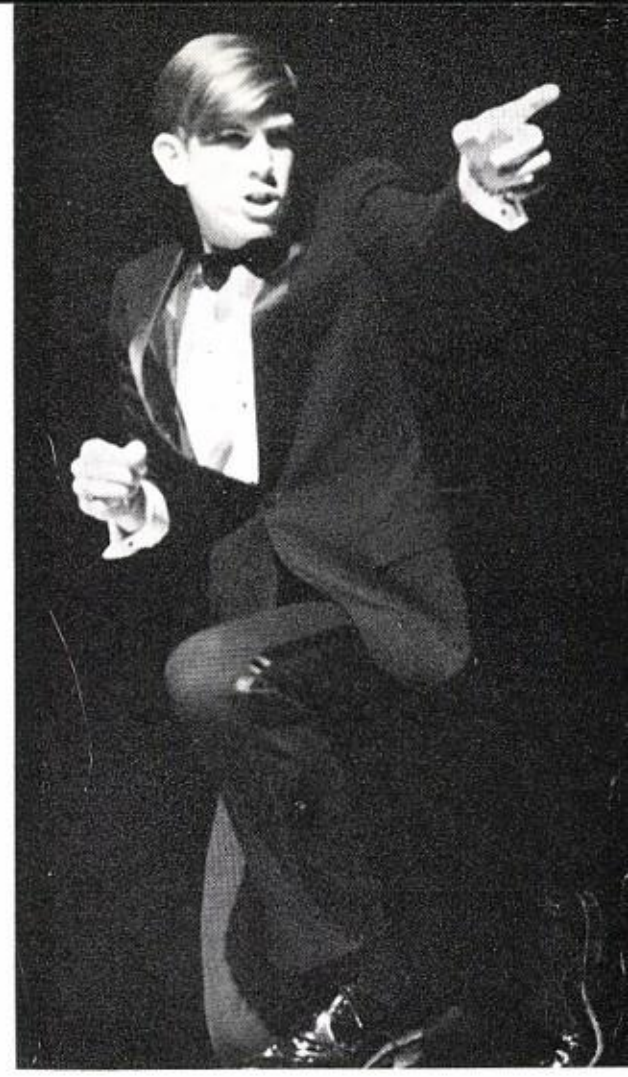
1968 was the year of the big circus at Arlington High School. The Student Council Talent Show, A Really Big Shew, was put on in the Grace Gymnasium by over one hundred students. Two members of the faculty, Miss Judith Whitney and Mr. Jerome Pugsley, directed the show.

After tryouts were held, three weeks were allowed for rehearsal. Yet in spite of the short time, thirty eye-raising acts were constructed and performed on the nights of October 31 and November 2. Ringmaster John Noerenberg introduced all acts to the audience who sat munching peanuts and popcorn in a true circus atmosphere. A parade led by Cardettes presented thirty hair-raising and death-defying acts which included Willie and Wilma on their unicycles and the dancing highlanders from Scotland's yard.

Arlington's audience is delighted by the antics of the world-renowned Merry Midgets as they play at the AHS circus.

Ann Franzese and Gail Haemker, in the midst of clowning around, perform an act in this year's "Really Biggest Shew."

Fall Play Recreates Civil War



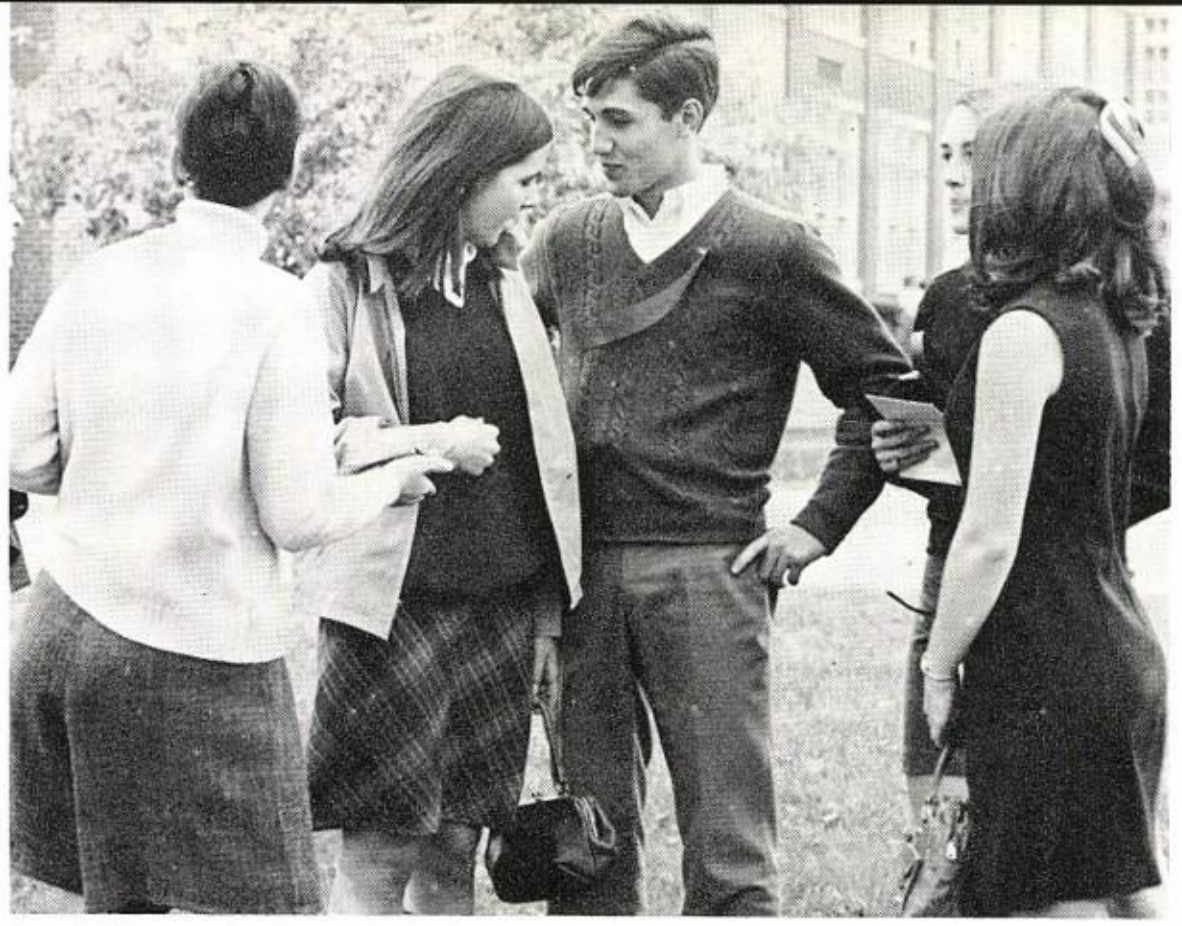
Not a play in the traditional sense, but a highly dramatic reading, was the production of Stephen Vincent Benet's John Brown's Body, directed by Mr. Doug Murphy. A cast of twenty-six students acted out the Pulitzer Prize winning Civil War drama, and brought the fiery scenes back to life. Narrators linked each character study.

The Revelaires, an all male chorus, a female soloist, banjo accompaniment, and appropriate sound effects added to the memorable scenes that took place during a war never to be forgotten.

(Top left) Letters home from the war explain the solemn faces of these soldiers. (Top right) "Uncle Sam wants you!" or so it seems, as Jack Ellyat, played by G. Michael Reider, faces his first moments in a battle. (At center) Emery Peek — as Sally Dupré, the graceful Southern belle—converses with Clay Wingate, played by Jim Mayhercy. The Revelaires provide a musical background. (Left) Beth McDonald as Mary Lou Wingate, the mistress of Wingate Hall, sees her world shattered by the spoils of the inevitable war.

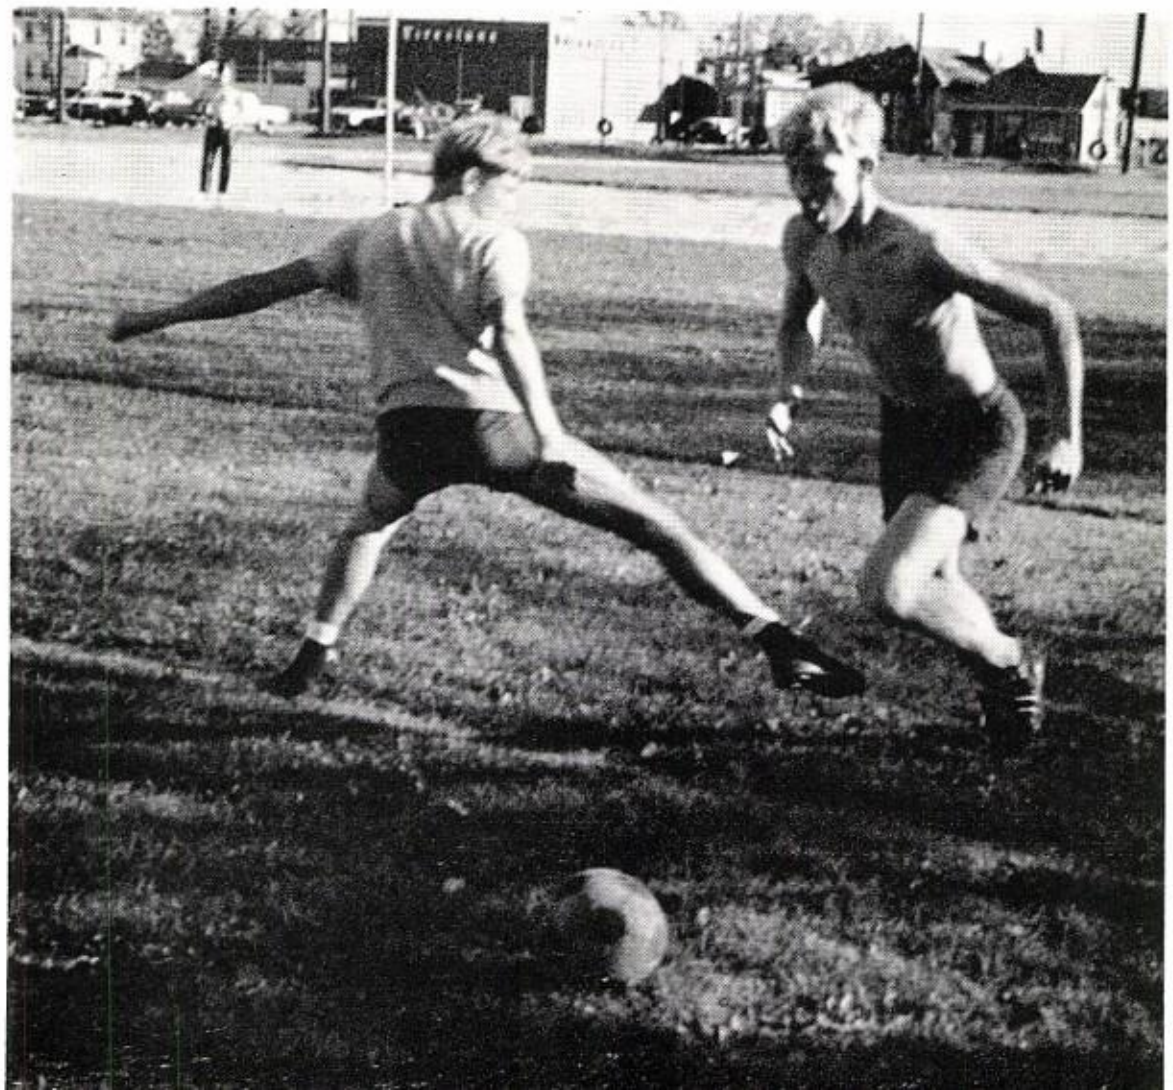
Fall Leaves A Fond Memory

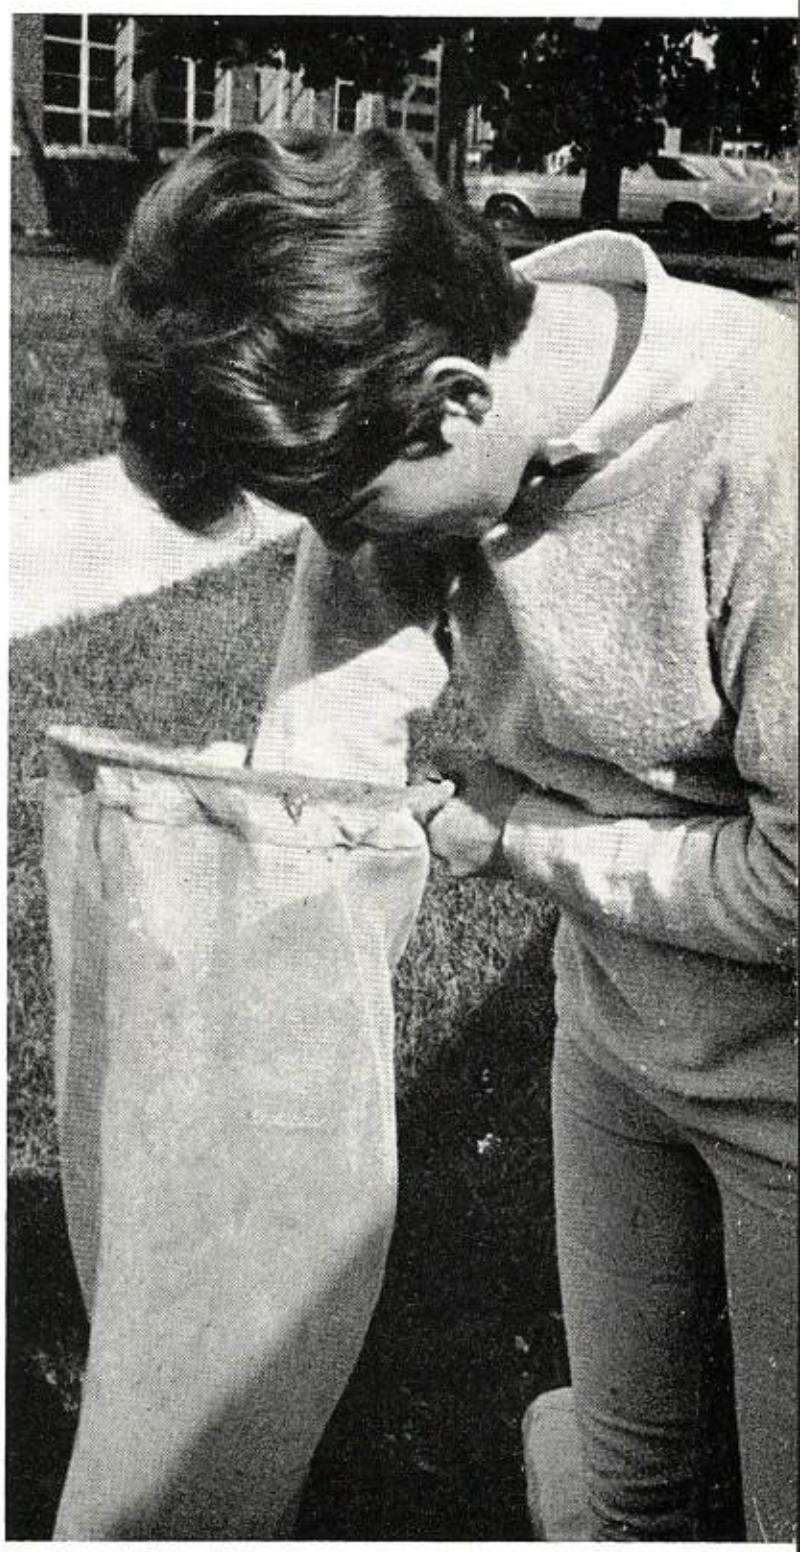
(Top) Russ - Tiny Tim - Daughtry highlights the season with his piercing falsetto. (Below) Soccer enthusiasts battle to win the all-important contest.



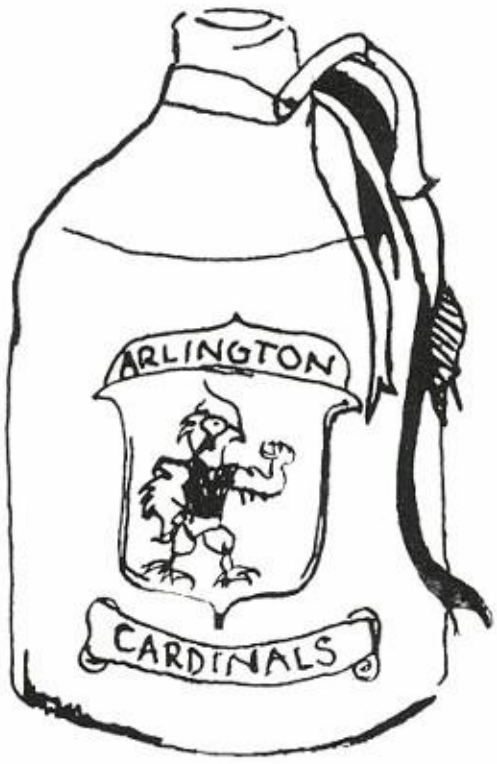
Angel Figueroa, having arrived from an all-boys school in Madrid, enjoys the change of environment provided by Sue Koch, Pam Miresse, Donna Walter, and Steph Bialek.

Sharp and sparkling describe Arlington's Cardettes and their new uniforms.



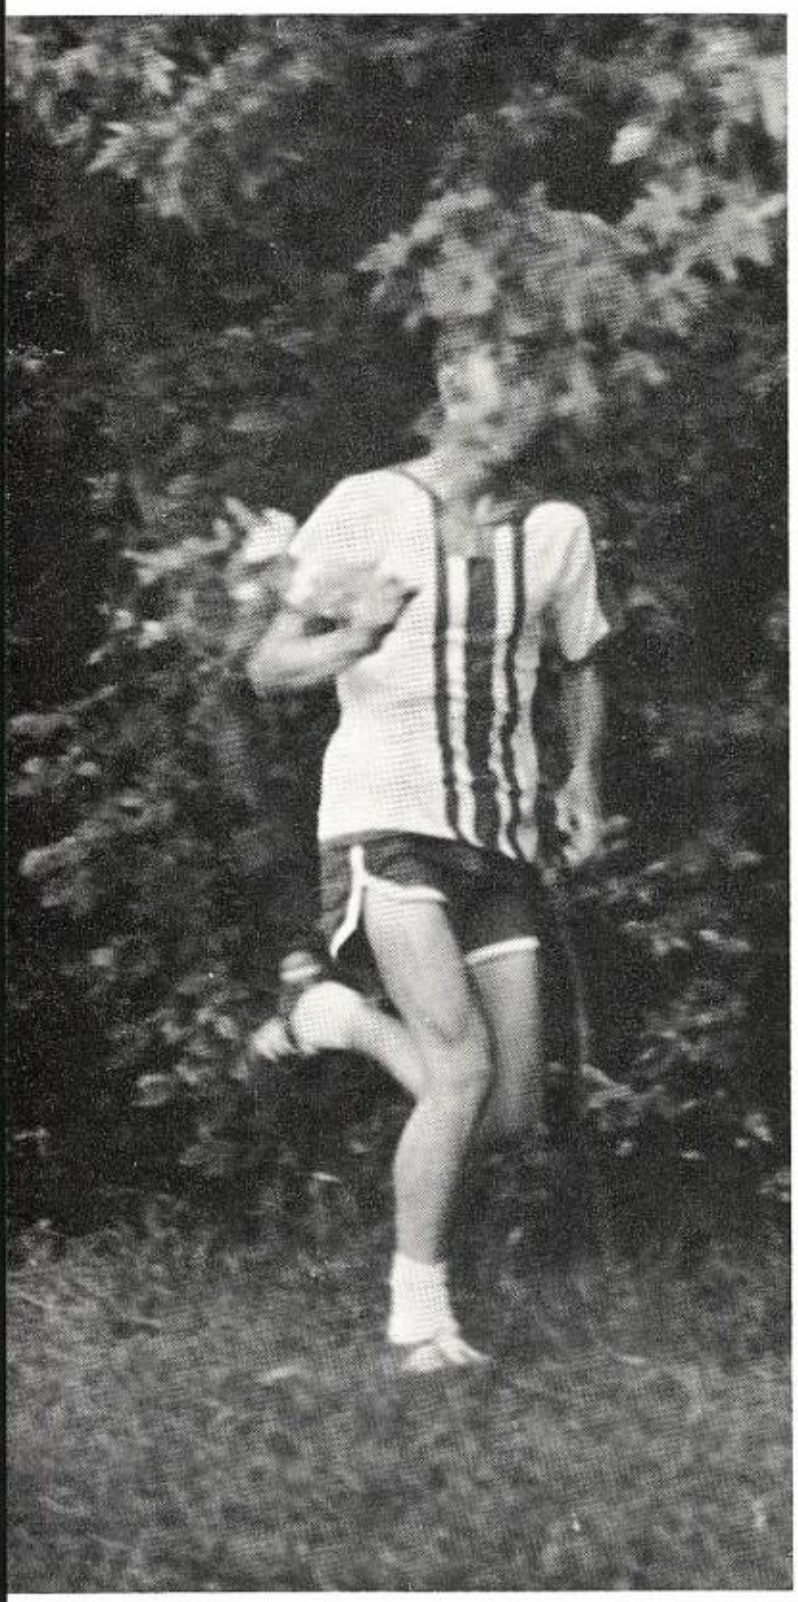


"Wow, I've got a Homoptera!" Pam Johnson captures bugs on the ever-exciting Zoology class field trip.

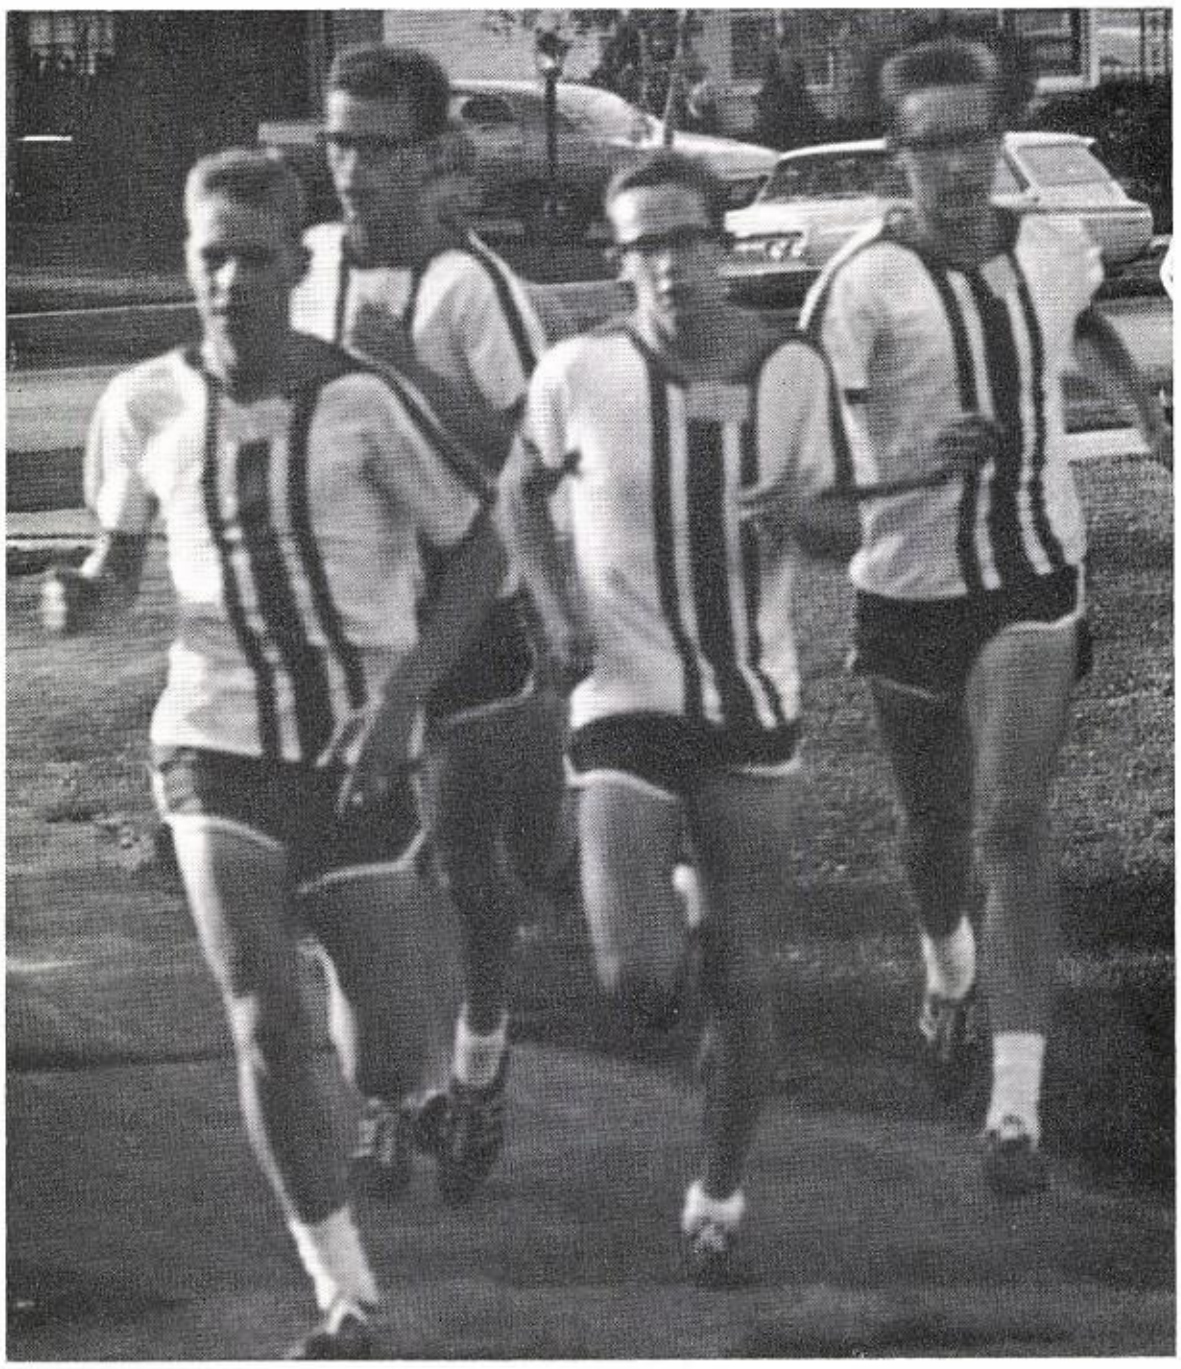


"Sure, it's a lot of hard work," smiles Angel Figueroa, Arlington's foreign exchange student from Madrid, Spain, in answer to two very interested varsity cheerleaders.

Harriers Hustle Past Opponents



Senior harrier Tom Swanson battles his way through the cross country jungle.

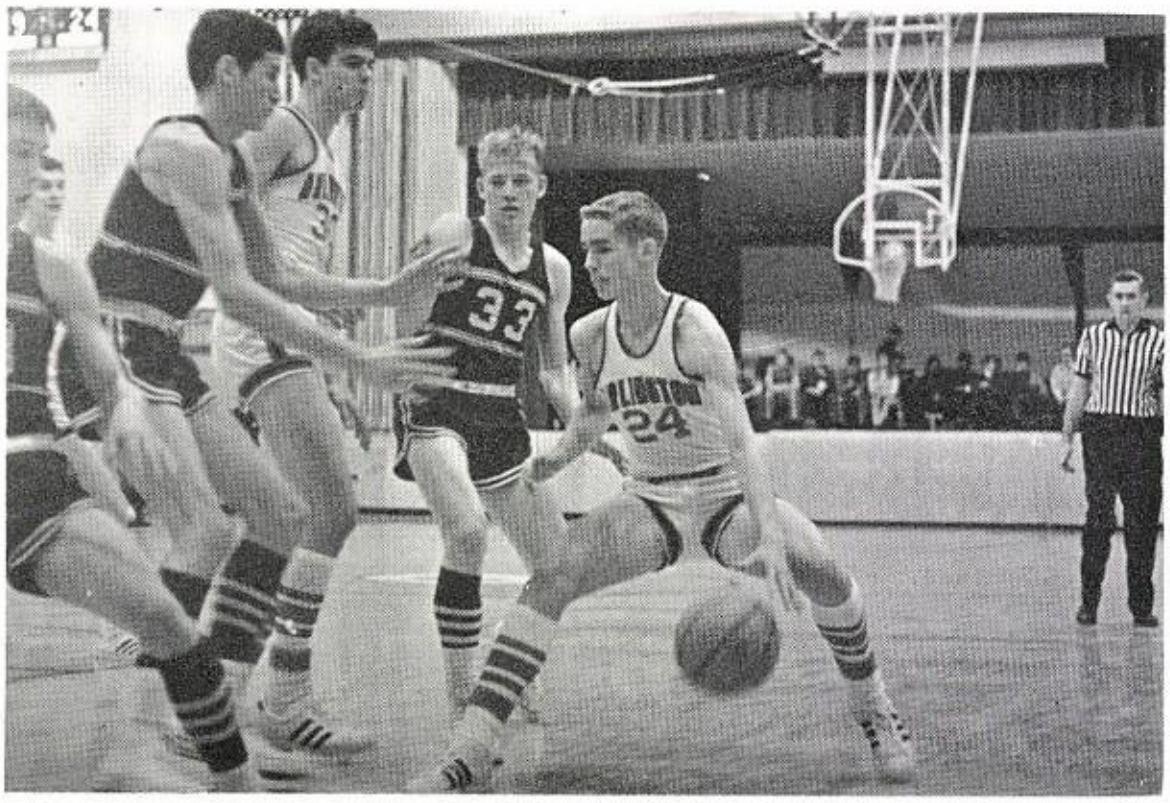


Tom Swanson leads a peerless harrier pack to another victory, which just goes to prove the absolute power of Cheerios, plenty of spinach from the cafeteria, and dedication.

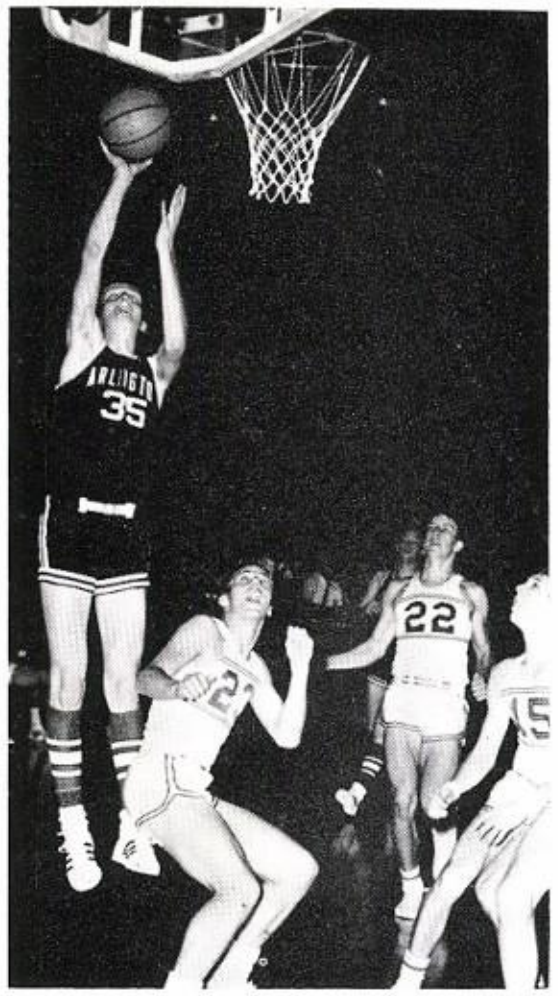
Cards Jog To Victory Road

(Above) Flash! Joe Hooker speeds by encouraging onlookers. (Right) Scott Butler warns, "watch out Dave Marszalek . . . here I come!" (Left) Sophomore Scott Teuber enjoys his freedom as he pulls ahead of the pounding pack at his heels. (Below) "I think I can, I think I can," puffs Scott Butler.

CARDINAL CAGERS ROMP
To Victory And Points Beyond

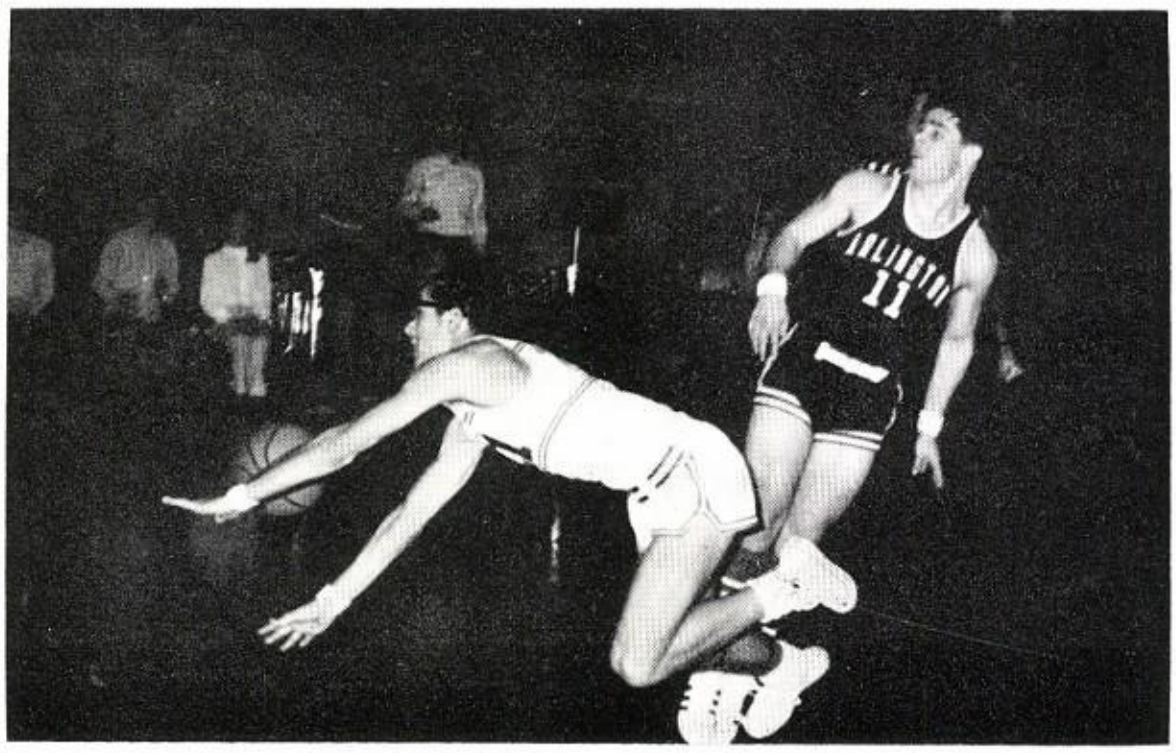


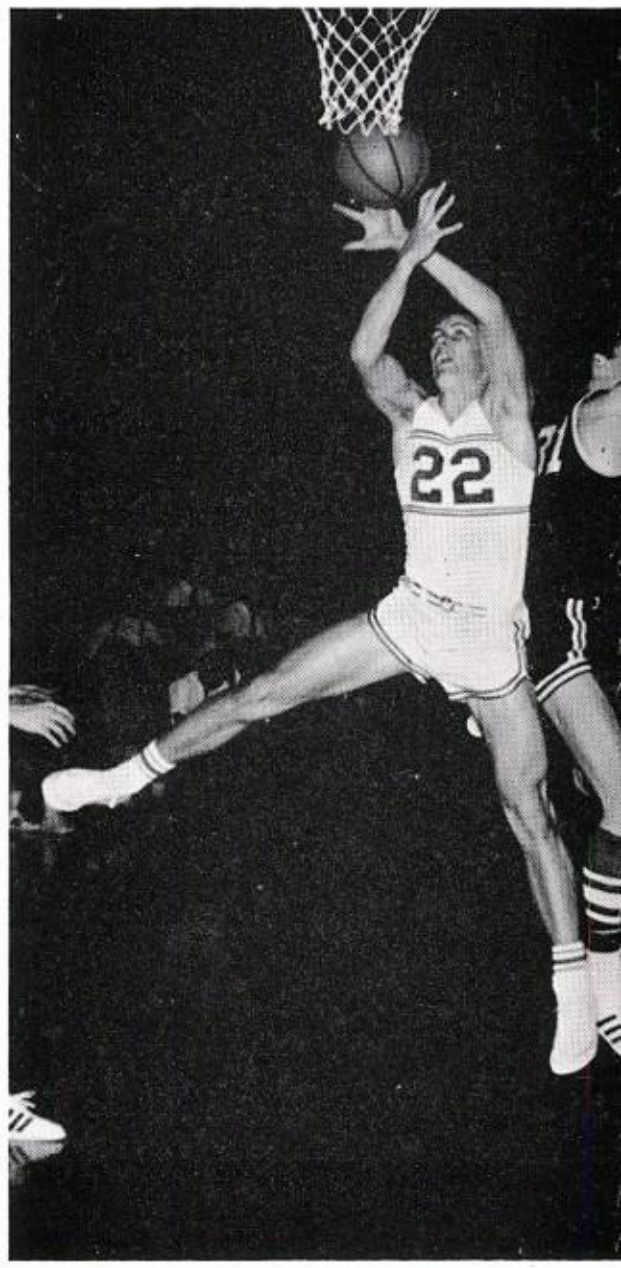
All attention is focused on senior Ken Jorgensen as he pivots to shoot for two.



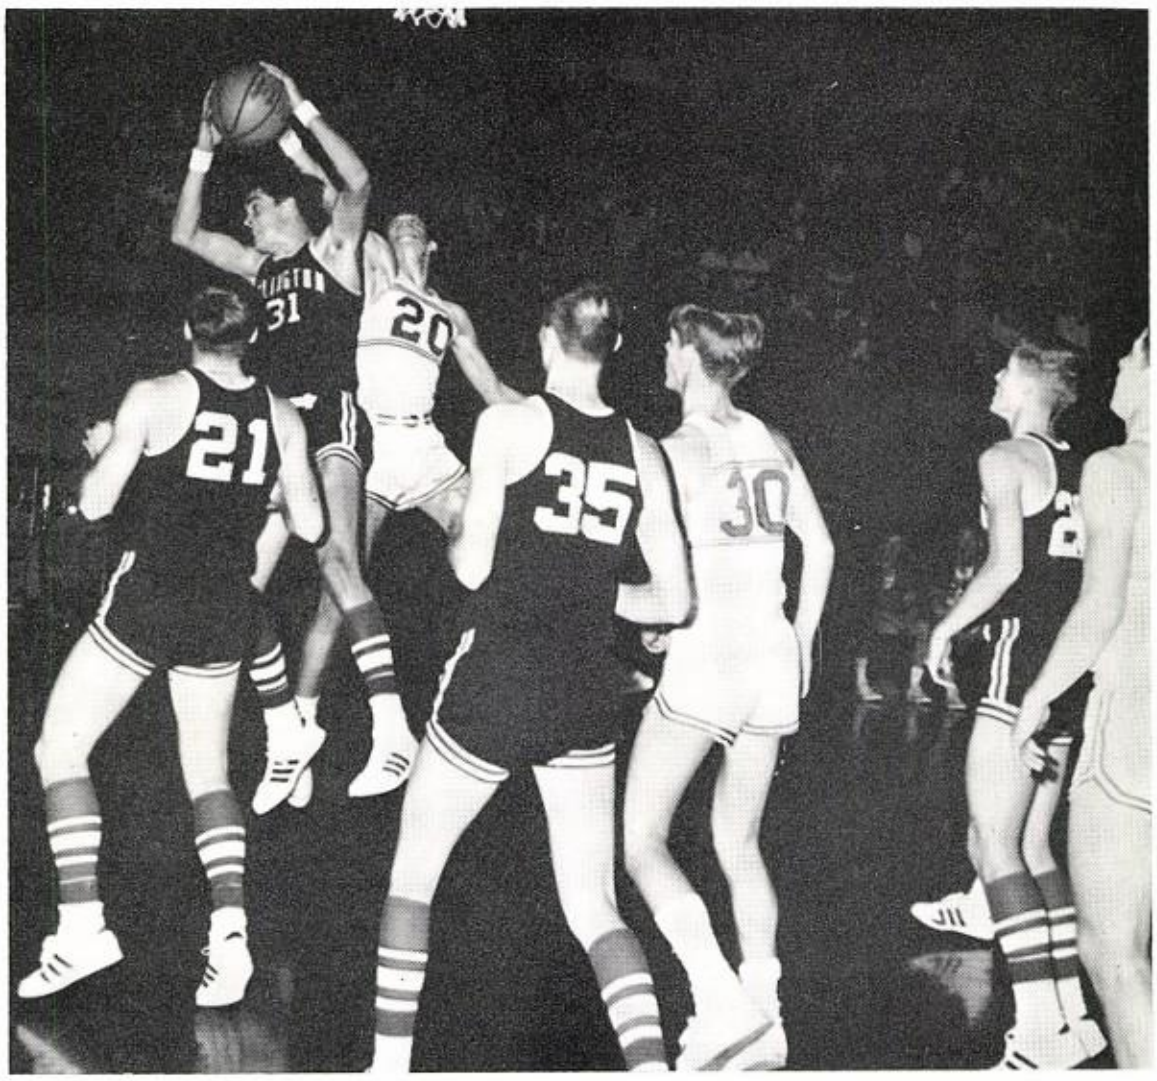
Engulfed by Pirates, Card ace Gary Anderson sails aloft to sink two points.

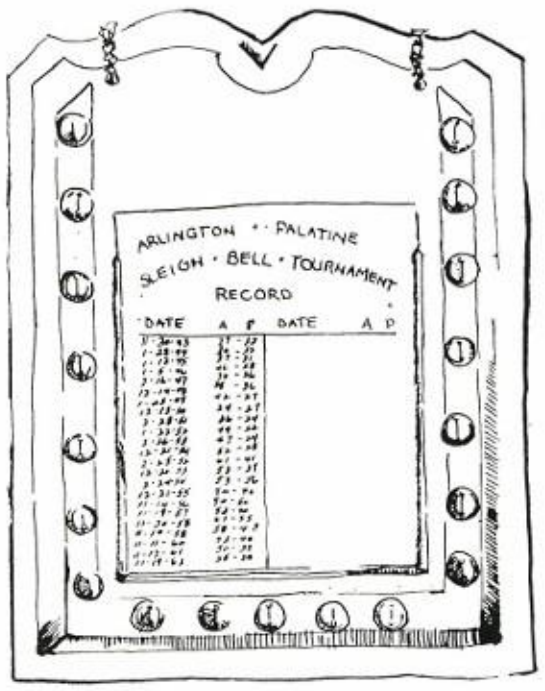
Will the owner of this basketball please return it to action on Arlington's court? Jim Baumgartner (below) leaps to retrieve the ball before his foe trips up the works in his recovery attempt.



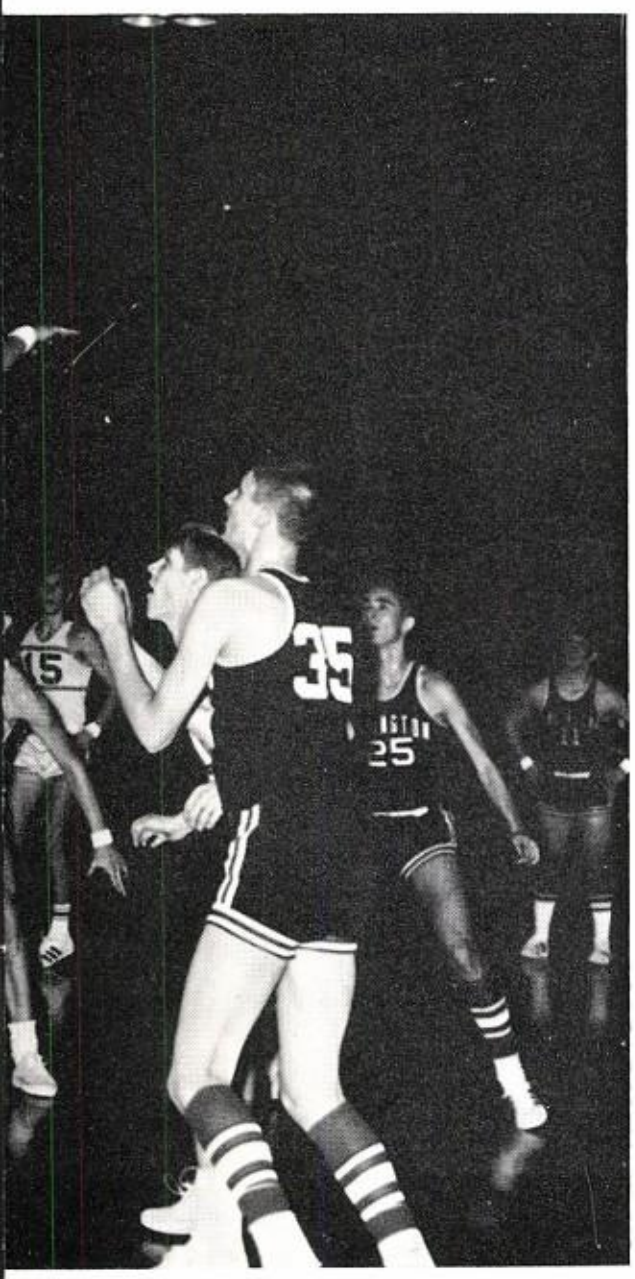


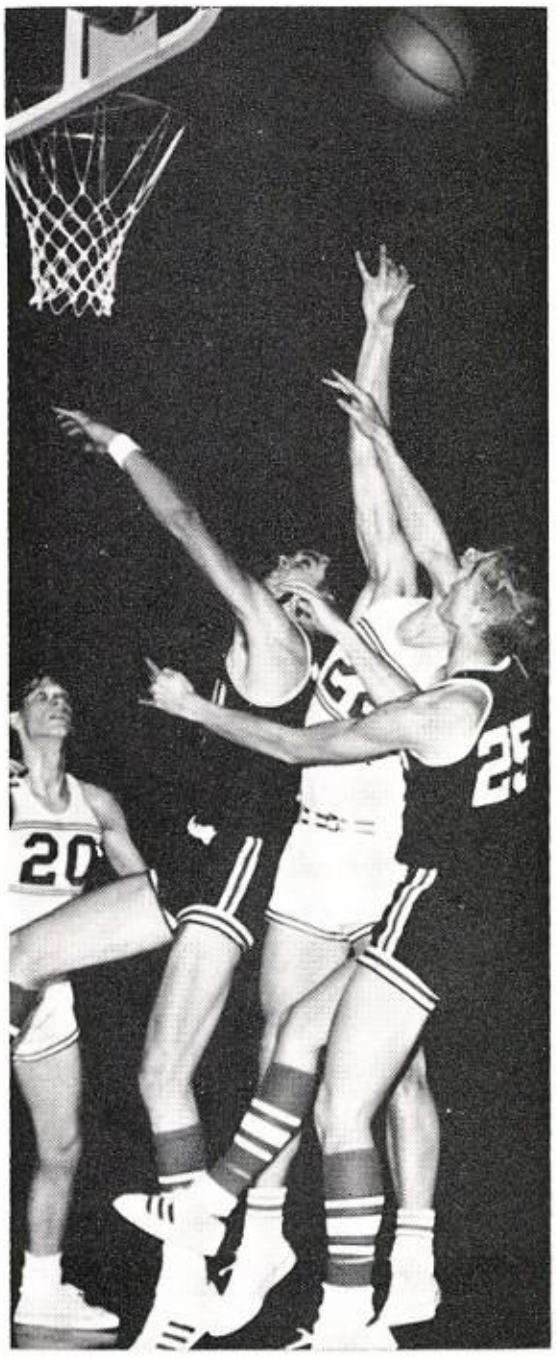
Cager Chris Buttenob sparks some lively court action as he foils a furious foe from Forest View High School.

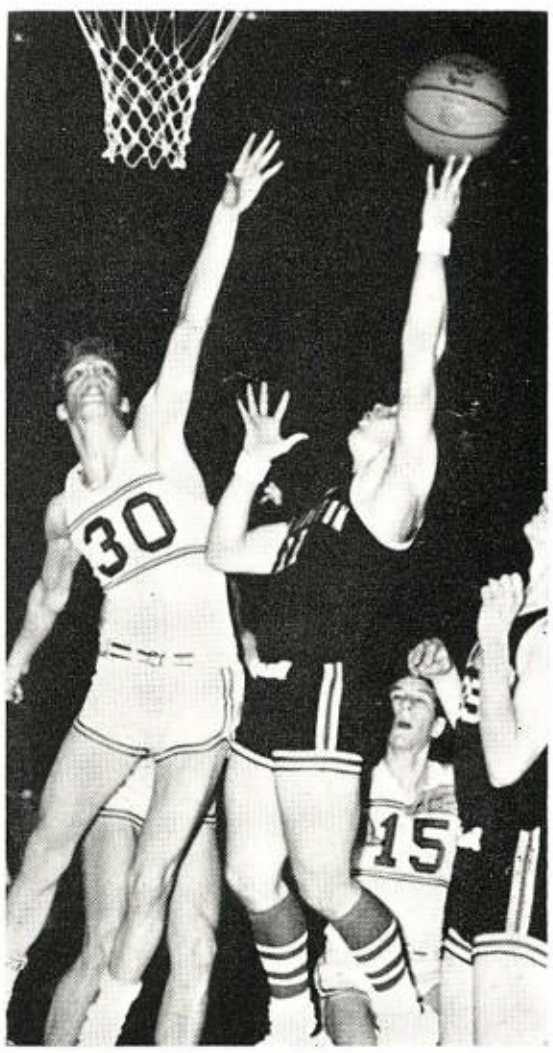




Center Chris Buttenob snags a rebound while opponents gape at such agility.

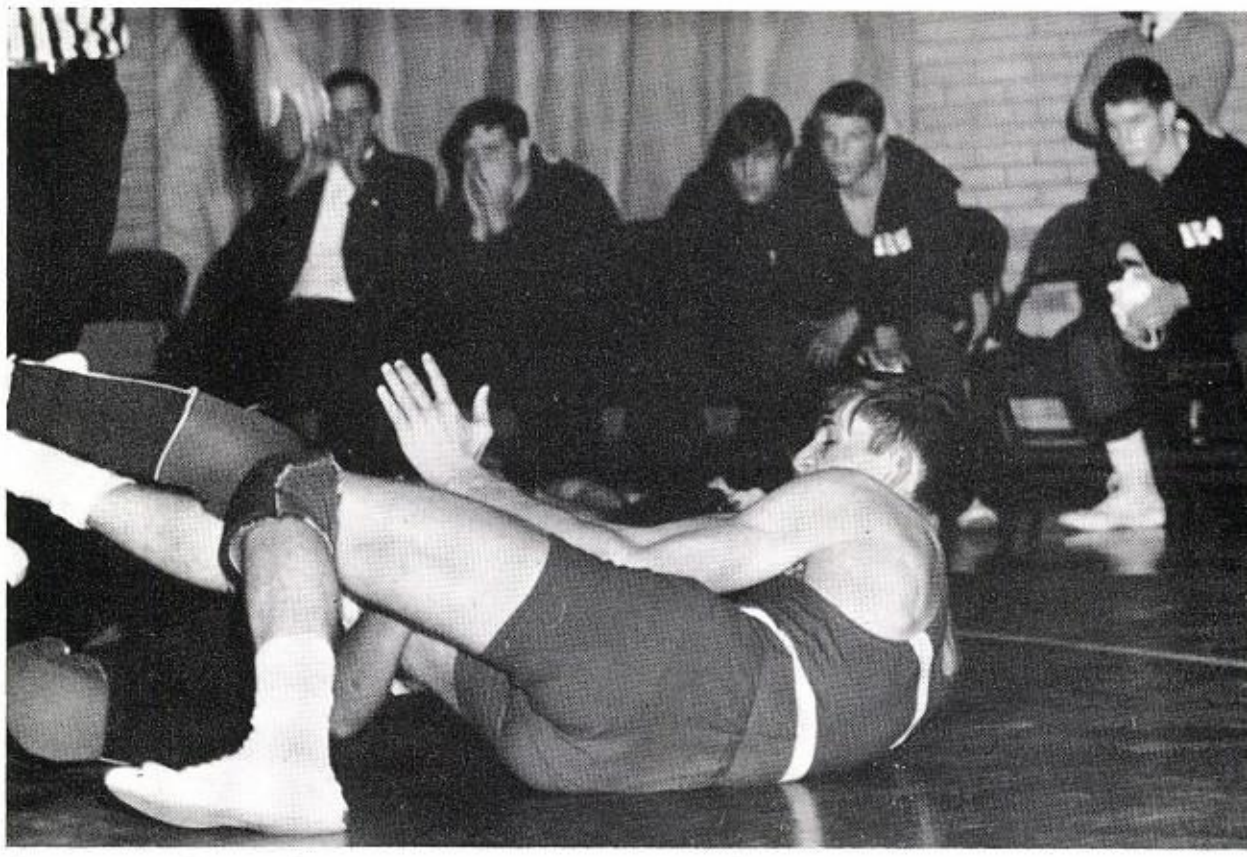






Jungle Jim Baumgartner, playmaker of season, swings from basket to basket.

Chris Buttenob, Jen Jorgenson fight to stop a long-armed Palatine player's rebound.



Our group of grapplers gaze at a conglomeration of muscle and might in hopes of grasping just one more glorious gain for the terrific tally of wins and losses.

Card's Mighty Matmen Flatten Floundering Foes

Mike Weber in control demonstrates how the wrestling team is always on top of things, including the opposition.

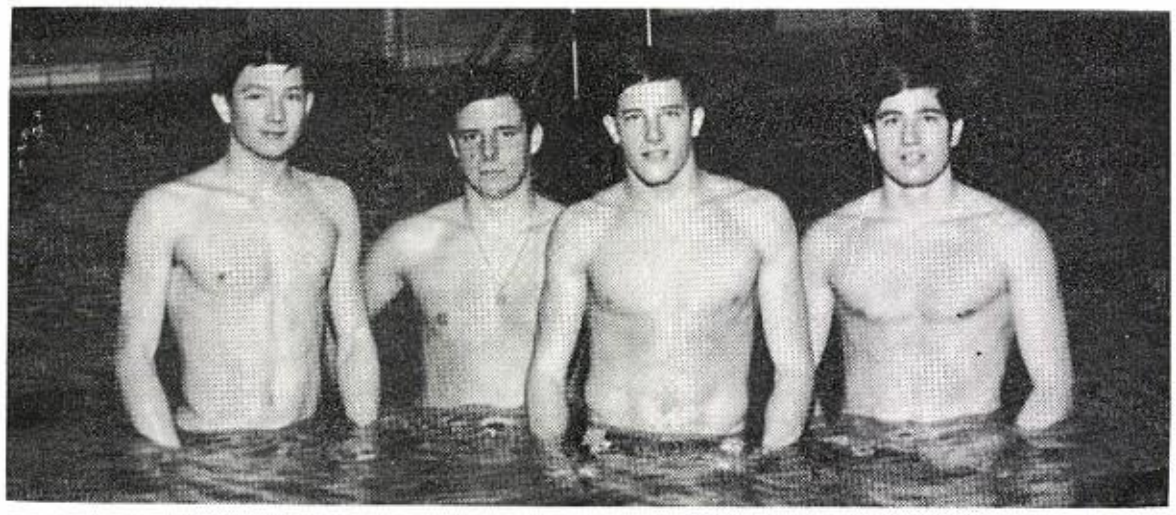
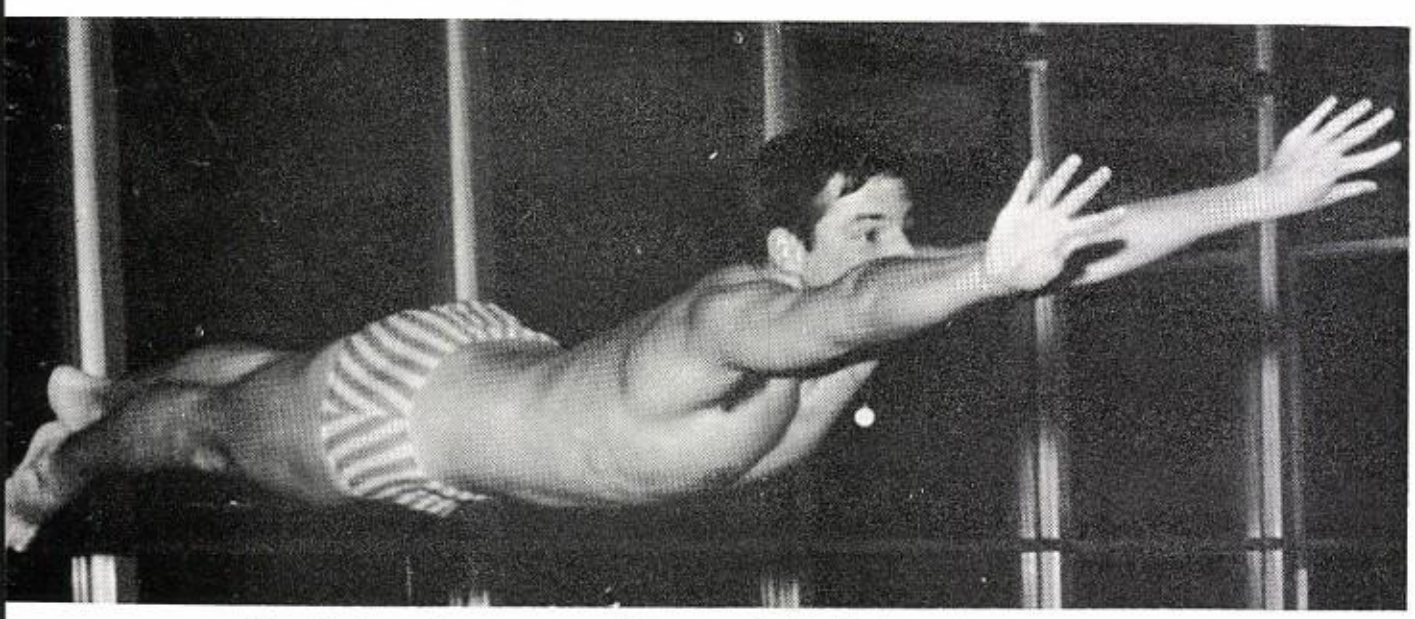
Fearing the notorious dunking in the pool treatment from Coach Gardner, Kurt Thomson peers into water for Cardinal pool genie who will help him win first place.

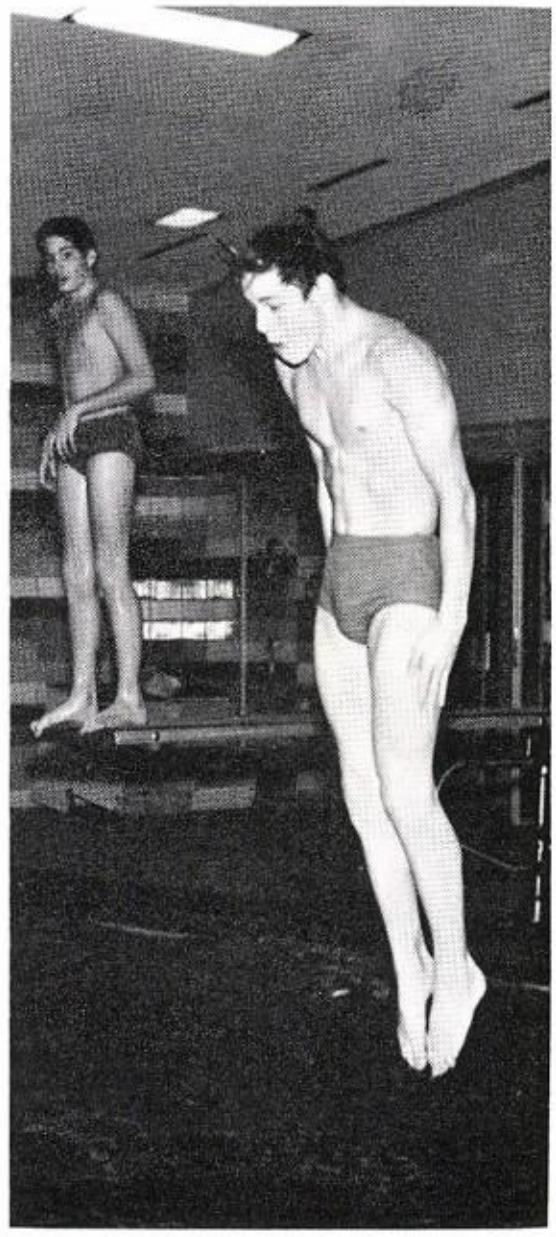
Pool-less Paddlers Proudly Practice Perfection



"Who says early morning practices aren's fun? Why, we even get our pictures taken," think varsity tankers Roger Chapman, Craig Davis, Kurt Thomson, Kurt Tellschow.



Disguised as Superman, mild-manned Cardinal tanker, senior Craig Davis, bounds over vast expanses of the Metropolis city pool in hopes of taking first place for AHS.

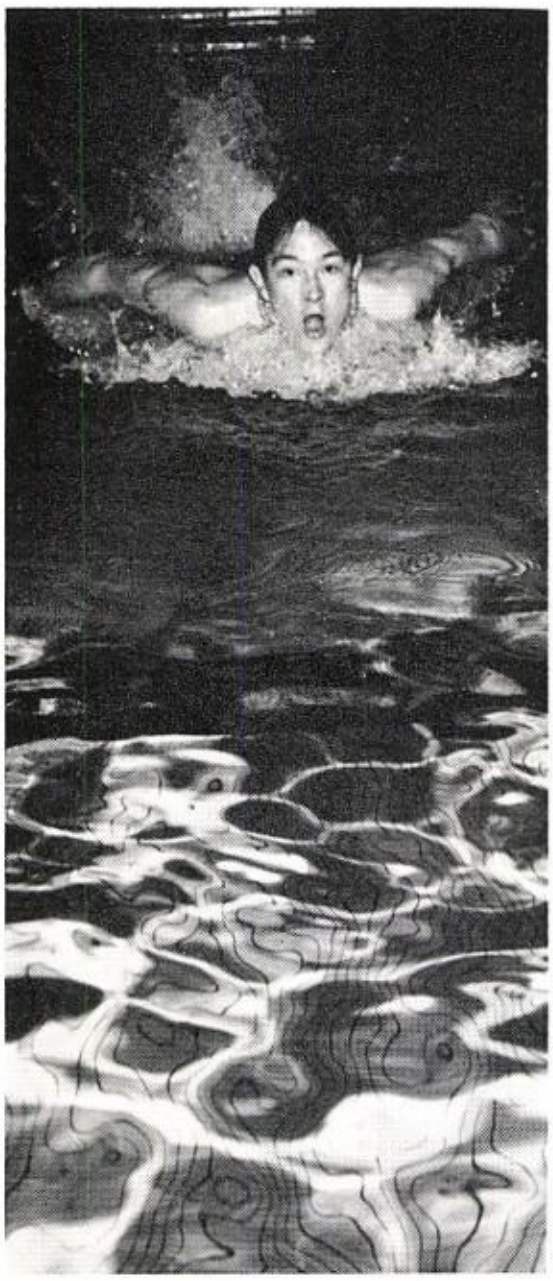


At six a.m. when you're in bed, tankman Jeff Thieman is soaking his head.

Swimmers All Wet? You Bet!

Jim Hilgenfeld awaits the chance to prove that he's faster than a speeding bullet, more powerful than MSL foe.

Plunging into practice for the four-hundred free style competition, slippery senior Kurt Thomson plans for another Cardinal coup at Riverside-Brookfield Tournament.



"Did you say there are sharks in this pool?" Roger Chapman yells (Above). (Right) Jim, Bill, Roger, Craig practice deep breathing exercises to relax.

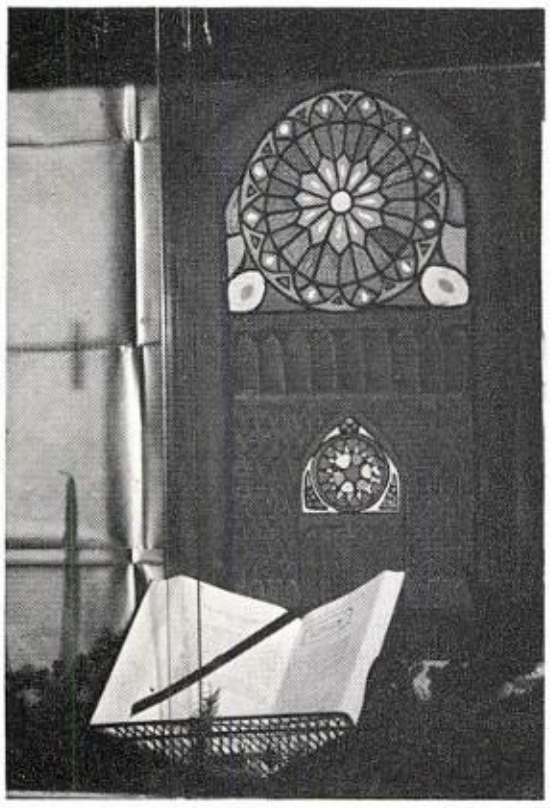
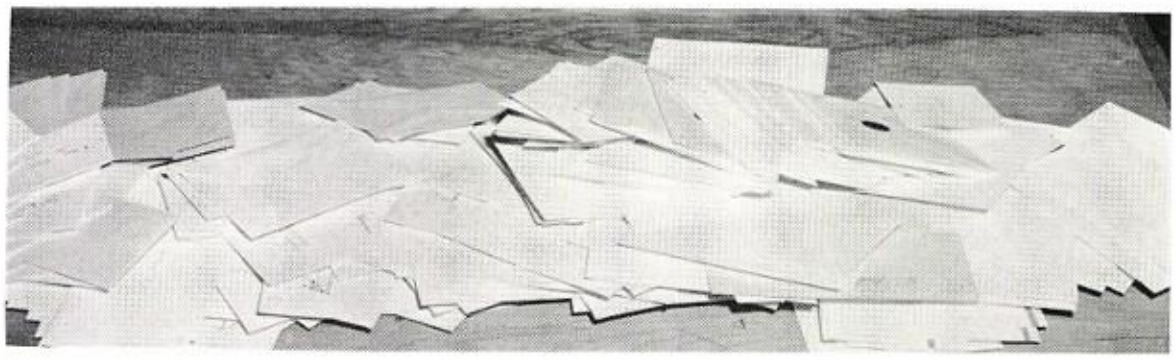
Students "deck the halls" with showcases representing a joyful Christmas.



Santa's helper, Jenger Hilgenfeld, searches madly for Santa's homeroom number, while Todd Somers, Curt Wilson, dwarfs in mufti, try to remember the north pole zip code.

Just Having Ourselves A Merry Little Christmas



Representing the friendship and goodwill of the holiday season, Christmas cards wait to be sorted by the AHS Student Council and distributed to the Arlington students.

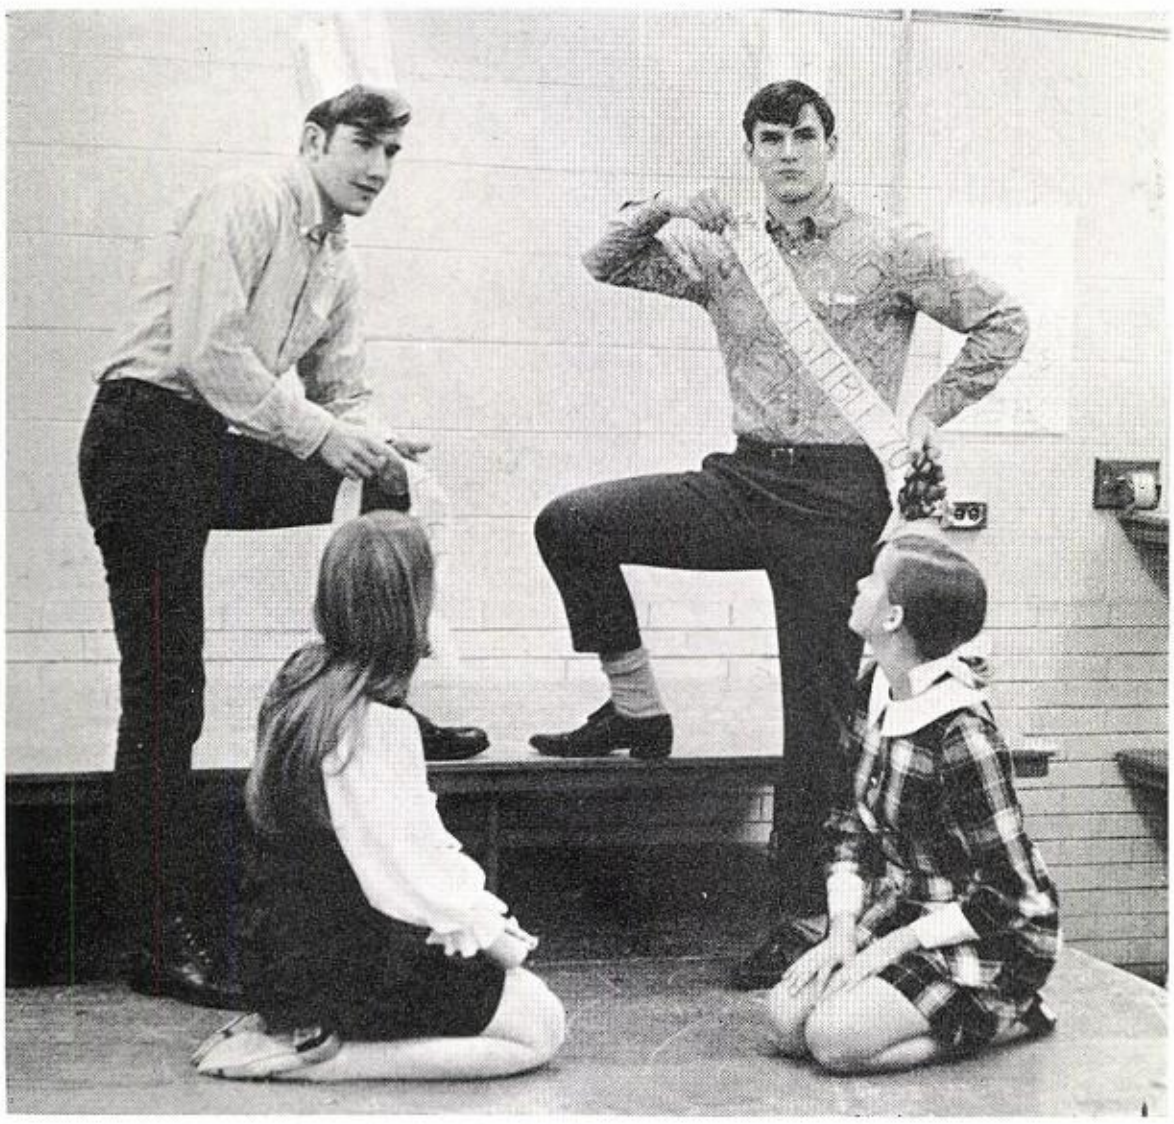
CARDINAL WHIRLWIND
Of Wonderful Winter Activity

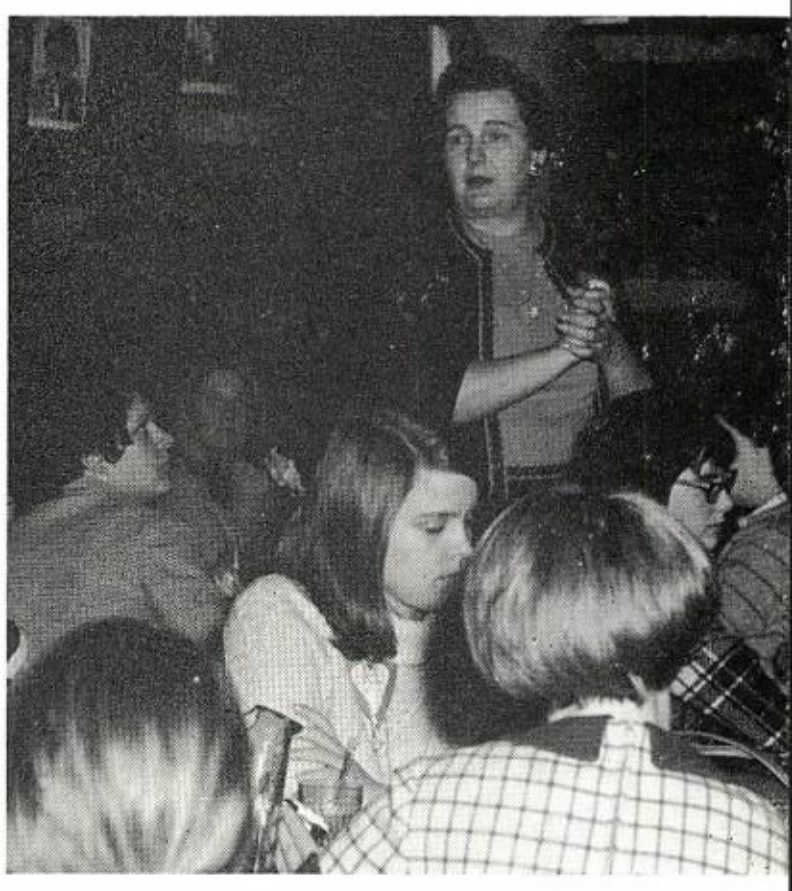
Not even seventy-six trombones and a big parade could compete with the golden tones raised by the massive orchestra and chorus of the '69 District 214 Music Festival.

Orchestra member Betty White, (Above) satisfied that she has given a good performance, awaits the Mixed Chorus presentation during the District Music Festival at Hersey High School.

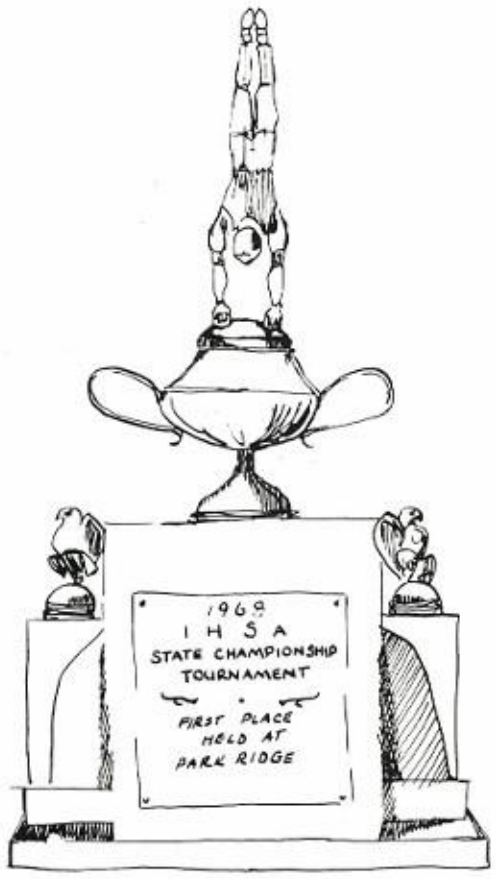
Even Santa Claus couldn't have been a more captivating speaker than Ola Bundy at the GRA Winter Banquet.



Two adoring female fans admire Jim Mayhercy, Dan Renz, senior and junior winners of Mr. Irresistable contest, which was held by Triple "S" to raise money for AFS.

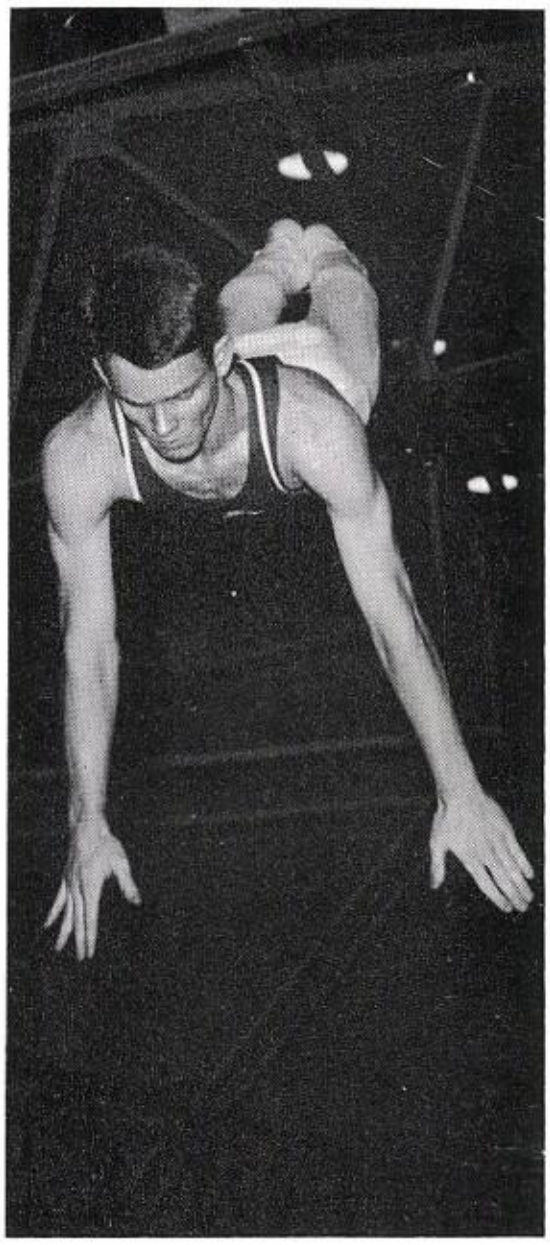


Happiness Is Another State Championship!



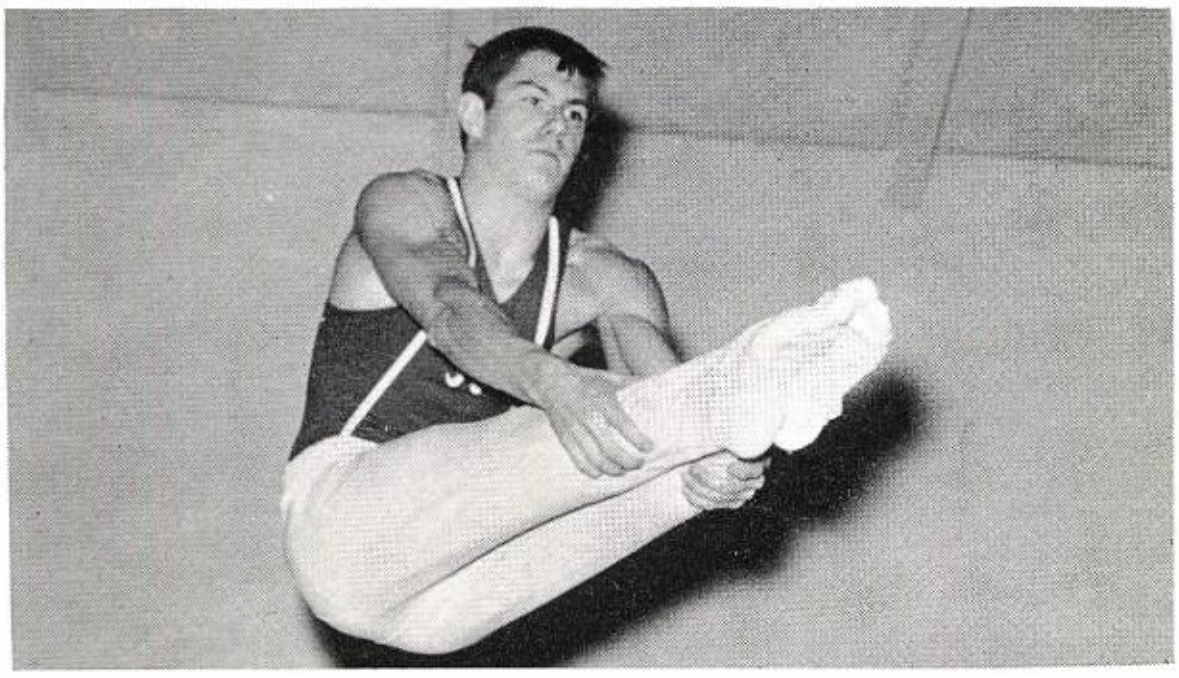
Star trampolinist Terry Haines nonchalantly tosses off his triple-flip routine which won for him the highest scores in the nation for a high school trampoline performer.

"Look, Mom, no hands!" grins Jim Brousseau as he practices in free-exercise, one of the five events in which he competed to become fourth all-around man in the state.

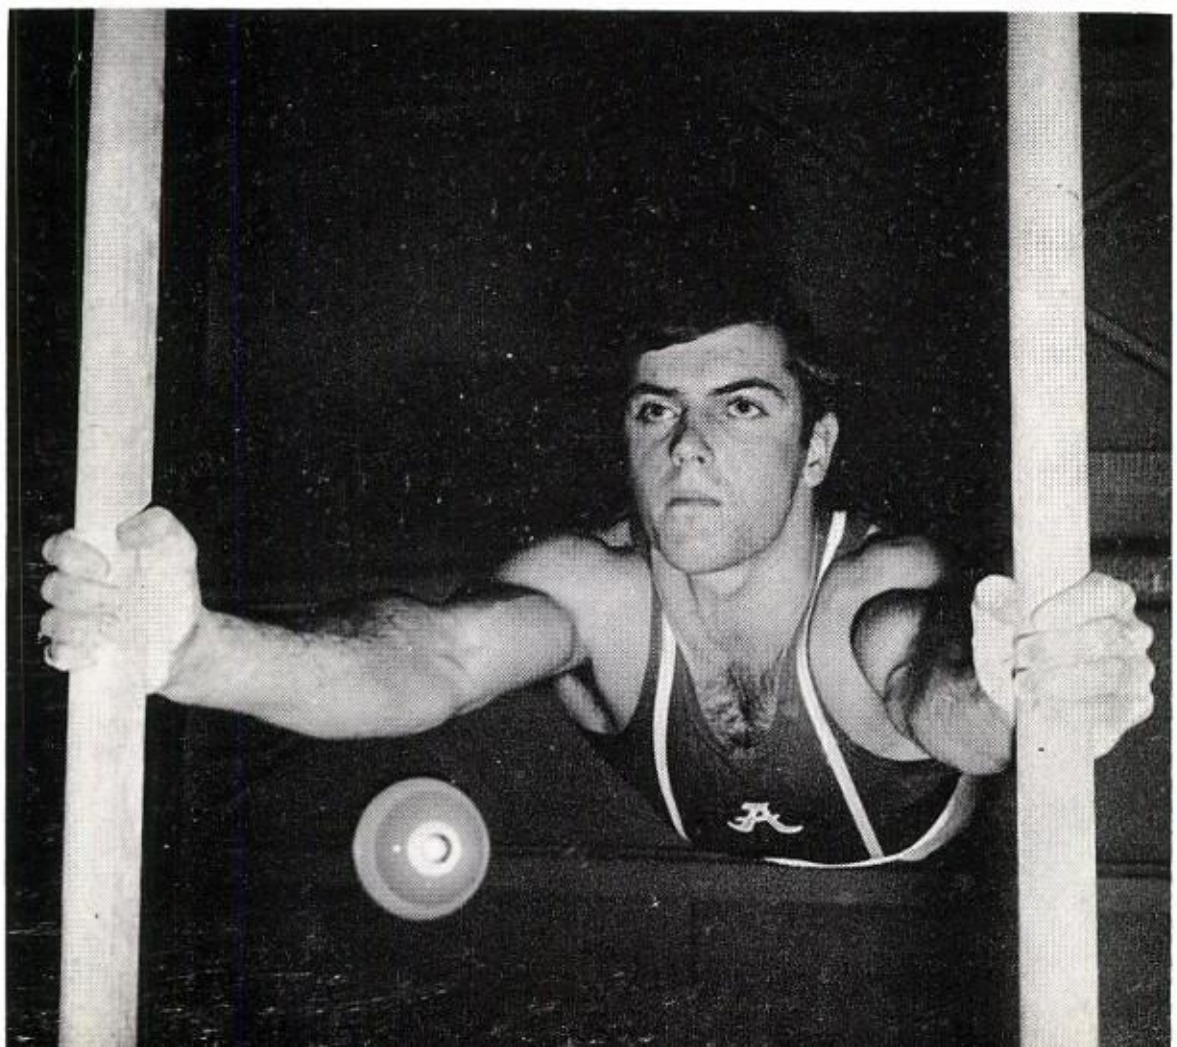


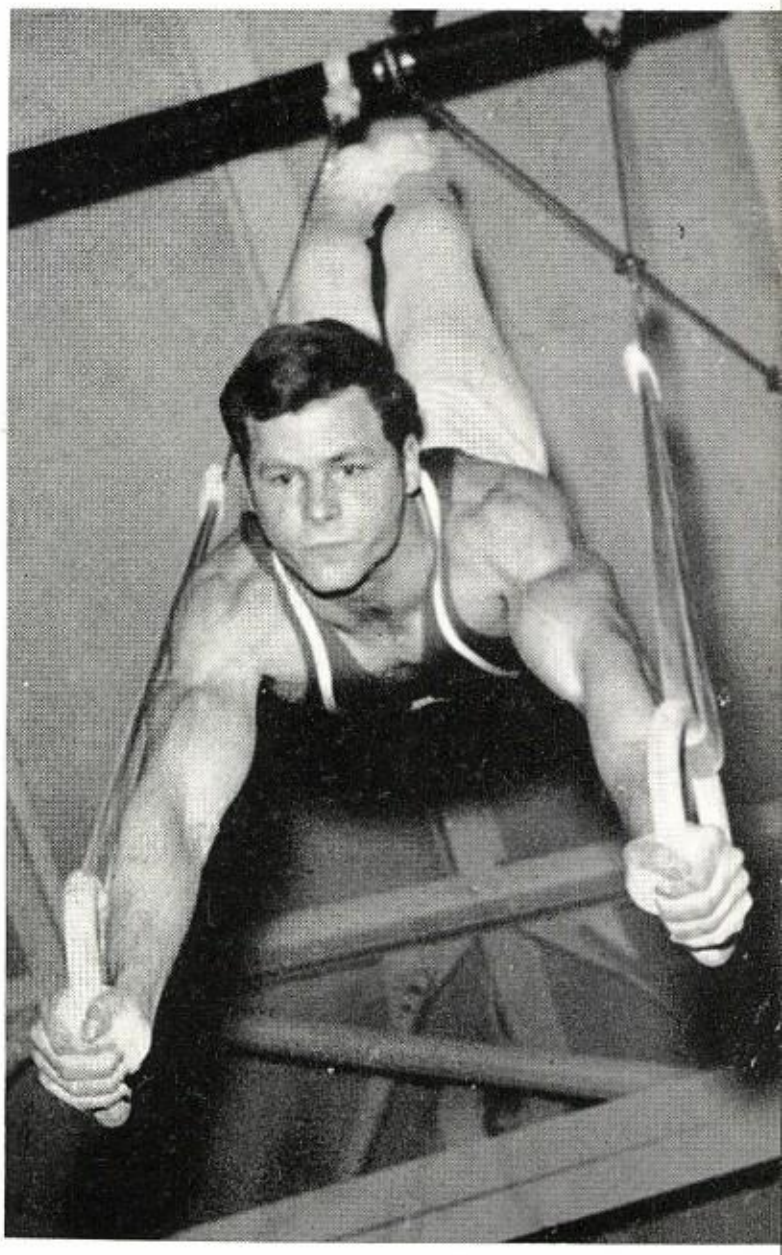
Gary Drake is just heels-over-head about gymnastics as he demonstrates fantastic form in the newest event, strip floor tumbling-free exercise.

Nick Isaacs (above left) finds that doing the weird contortions that are a part of free-exercsie doesn't hurt much anymore. Steve Von Ebers (above right) displays the art of doing the Japanese splits, only one part of a free-exercise routine that rated him number one in the state. Kevin Lindsey (below) concentrates on the correct execution of the difficult strength maneuvers that placed him so high in the conference, district, and state meets this season.



Two-time tramp champ Terry Haines defies gravity once again as he displays another of his mid-air maneuvers while his dauntless, determined teammate Bob Gleichman, (below), performs a routine of skillful and impressive feats on parallel bars.

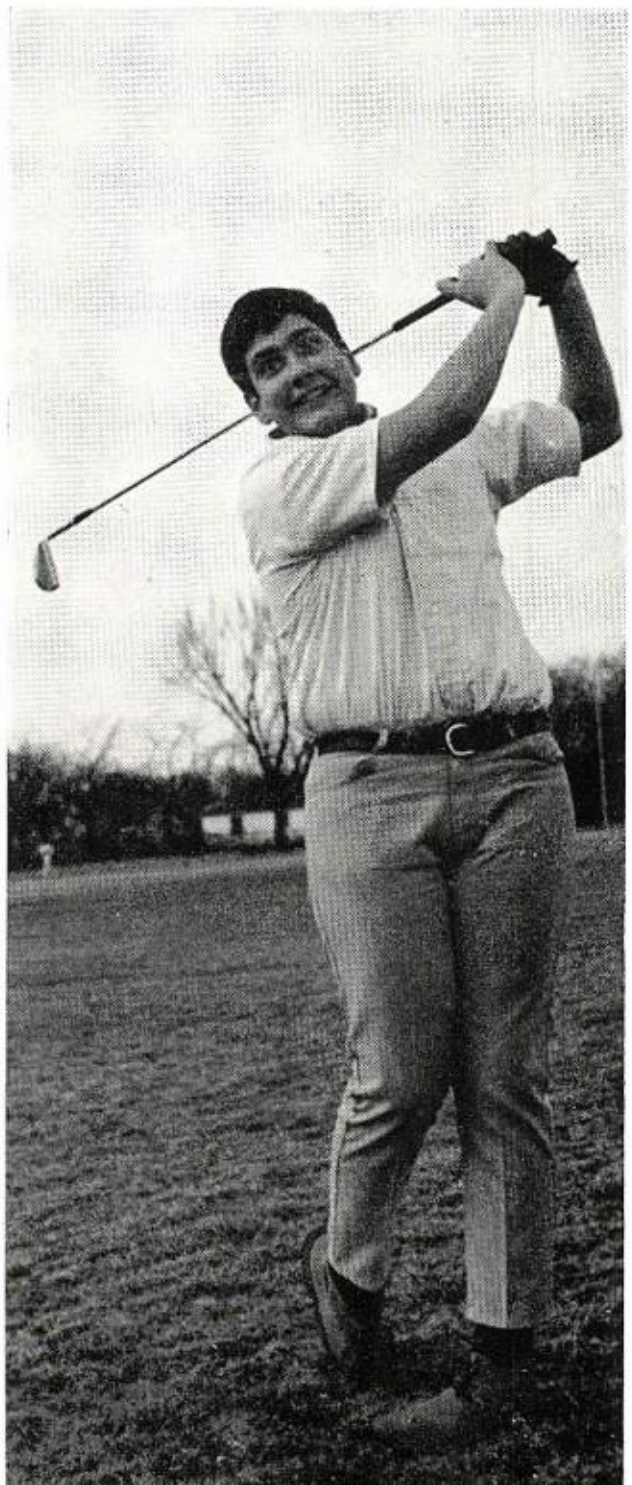


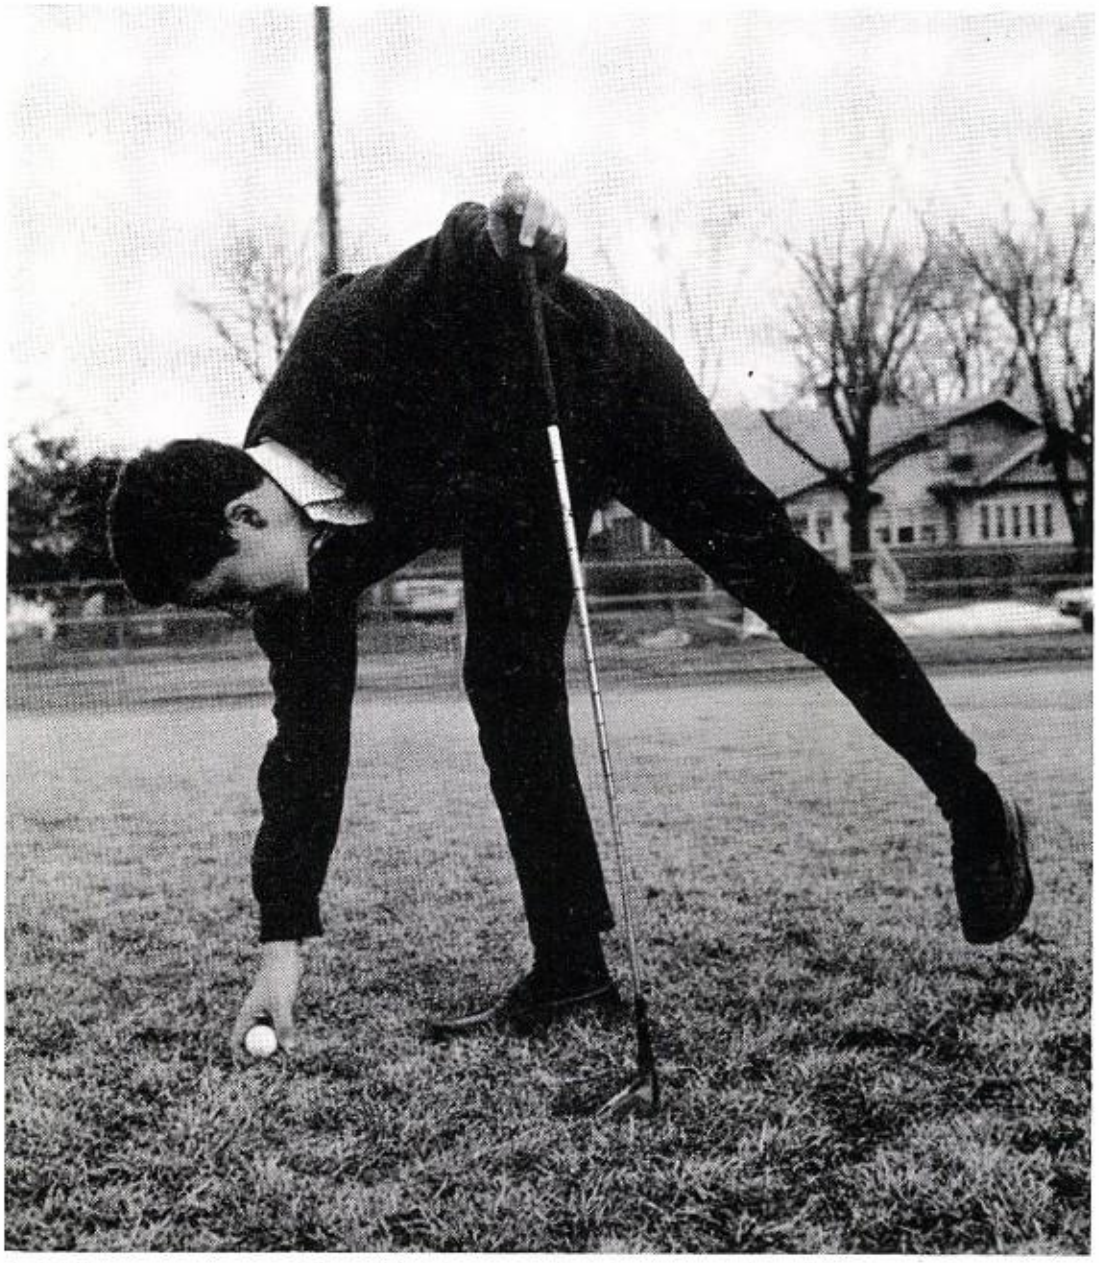


Arlington Linksmen Stroke Through Lofty Year

Arlington's answer to Bob Hope Golf Classic competition reveals ice-blue calmness and nerves of steel in the face of such challenges as golf meets and photographers.

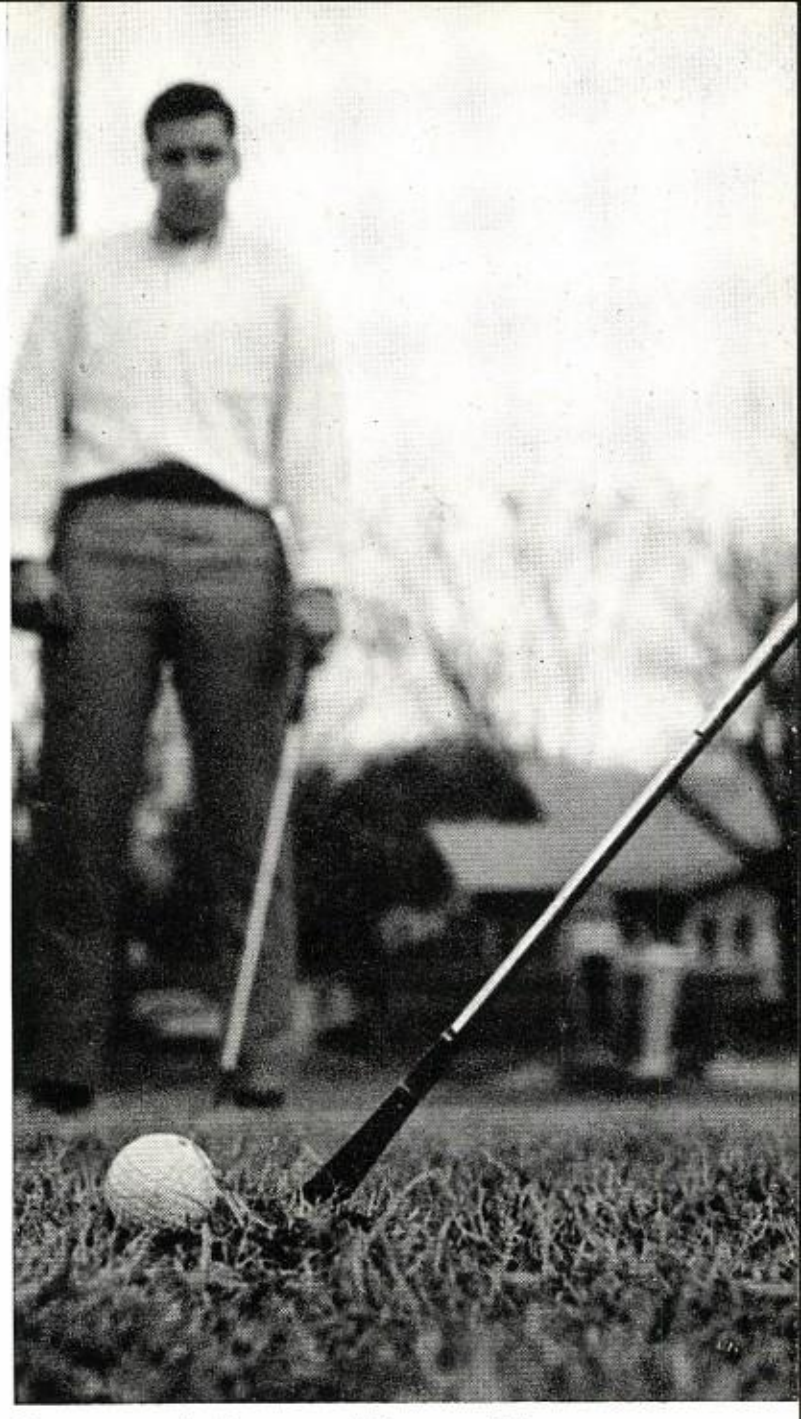
An ecstatic grin on the face of golfer Mike Rossi registers jubilation over another ace?





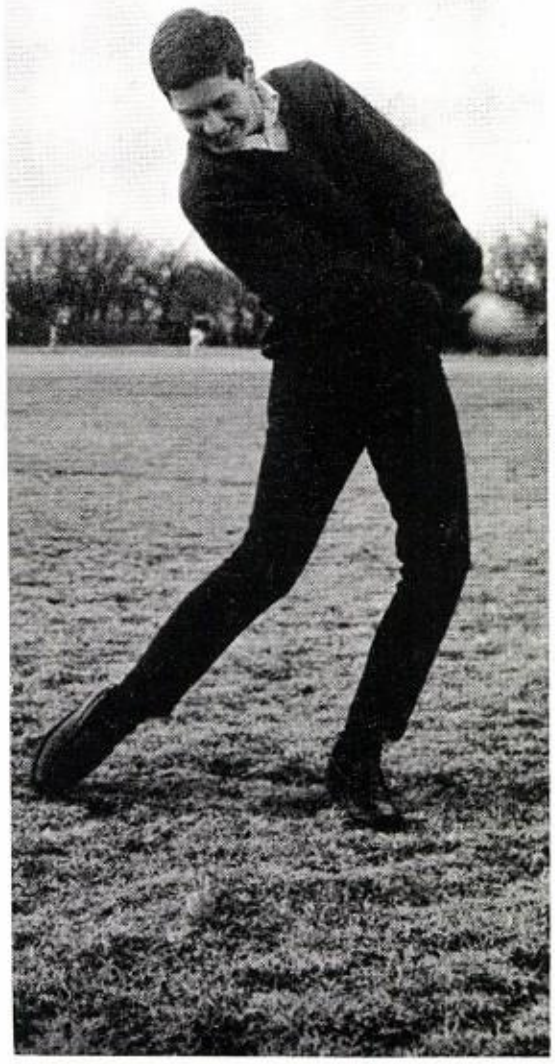
Jack Vanveen proves that chivalry exists in the game of golf as he employs some fancy footwork while saving his ball from voracious weeds on the practice field.

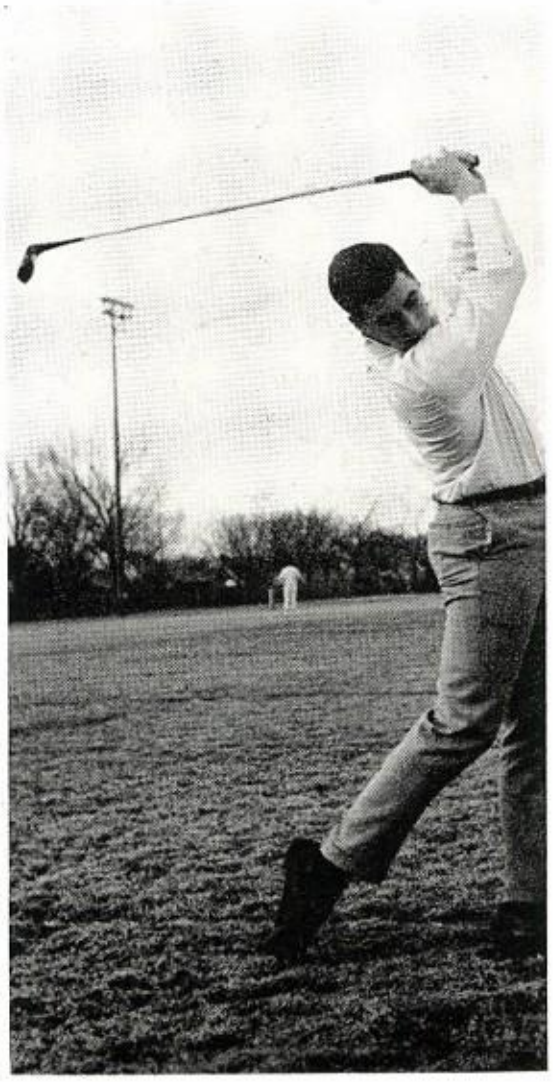
Linksmen Mike Rossi, Jack Vaneen, Rich Armour stand mesmerized as they watch Bill Wolod maintain his cool throughout the sauve execution of famous backswing.



Teammates look on as Arlington linksman prepares to club MSL opponent.

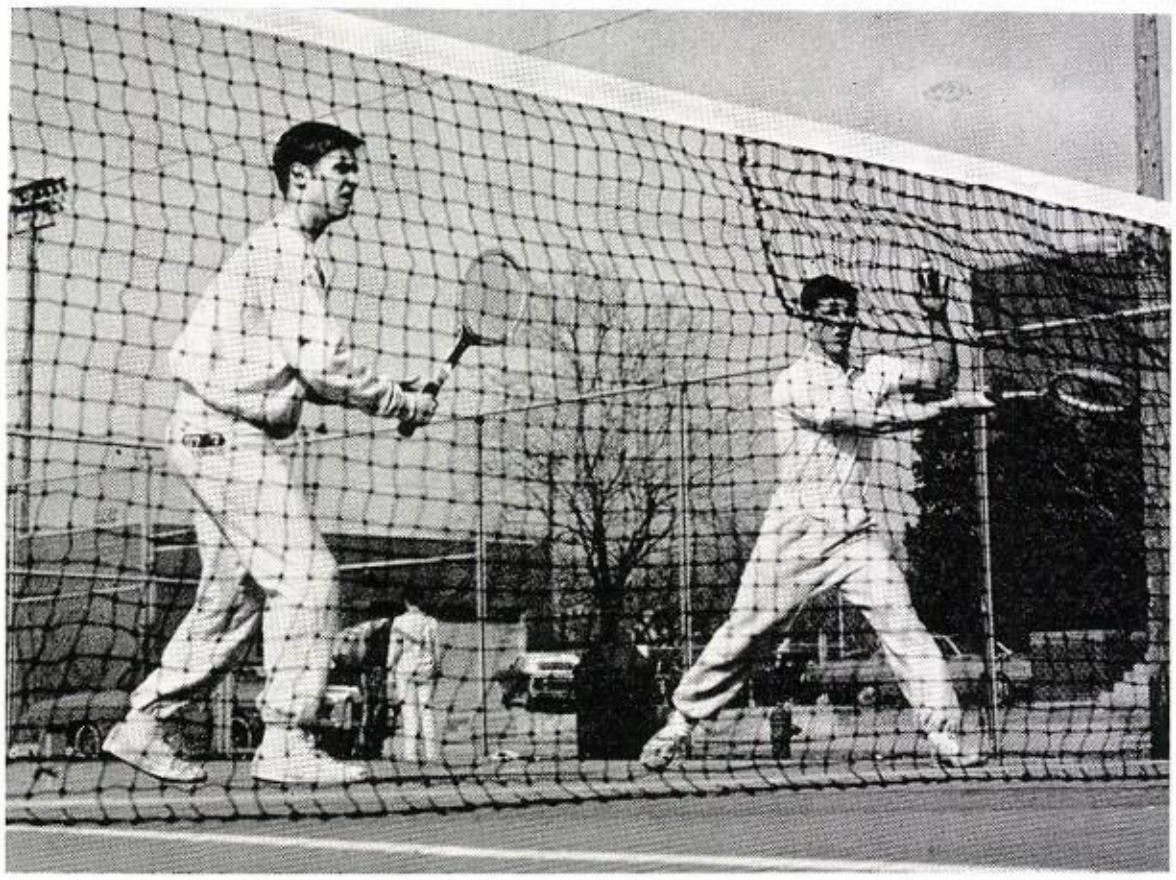
Richard Armour, Jack Vanveen, and Bradford O'Berry show the three vital parts of any golf swing as the team follows through during another successful golf season on the Arlington tour.



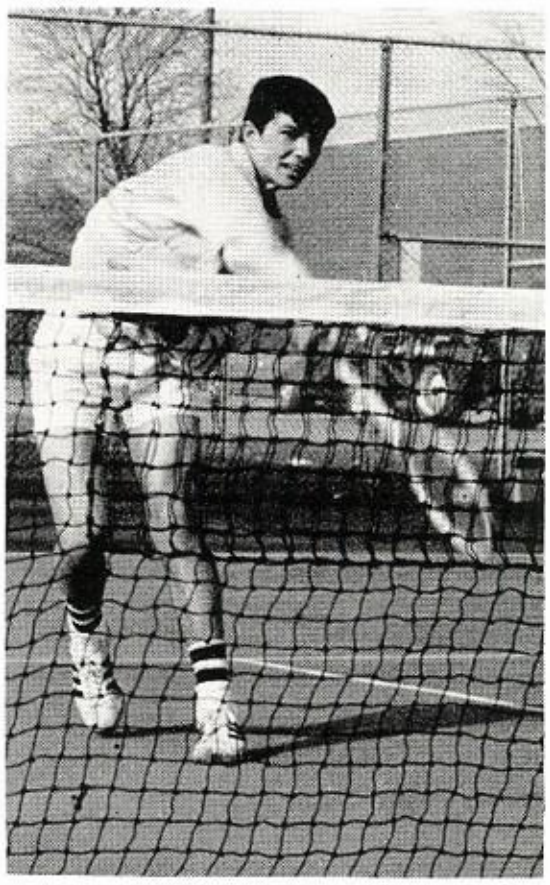


Cardinal Netmen Raise A Racquet At State Finals

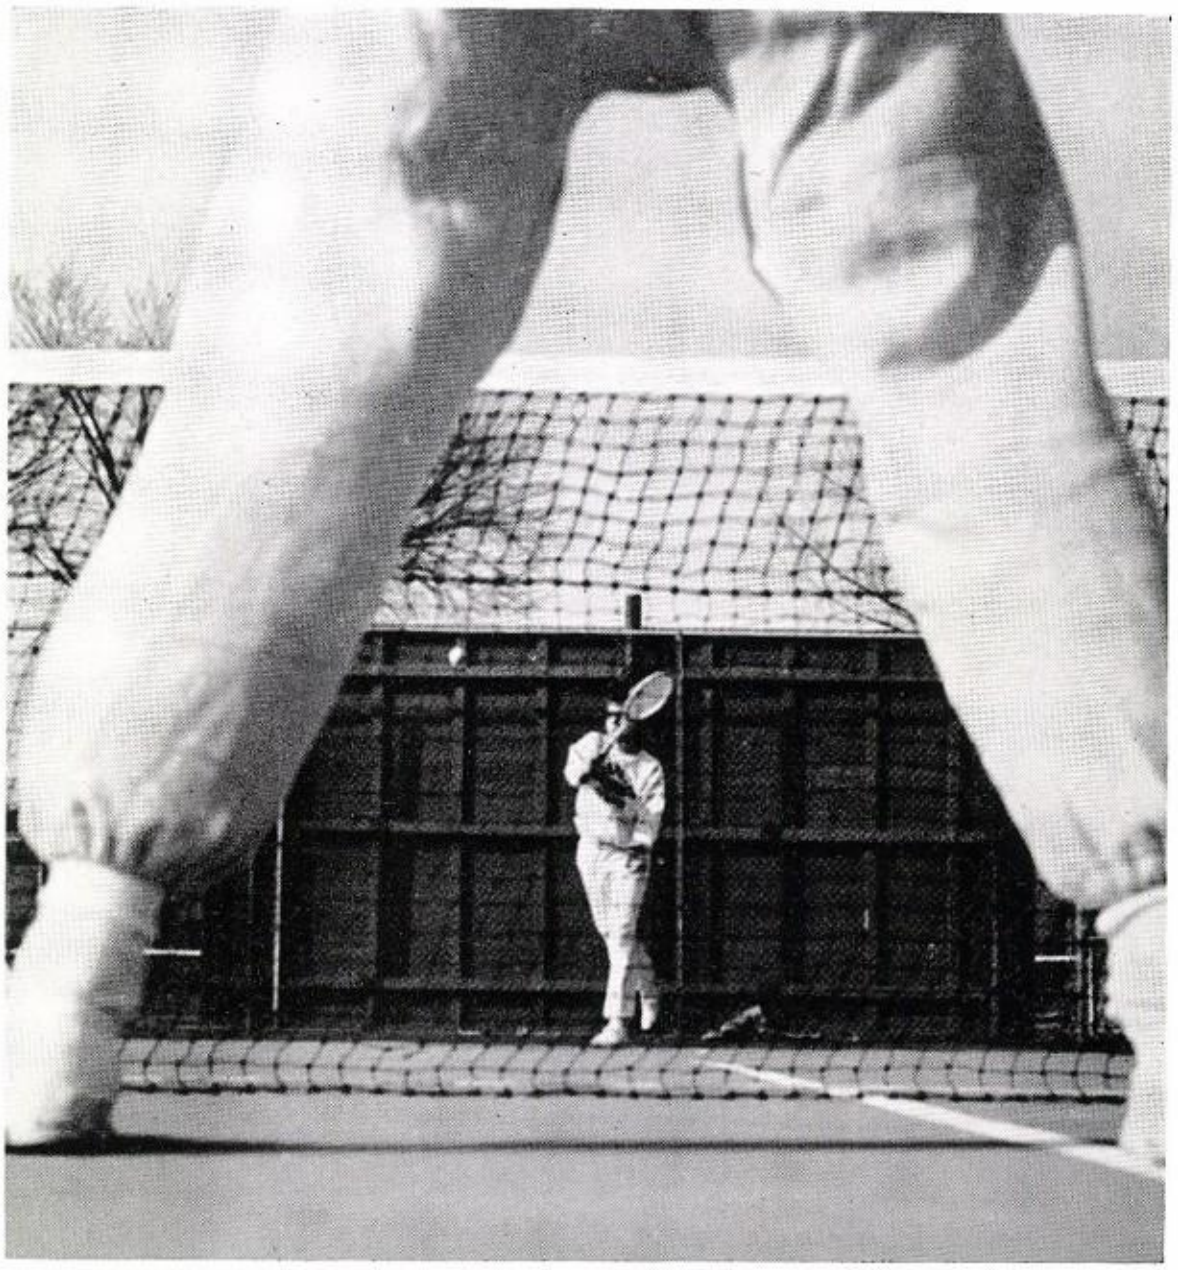
"What a racket! Once you're in, you're hooked!" think tennis terrifics Bill Stelling and Paul Stevens while they watch the ball go soaring off into the wild, blue yonder.



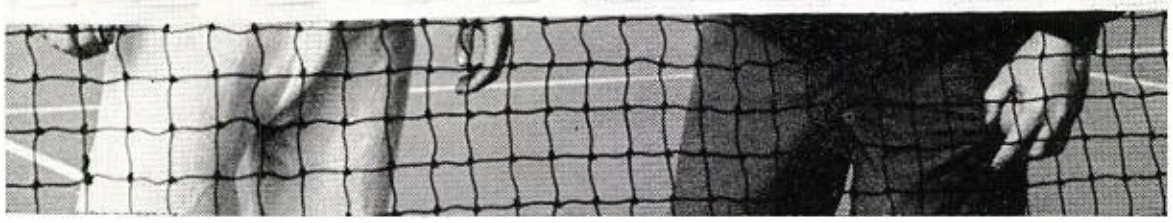
Greg Harris asks, "Racket, racket in my hand who's greatest in the land?" AHS.



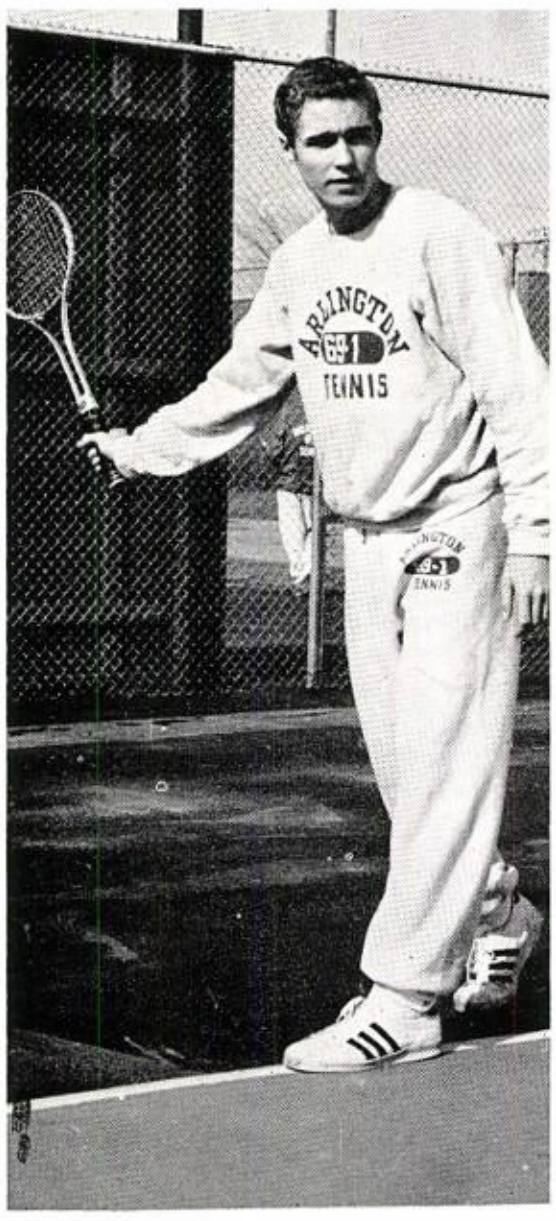
Greg, The Harris Lion, lets his cowering opponent know who's King of Courts.

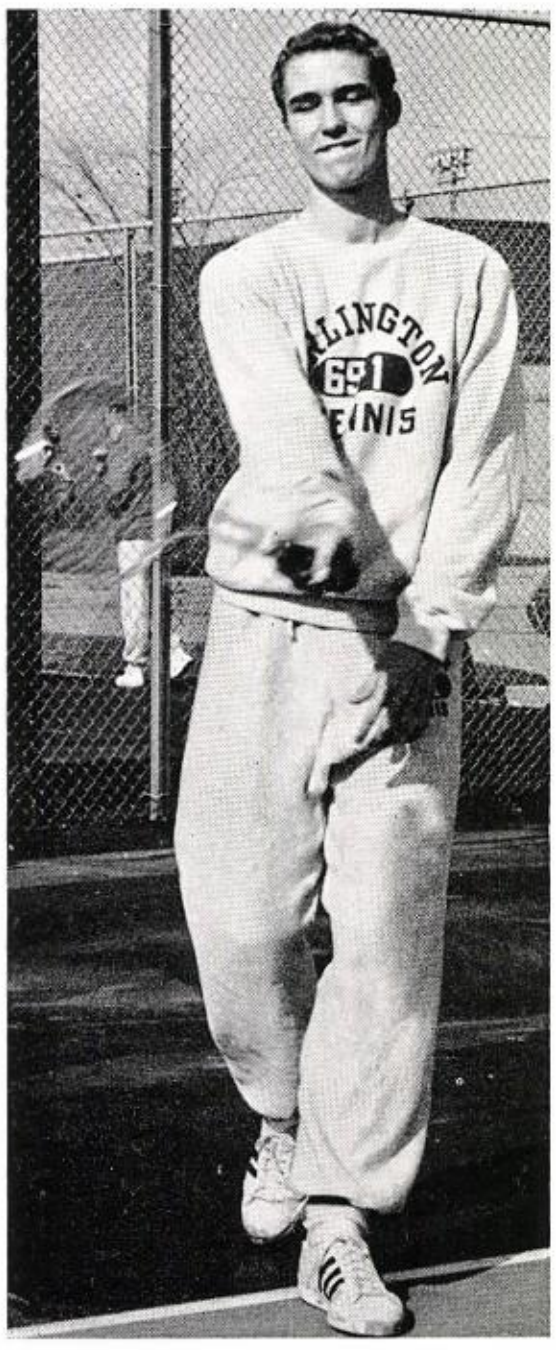


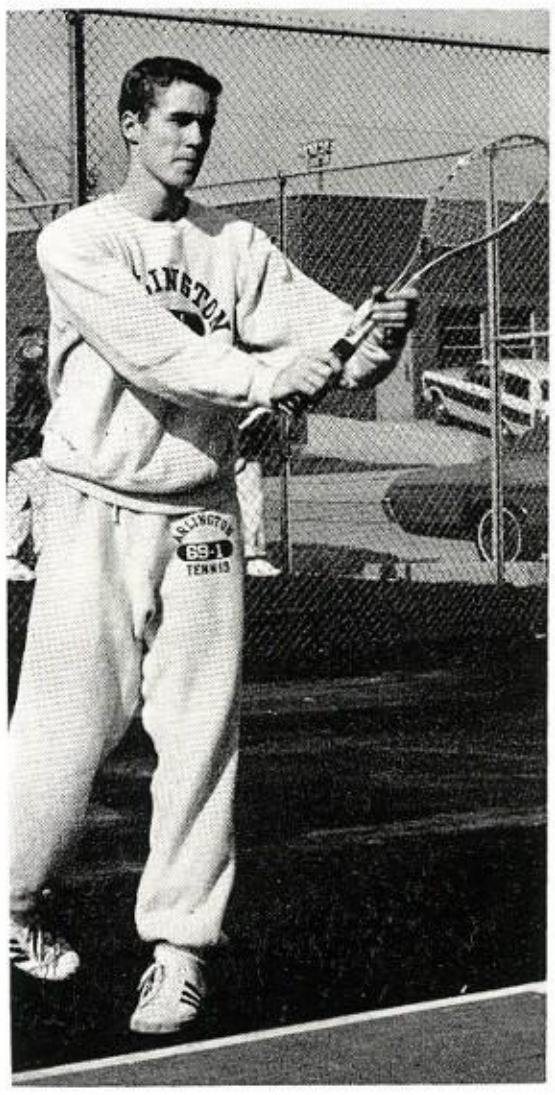
"I wish I'd eaten my Wheaties this morning!" exclaims exasperated Scott McKay as he sizes up towering opponent Rob Baer, who stands ready to rack up more points.



"Elementary, my dear Mr. Stelling, just pretend you're shaking hands with the racket." Coach Pitchford reviews the basic tennis grip with a stellar senior.

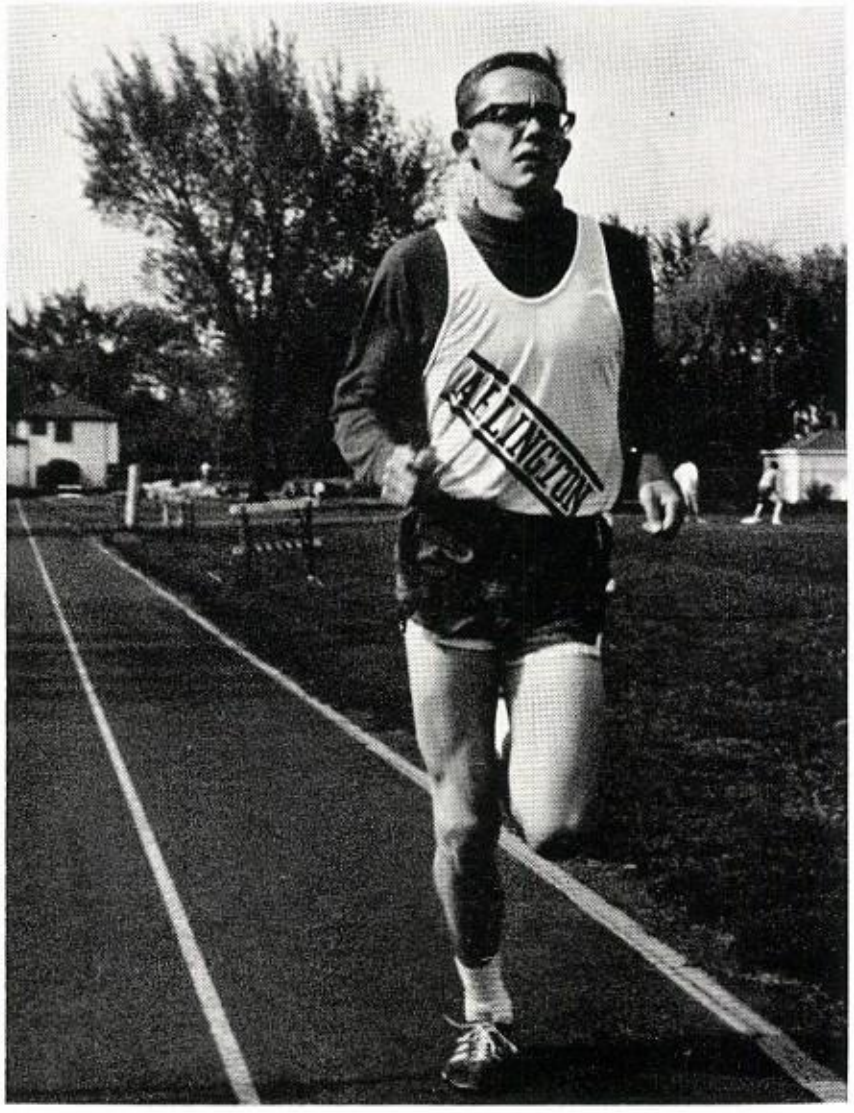


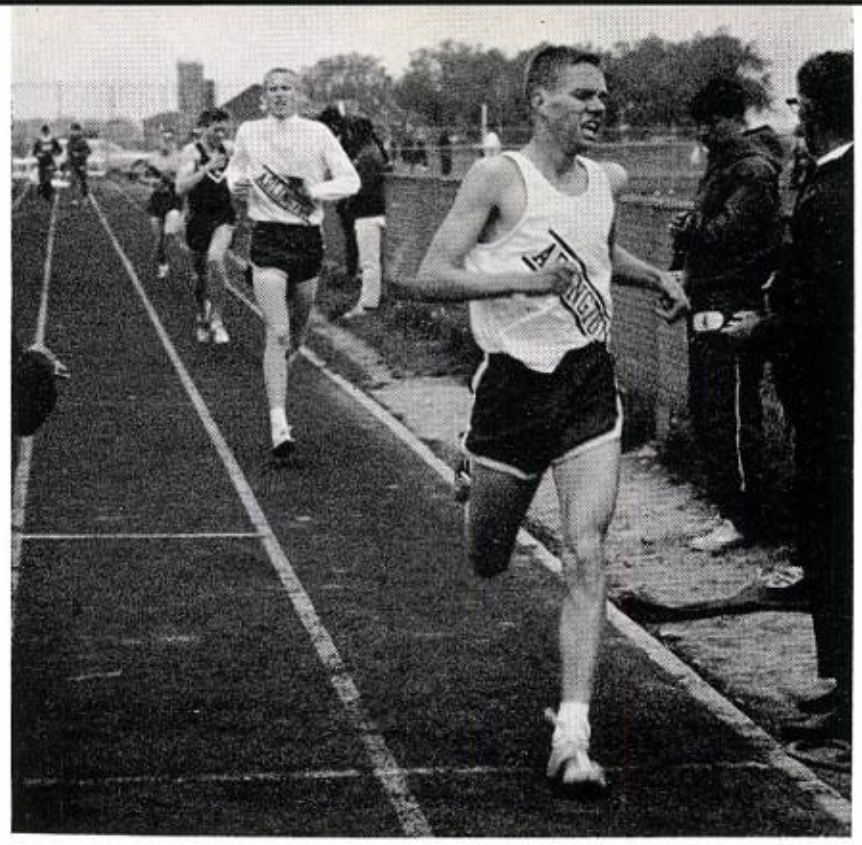




Usually mild-mannered, tennis terror Ken Jorgensen stands poised for action before a crushing contact and then steps lightly into a fantastic follow-through.

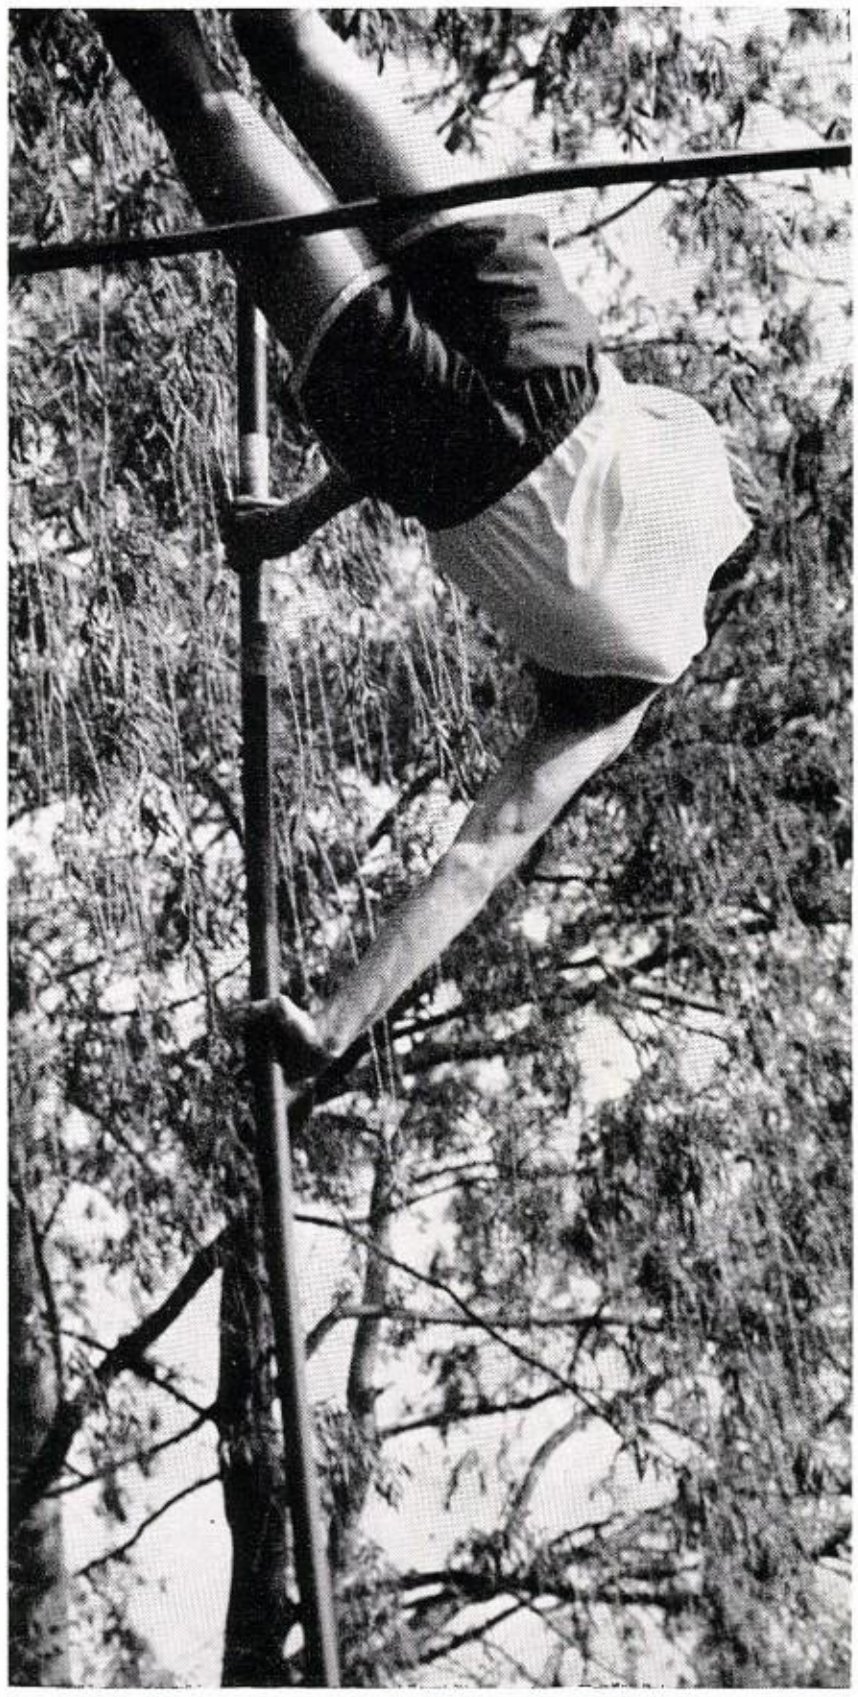
Go, go, go power is demonstrated by junior Scott Butler who proves eating Cheerios each morning, plus practice, can help.





Tom Swanson is Numero Uno as he leads the field of thinclads in the two mile distance event at the MSL contest.

"What makes Sammy run?" is the question that two opponents ask themselves as thinclad Sam Wit bounds upward.



Exhibiting perfect form, Gary Fagerson uses the force typically necessary to spear an appetizing lunch from AHS cafeteria.

District Champs Make Tracks For AHS Victory

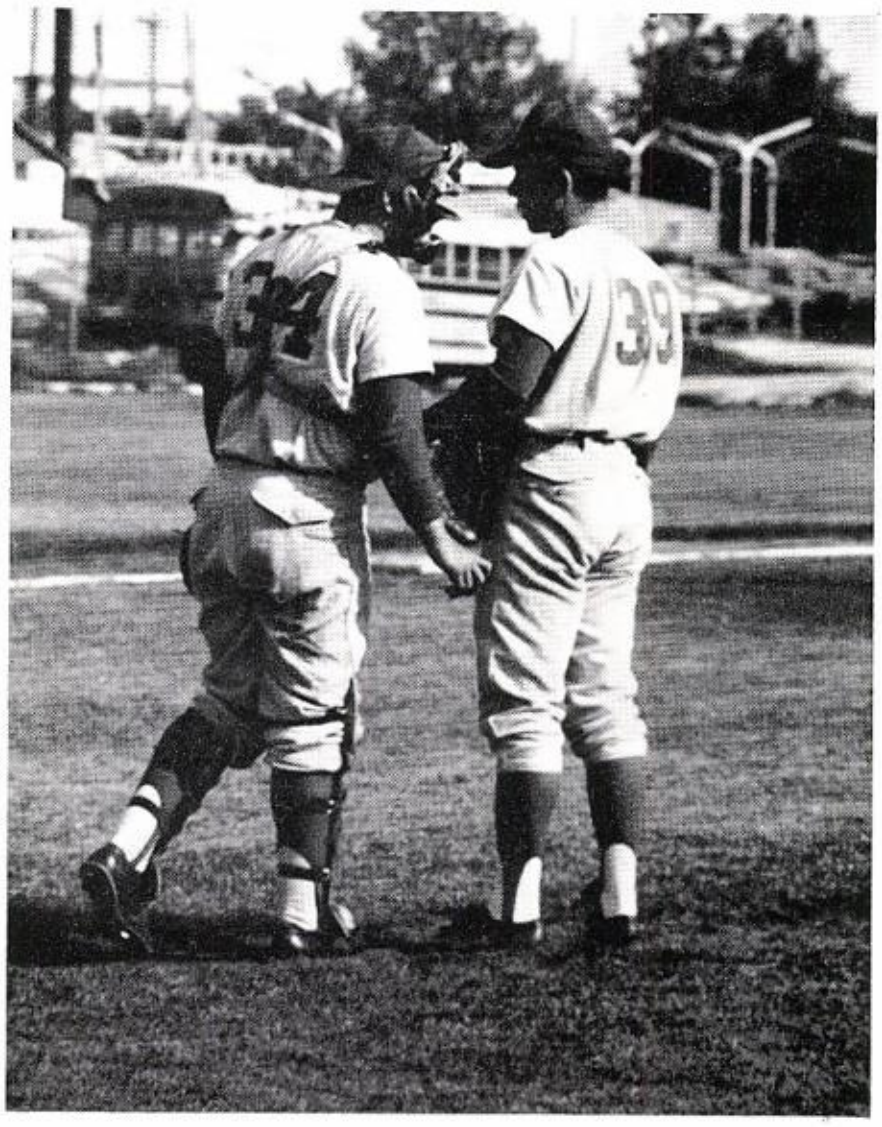
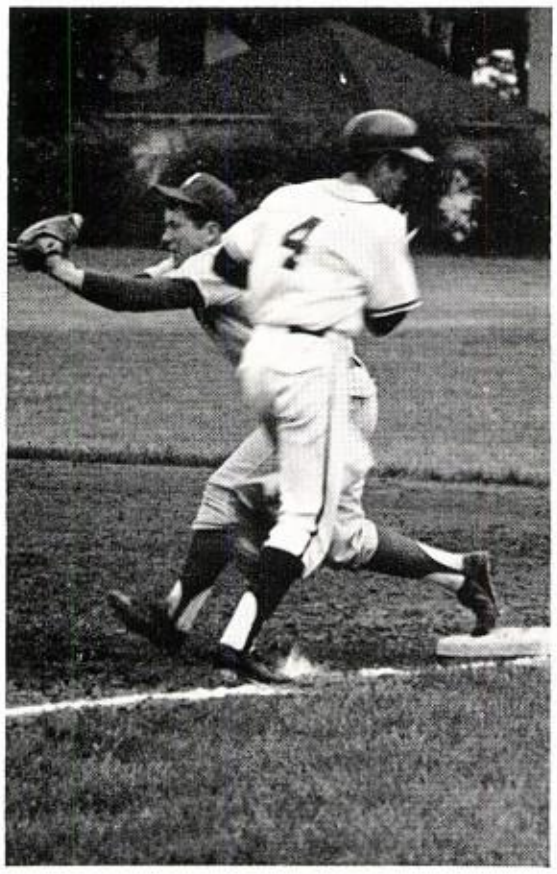
Doesn't anyone notice the dimples in Dave Steele's knees when he masters the hurdles? Probably the girls do!

(Left) "That superman stuff isn't so tough!" comments Todd Somers, as he leaps into the air with the greatest of ease. (Right) Paul Tollefson proves anything is possible, as he attempts to swallow a high flying steel shot put!

Diamondmen Swing Thru Sparkling Season

The windup, the pitch, and Arlington's senior hurler Gary Anderson successfully strikes out another opponent. Our dynamic duo on the pitcher's mound plan more ingenious maneuvers to use successfully against Forest View's foes.





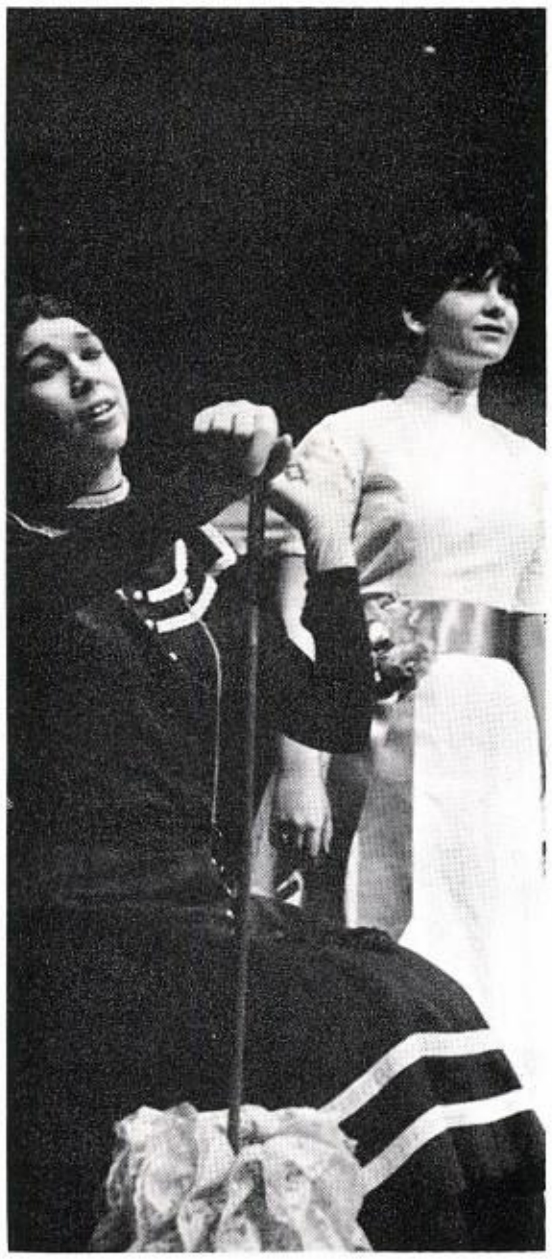
After a close play by Card first baseman, (above) another foe is called out. AHS's third baseman (below) retires opposing side by catching the pop fly.

Senior pitching ace, Gary Anderson, (above) hurls the third strike to retire the last batter and pitch the Cardinals to another victory. Arlington's varsity coach (below) joins members of his team on the mound to discuss the game strategy.

Bunburyist Discovers The Vital "Importance Of Being Earnest"

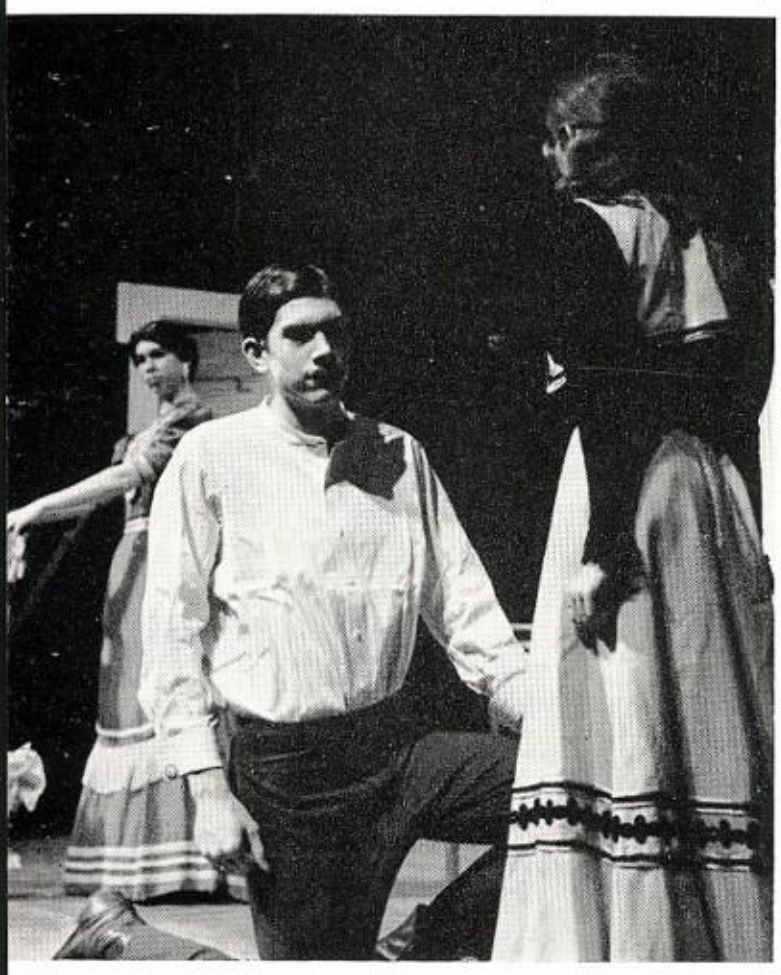
John Worthing and Algernon Moncrieff, played by G. Michael Rieder and Raymond Munro, discovered The Importance of Being Earnest when they fell in love with Gwendolen Fairfax and Cecily Cardew during the winter play. Gwendolen, Emery Peek, and Cecily, Virginia Hawley, portrayed two lovely young maidens who were interested only in men named Earnest. The comedy was directed by Miss Trad. Jim Pamp was technical director.

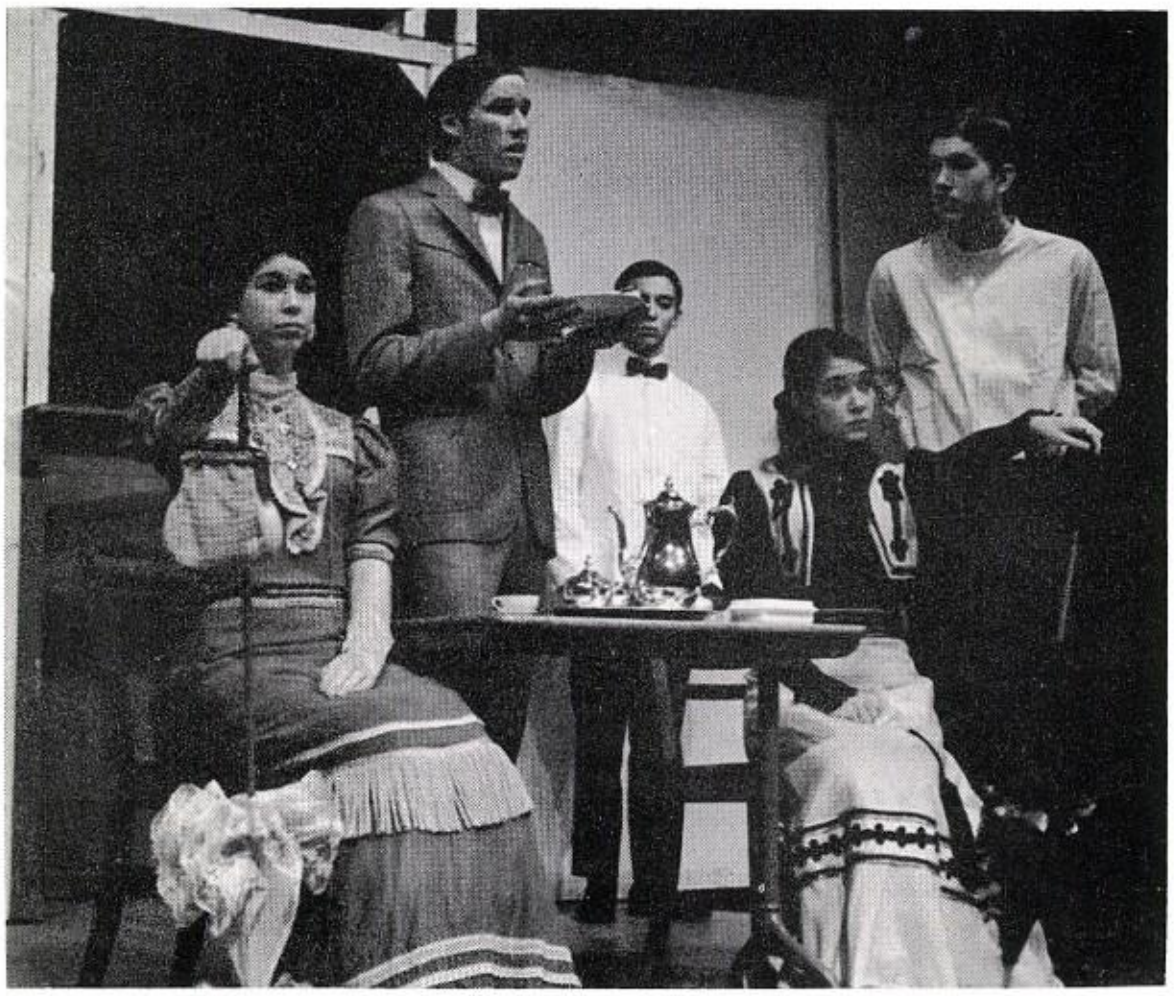
Dianne Rieder, as Lady Bracknell, has a difficult time discussing marriage with bachelor Bunburyist Algernon Moncrieff, alias Ray Munro, during the production.



Ginny Hawley poses for inspection by Dee Rieder in a scene from the winter play, Importance of Being Earnest.

Under Lady Bracknell's piercing stare, John Worthing finds proposing to his dearest Gwendolen quite distressing.





"My dear Aunt Augusta, I regret to say there are no cucumber sandwiches," answers Algernon Moncrieff apologetically as his aunt's pouting face reflects disappointment.

Orchesis In A Dance Collage

Very interesting—a collage of Orchesis members: Linda Reeves, Sue Luedeking, Janet Lense, Barb Fondric, Donna Walter, Laurie Lechelt, Margaret Long, Pam Townsend.

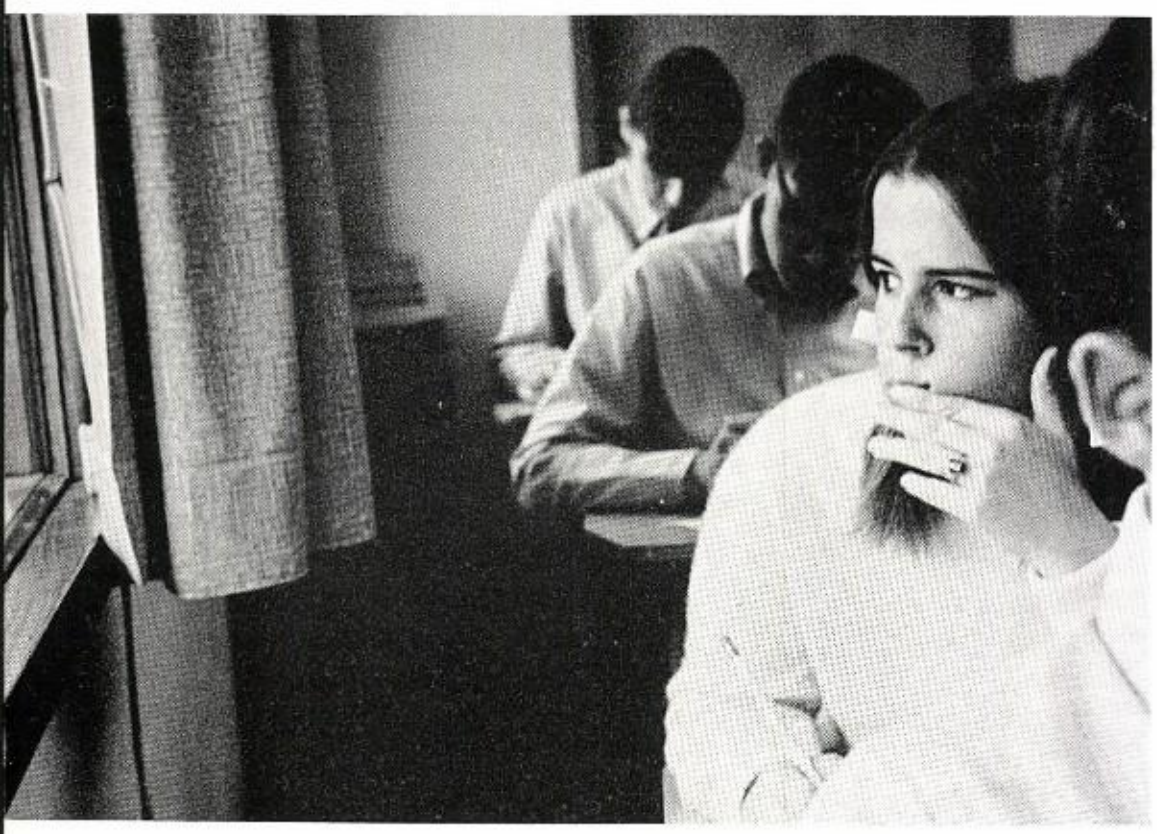
After three months of preparation, Orchesis presented its annual concert March 28 and 29. This year's show, Collage, consisted of dances choreographed by members of Orchesis.

Several dance forms were presented as Collage came to life. The dance "Tip Toe Through The Tulips," sung by Tiny Tim, featured ballet. Interpretive modern dance was displayed in many numbers such as "Computer In Love," and "Los Dios." Informal dances were choreographed to popular songs as "The Stripper."

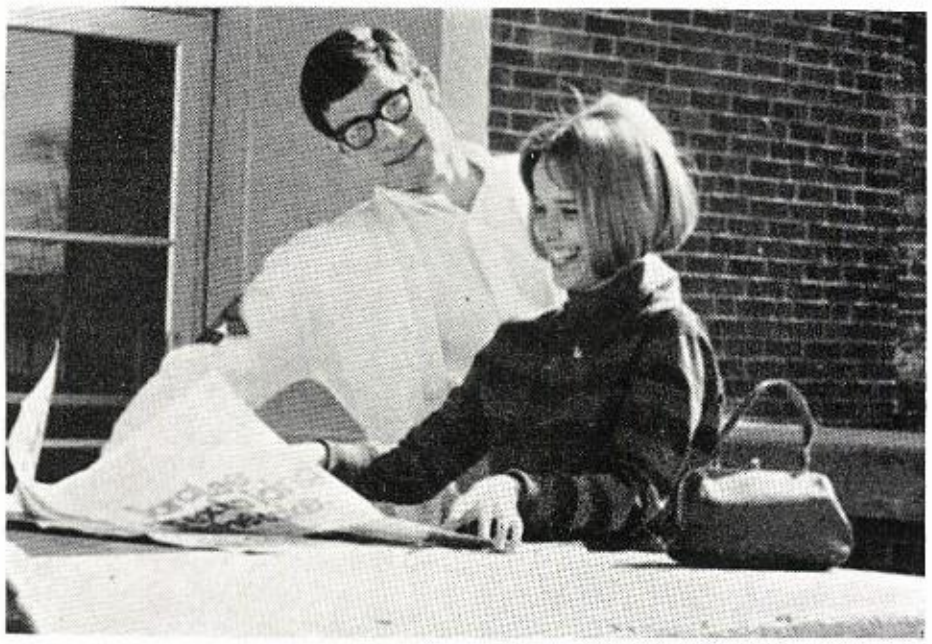
Marjie Bowen, Sandy Hilton dance the result of a 1984 romance of computers.

Sue Koch displays artistic talent in her impressionistic painting of Patty Hruby.

Pat Hruby, portraying Snydely Whiplash, grins haughtily at Pearl Pure-Heart, played by Lynn Johnson, as the train nears in a highly melodramatic scene from Collage.



During her geometry class, one attentive student calculates the aerodynamic information necessary for afternoon kite-flying fun.



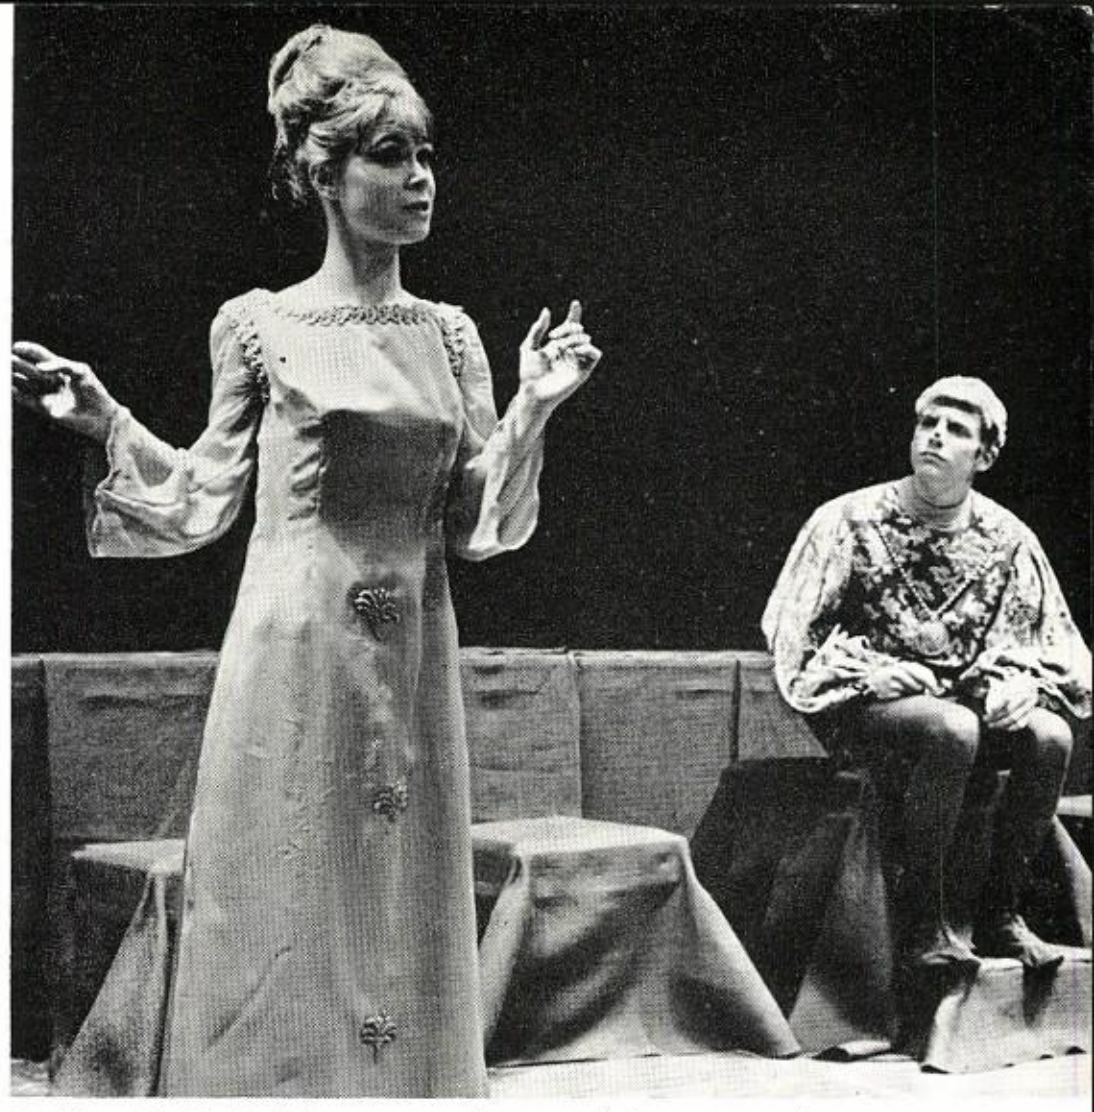
"What say, I take you away from all this?" grins Mike Dezonna, as spring's warm sunshine conquers both Karen Bylski and him.

Senior Dennis Meacham finds that spring is the time to use his convertible for a quick trip to MacDonald's for lunch.

Arlington's art exhibit at Randhurst fires up Mary Shaffer's artistic aspirations as she reviews the art class explanations.

Lunch outside is more exciting than one thinks! Who says "turning on" with a tunafish-pickle sandwich in the fresh air can't be done, if one doesn't mind being wind blown?

Doug Daughtery, as Hans, accepts the hand of Princess Bertha, portrayed by Ginny Hawley, before the King's Court.

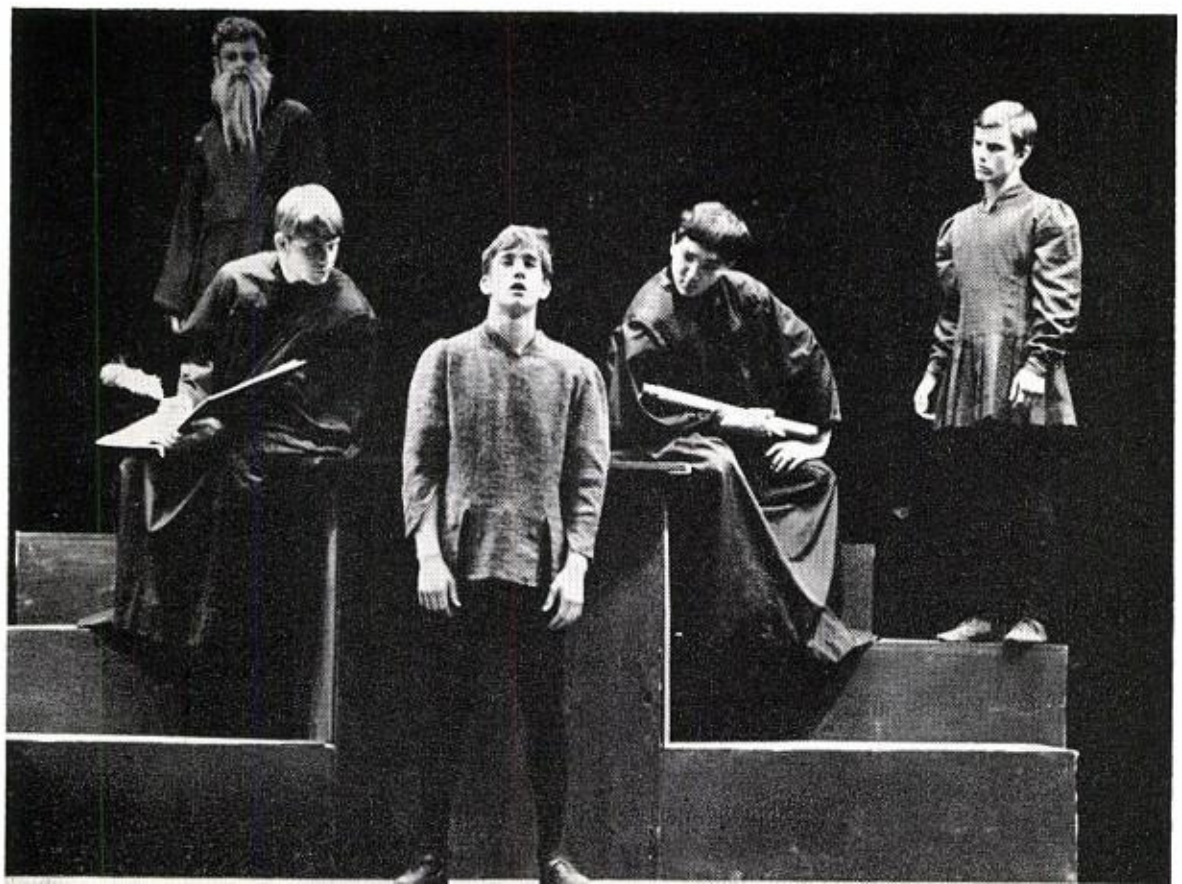


Ondine, Cindy A. Johnson, uses her sea-witchery to enchant and entice the strange, mysterious King Wart, Craig Schulze.

ONDINE CATCHES SPELL of Myth, Magic And Romance

Maurice Valency's adaptation of the French production, Ondine, by Jean Giraudoux, was presented on the Arlington stage last spring under the direction of Mr. Douglas K. Murphy. Assisting him were Technical Director, Caesar Meledandri, and Lyovonne Trad, Speech Director.

A large cast of twenty-six talented students brought to life this fairy tale, set during the Middle Ages. Ondine, a pretty, young sea nymph brought both happiness and misery to the human world. Leading the students were Doug Daughtry as Ritter Hans, Cindy A. Johnson as the mysterious Ondine, and Ginny Hawley as young Princess Bertha.



Playing the part of the King of the Sea, Curt Wilson predicts misfortunes.

Judges Dave Ewart and Neil Suzuki hear fisherman Jim Mayhercy testify.

Cardinal Audience Puckers Up For Kiss Me Kate

"But fair Kate, why dost thou abuse me so?" shouts doomed Jim Schuler.

Lisby Peck rejects Rex Parvin's plea for kindness in AHS's Kiss Me Kate.

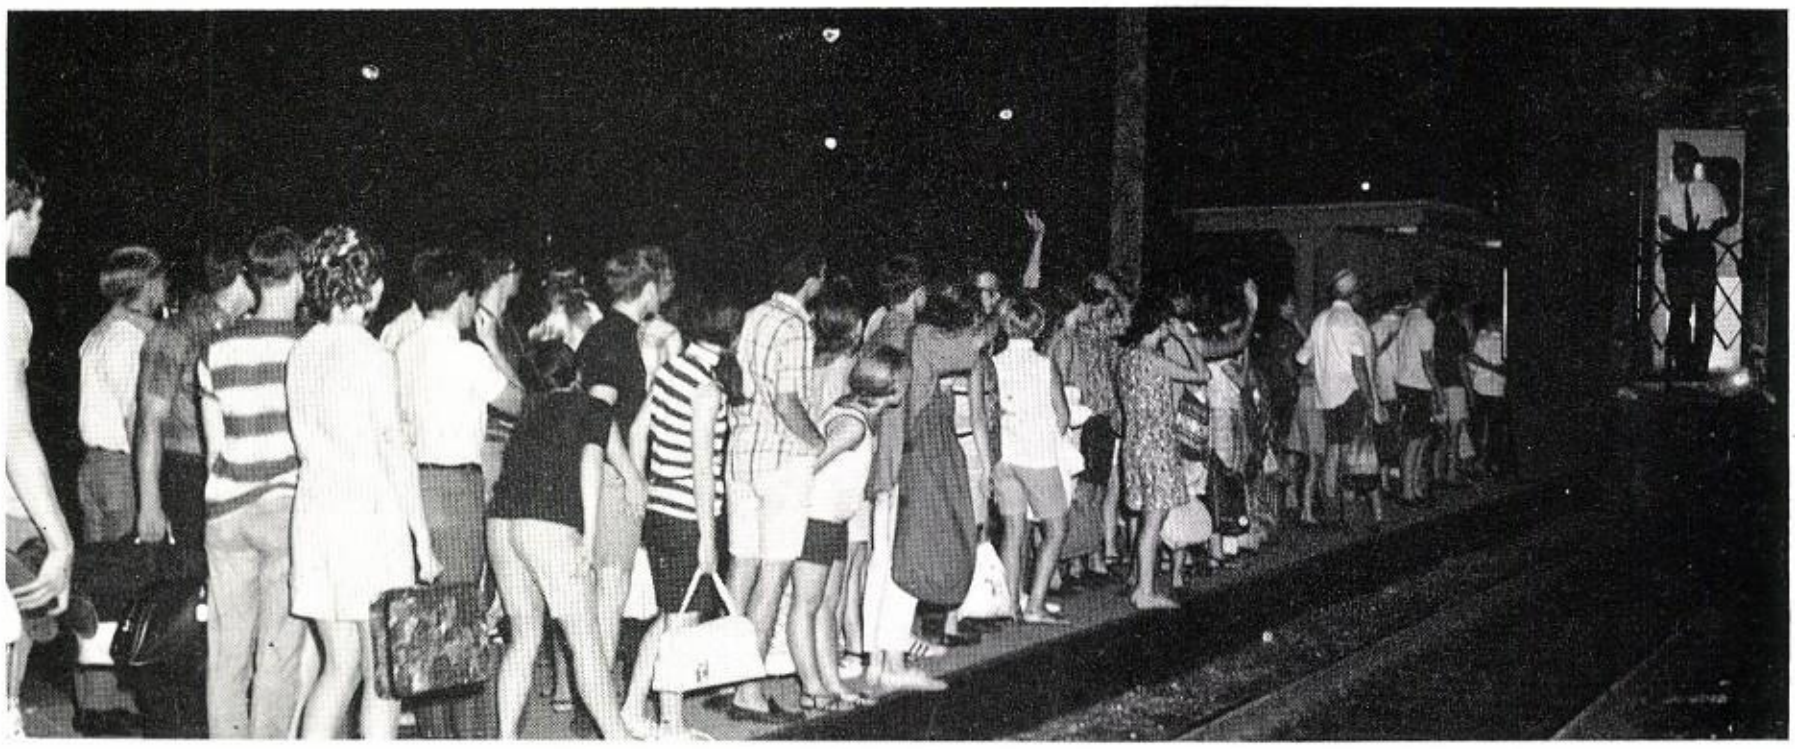
Cast of Arlington musical, Kiss Me Kate rehearses the final grand chorus of "Another Openin,' Another Show!"

Hours of rigorous rehearsal to capture the tempo and character of Cole Porter's lively music culminate as Mr. Schmoyer signals for the opening night downbeat.

Kiss Me Kate, the play within a play, was spiritedly brought to life in the Grace Gymnasium the evenings of May 17 and 18, 1968. Mr. White was the over-all director of the production. Assisting him were Mr. Schmoyer, Miss Whitney, and Mr. Pugsley, and student director Dave Palmatier.

Lisby Peek, Rex Parvin, Sue Wood, Bill Hazen, Craig Deehring, and Dave Stroder led the large cast which recreated the musical version of William Shakespeare's immortal comedy, The Taming of the Shrew. Rex adeptly subdued Lisby in one of AHS's most entertaining performances.

(Above) Lynn Kirchhoff works on costumes for herself and the remainder of the cast. (Below) Some of Lynn's creations are seen as Lisby and Rex play.

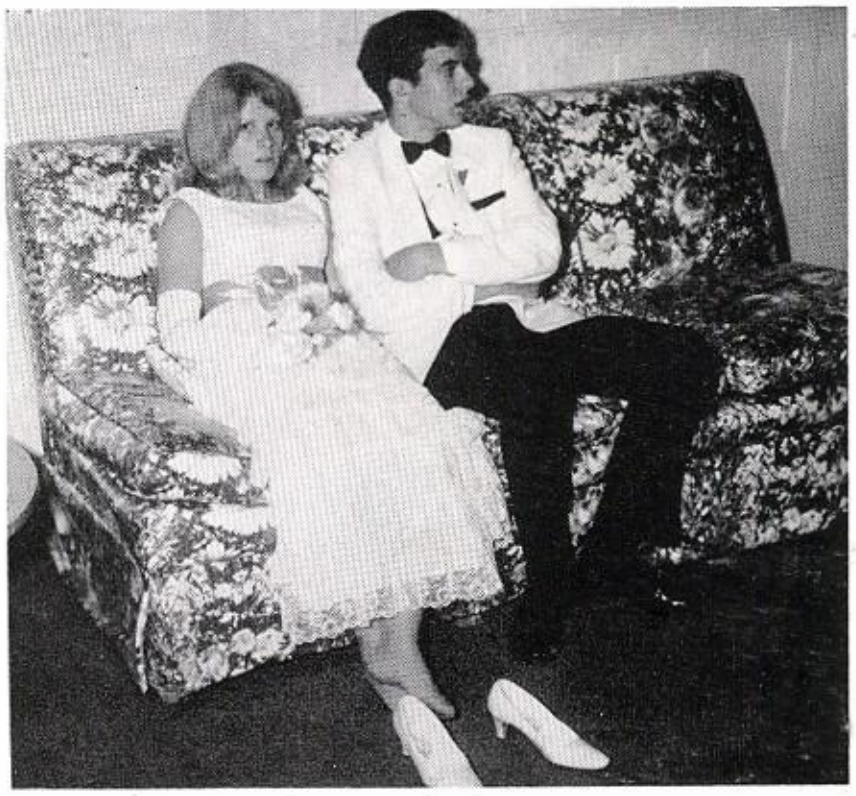


Wondering whether he and his train will be the next victims of train hi-jackers, the conductor looks dubiously at the crowd surrounding the station. Later, he finds they're coming aboard to have an enjoyable time following "Of Dawn and Dreams."

Memories Of A Dream

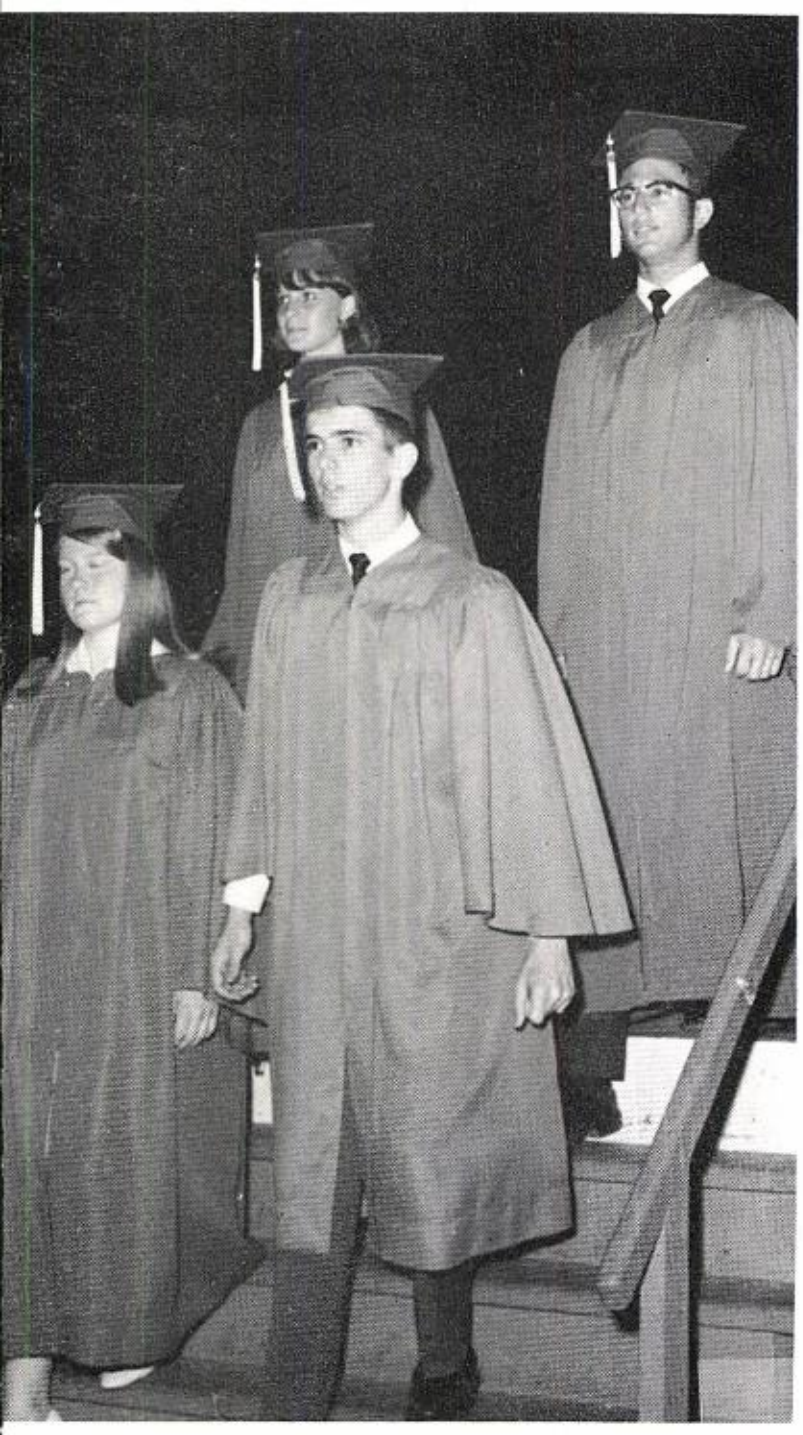
June not only brought the long-awaited summer vacation, but the most elegant formal of the year. The prom was titled Of Dawn and Dreams, and was held at Chevy Chase Country Club. The night of June sixth was anticipated with much excitement as well as chaos. Each girl made sure her dress was the most exquisite and the only one of its kind. A boy, on the other hand, had to worry about which men's store was going to make him look irresistible in a tuxedo. Dancing to music by a popular combo filled the hours. Several planned activties occupied the remainder of the night. The prom was organized by the junior class, and their hard work created an evening of romance and memories that will always remain with those who attended.

Amid the elegant atmosphere "Of Dawn and Dreams," couples take time out from the dancing to enjoy conversation.

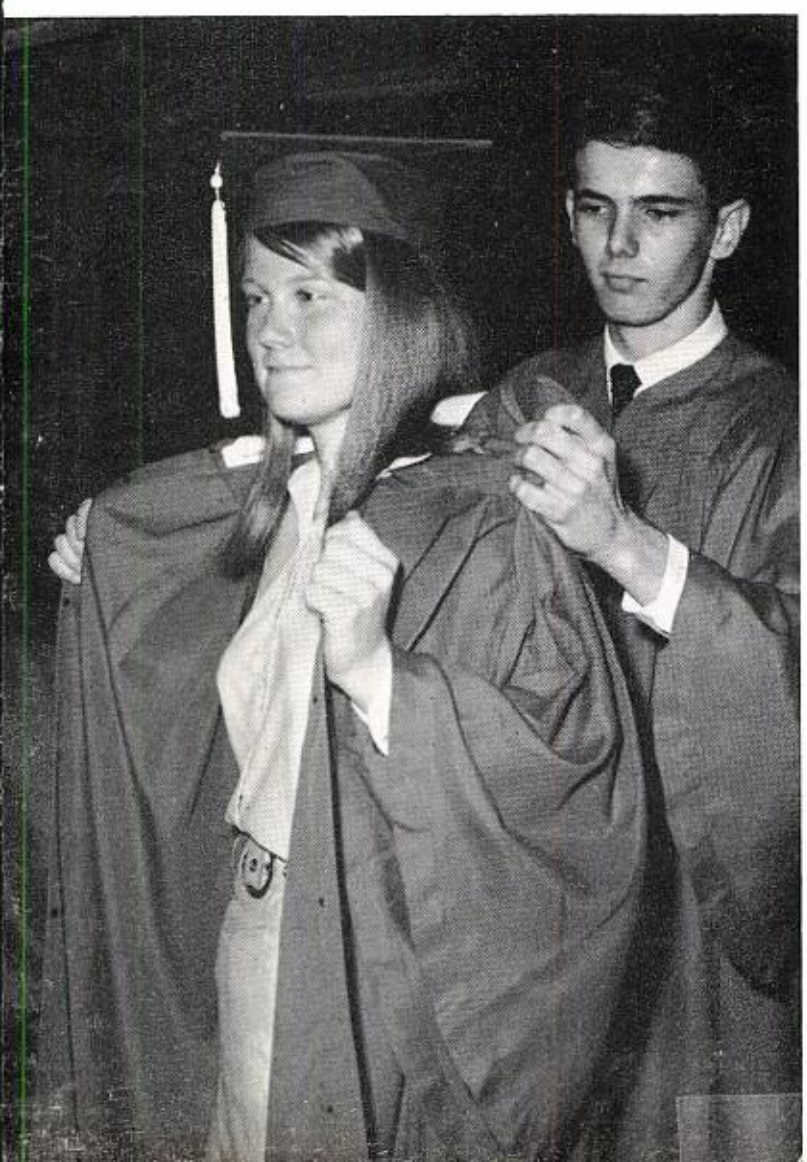


Sue Frank's throbbing feet find relief from Robert Rosholt's twinkle toes.

End Of A Beginning, Beginning Of An End



"Who's going to fall first?" is the idea tripping through the minds of these Arlington graduates.



"An All-Conference guard wore me!" "That's nothin', I had a National Merit Scholar!" Piles of graduation robes relax after the ceremony.

Deciding to whom they should will their straight A's, valedictorians Pat Kamp, Dick Hetke, Barb Fondrie, and Bob Novaria discuss the unlimited uses of Dutch chocolate flavored doughnut holes.

Pat Kamp and Dick Hetke smile contentedly, knowing that wearing their robes is a climax to four years of brain drain and term paper panic time.

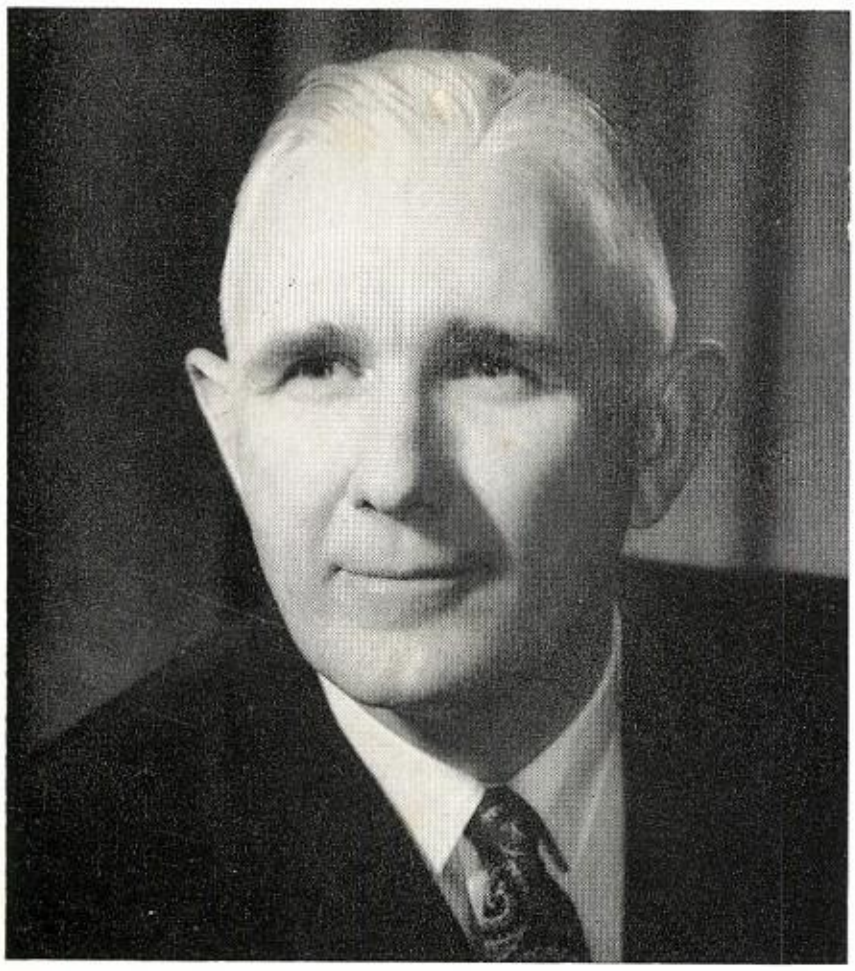
ADMINISTRATION



Dr. Gilbert, Superintendent of District 214 schools, leads the way to practical, yet creative, applications of education.

Dr. Roderick McLennan, Assistant Superintendent, sits calmly in the face of difficulties encountered by district schools.

Dr. Gilbert, the Superintendent of District 214, headed the school board with the aid of the Assistant Superintendent, Dr. McLennan. Dr. Gilbert was responsible for the selection of teachers, and Dr. McLennan's duties included being in charge of curriculum development.

The solving of student problems and the formation of school policies were the duties of the elected board. One of the most talked about decisions made concerned the permission granted to each school which allowed it to decide whether or not students would be given smoking rights on school property.

Powell Makes Four

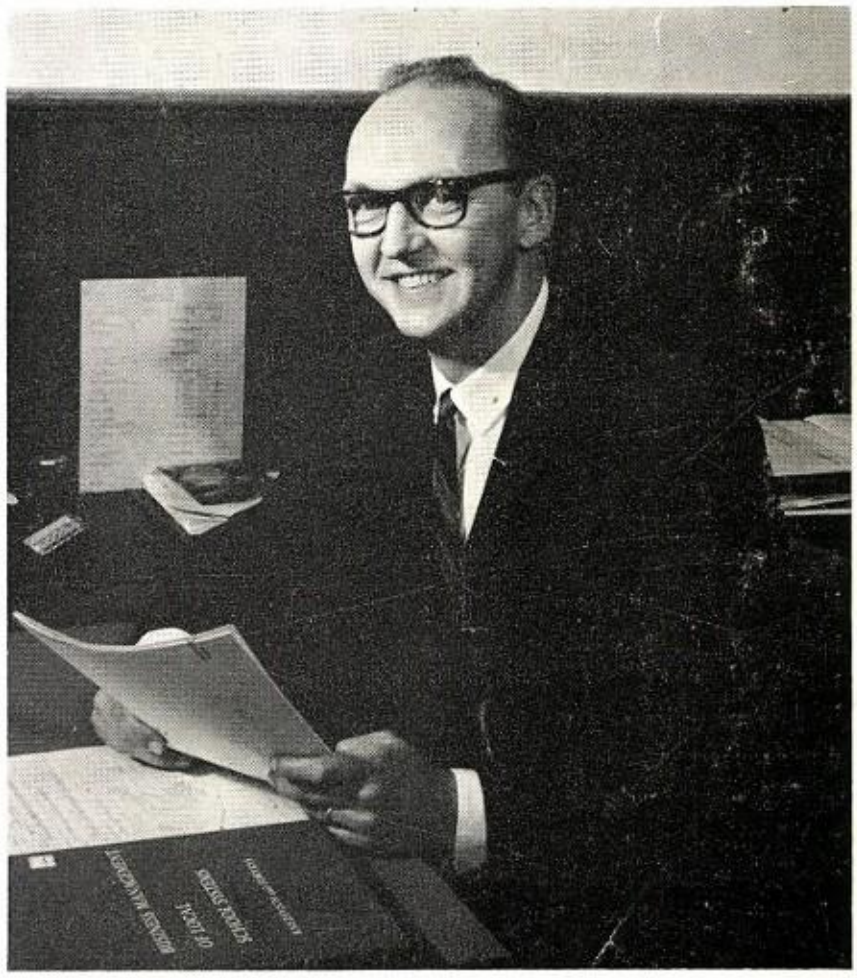
Adding a little variety into his busy duties as principal, Mr. Waara takes a break and looks up long enough for his picture.

The school year began with the addition of Mr. Powell as the Assistant Principal of Administrative Services. Mr. Waara and Mr. Rowe began their seventh year at AHS as Principal and Assistant Principal, respectively. Mr. Ahnquist, Director of Student Activities, again helped the student body to coordinate activities and projects of interest to them.

The administration provided three new courses to expand the already broad scope of curriculum at AHS. Radio-T.V. was offered to all juniors and seniors; advanced placement in French was offered; and a cooperative work agreement program was initiated. A student-faculty co-ordinating committee was formed to aid understanding between the administration and the student body and to make decisions on grievances. Given the opportunity to make the decision as to smoking on school grounds, the administration replied negatively.

"Early Bird" classes were once again available for the early risers. However, unlike last year, there was no early dismissal available to students.

Assistant Principal William Powell is welcomed by Director of Student Activities Vincent Ahnquist as they lay out the plans for the assistant principal's first year at Arlington High.



Keeping Arlington on the right track of enjoyable education through a finer curriculum is Vice-principal Mr. John Rowe.

Secretaries Serve To Expedite School Processes

SECRETARIES

The secretaries at Arlington are one of the many behind-the-scenes forces that kept the school functioning. Mrs. Gast, secretary to Mr. Waara, headed a staff of ten persons, who served in various capacities from the registrar, Mrs. Crockett, to treasurer, Mrs. Gillon. Each department had its own particular secretaries who served apart from those in the main administration offices. These ladies worked closely with the teachers in preparing material for classroom use.

The attendance office personnel worked forty hours a week. In addition to admittance procedures, they assisted with correspondence and rentals. Each day the attendance was sent to the central office with IBM equipment.

In the mail room announcements were typed and mail was distributed. Administrative secretaries worked with teacher staffing and handling the budget. The secretaries performed invaluable services for faculty and students at AHS.

Mrs. Gillon, busy attendance office secretary, is surrounded, almost engulfed, by a deskload of things to do. Her special duties include keeping track of funds.

Cooks Dish Up While Custodians Swish Up

When stomachs began growling at AHS, students' thoughts turned to the cafeteria. Visions of the meals that the cooking staff was preparing bolstered them through that last class before lunch.

Favorites this year included hamburgers, the "diet" line, the ever-popular mashed potatoes, as well as an increased and varied supply of candy. The new disposal system was an aid to both students and cafeteria personnel. Mrs. Hill headed the hard-working cooking crew. The district supervisor was Mrs. Woolsencroft.

The custodians had the responsibility of the maintenance of the school, both indoors and out. An additional task was sweeping away dust tracked through the school due to remodelling. This active crew consisted of eighteen custodians and one matron working around the clock to complete the tasks. Mr. Leark headed the crew.

Ideas, both old and new, kept the Student Council busy this year. Sixty-four elected students, under the direction of Miss Craig, Mr. Ahnquist and the executive board, traditionally planned a fall Powder Puff football game, fun nights, Homecoming, a competitive canned food drive, and talent show. The council again supported our foster child in Viet Nam, Phung Thai Loan, and aided our two foreign exchange students, Lourdes Perea from Peru and Angel Figueroa from Spain. Council members worked five days each week either on assigned committees or at meetings where projects and ideas were discussed.

National Honor Society has again completed another active year. The organization is made up of students from three upper classes who excel in scholarship, leadership, character and service. Seniors must attain a grade point average of 4.0; juniors a 4.2; and sophomores must serve as probationary members with a 4.5 average. Under the sponsorship of Miss Cobb and Miss Frey, the group held a car wash, a work day, and sold pennants. Their goal was to earn money for next year's initiation ceremony.

National Thespian Society is a select group for students who have worked one hundred or more hours on dramatic productions. "This organization is for students who have gone far beyond our basic expectations of what a usual student achieves," stated Mr. Murphy, the Thespian chapter sponsor.

"Where's the dummy?" "I'm sixteen picas too long!" "That candy has been here since Chritmas of '54!" Ah, yes, the bursts of inspiration, the sounds of diligent staff members at work on the creation of a yearbook. Leading this year's tireless Heights forces in and out of the maze of copies and captions were Mary Donn Rossi as copy editor and Julie Nowack serving as picture editor. Congenial Mr. Robert Boesel carefully supervised the activities of his crew.

The hour staff and after-school staff, consisting of twenty-three talented sophomores, juniors, and seniors, combined their efforts to record each memorable event of the year ranging from football to Fun Nite. These students made sales, took idents for pictures, indexed, and counted every head, copy, and caption. After applying in April the staff was selected, and plans for the 1969 yearbook began even before last year's Heights was in the hands of its many eager readers.

"Not finished yet?" Mary Donn gives a cowering staff the evil eye.

"Crop out half of Senior Choir and the picture will fit," grins Lindsey Barton, as Colleen Guilfoil and Betsy Rossi agree that "Lindsey's been at this too long!"

Cardinal Issues Spark Reader Reaction And Reply

Cardinal Editorial Editor Curt Wilson and Managing Editor Val Voise compare ideas and articles in other school papers.

It was difficult for the typical feature reader, news hound, or sports fan to realize the planning and preparation which went into each bi-monthly edition of the Cardinal.

Mrs. Tedell, the sponsor, helped Managing Editor Val Voice and Editorial Editor Curt Wilson to guide the staff in the production of each issue. Deadlines were met every other week, and there was no time to sit around. As the students enjoyed this week's final product, the staff was already meeting deadlines for the next issue.

Senior editors were Claudia Gerts, Features; June Lucas, News; Ron Duenn, Sports. Bruce Blackwell was the photographer. Supporting the editors was an experienced group of senior helpers. These students also wrote AHS news in the "High School Highlights" column of Paddock Publications. The Journalism I class, which was trained for approximately one to two months before submitting articles, served as reporters for the paper.

Quill and Scroll, an honorary organization, was sponsored by Mr. Boesel and Mrs. Tedell. To become a member, one had to be on either the Cardinal or Heights staff for one year, be a junior or senior, and be in the top one third of his class. The members were allowed to buy Quill and Scroll pins and received a Quill and Scroll magazine every month.

AHS Speakers And Debaters Earn New Honors

National Forensic League was an honorary organization set up to recognize exceptional achievement in Individual Speech Events or Debate. Chapter membership was awarded to those students of speech who had accumulated the required amount of points. The main activitiy of this organization, which was sponsored by Miss Trad, Miss Stavros, Mr. Wagner, Mr. Calzaretta, and President Tom Devine was the promotion of the NFL calendar.

Mr. Wagner also served as the coach for Arlington's debate team. The controversial topic of debate this year was Resolved: That the United States should establish a system of compulsory service for all citizens. After individual research on the topic, each member of the team formulated his own arguments and presented his solutions at 24 tournaments held throughout the state.

Students who participated in Individual Speech Events were given an opportunity to develop their speaking skills in various areas such as, serious or comedy play reading, verse reading, original monologue and original oration. The students displayed their talents in these fields at several invitational tournaments. Since the bus often left for tournaments before seven a.m., devotion became a necessary ingredient in determining the success of Arlington's speech team. Miss Stavros and Mr. Calzaretta guided these "early birds'" exciting season.

Meetings With Coffee, Tea, Tequila Or Bortsch?!

RUSSIAN CLUB

Even though Mexico City and Moscow are very far away, it would not have been unlikely to hear talk of tequila or borstch right here at Arlington. One would only have had to attend a Spanish or Russian club meeting.

This year Arlington's Spanish Club could have been nick-named the "Action Club," as its membership and activities both increased. The annual excursion to Mexico was probably the year's most popular activity. This year the trip seemed to prove that education can be fun. The days were packed full with sight-seeing tours, souvenir hunting, and various other forms of entertainment. Under the supervision of Mr. Riggs, President Paulette Graczyk, Vice-president Jeanne Urick, and Secretary Treasurer Juan Smmith led this year's "action" club.

Russian Club also worked very hard this year, however, due to circumstances beyond their control, there was no trip abroad. After an absence of several years, the Russian Club newspaper was revived. Movies and field trips were also new additions to the club's agenda for 1968-1969. Two parties were planned during the course of the year, one during the winter and one in the spring. President Pam Richey aided by her fellow officers led the year's activities with the help of Mr. Peter Babris.

AHS Latin Lovers & French Fanciers Speak Up

The spirit of Napoleon and Caesar came to life at the French and Latin club meetings.

With the intention of being an active club and involving as many members as possible, French Club was led by five capable officers. President Pam Miresse said that she wanted to give French Club new dimensions by holding a progressive dinner, bake sale, French cooking sessions, and dinner at a French restaurant. French Club met monthly on Fridays and again participated in Pan Language banquet events. Two foreign language teachers, Miss Kelly and Miss Sternshine, sponsored the club.

Latin Club tried to expand its membership as well as broaden its activities during the past year. Senior officers tried to promote the idea of involvement to fellow Latin students. Again the club participated in the Pan Language banquet and the annual Latin Day festivities. Regular meetings provided an opportunity for members to discuss activities. Liz Maltman, president, said, "We were able to have a Latin dinner and various spring events, and thus encouraged more old and new members." Mr. Norbert Siewert was the sponsor of Latin Club.

Representatives elected from each of the foreign language clubs were chairmen for the committees of the Pan Language Council. Sue Grashorn and Liz Maltman led the Publicity Committee; Liz Zilen and Pam Richey were in charge of the Food Committee; Patty Zalud and Cathy Snyder were responsible for the theme and decorations. The Hospitality Committee co-chairmen were Mimi Marshall and Joan Smith; Greg Shaffer was in charge of the program and tickets; and Brian Renz led the Entertainment Committee. Pam Bigford, the General Chairman, coordinated the activities of all the committees. The object of the year's work for the Council was the Pan Language Banquet held on March 10. The decorations, small balloons with baskets, and the skits, performed by the various language clubs, carried out the theme, "Around the World in an Evening." Administrators, teachers, and exchange students were the honored guests for the enjoyable affair.

German Club was headed this year by President Brian Renz, Vice-president Terry Myer, and Secretary-treasurer Barb Auge. Their year's activities culminated in the Pan Language Banquet skit which was a humorous presentation of the story of William Tell, the mythical apple-shooting archer.

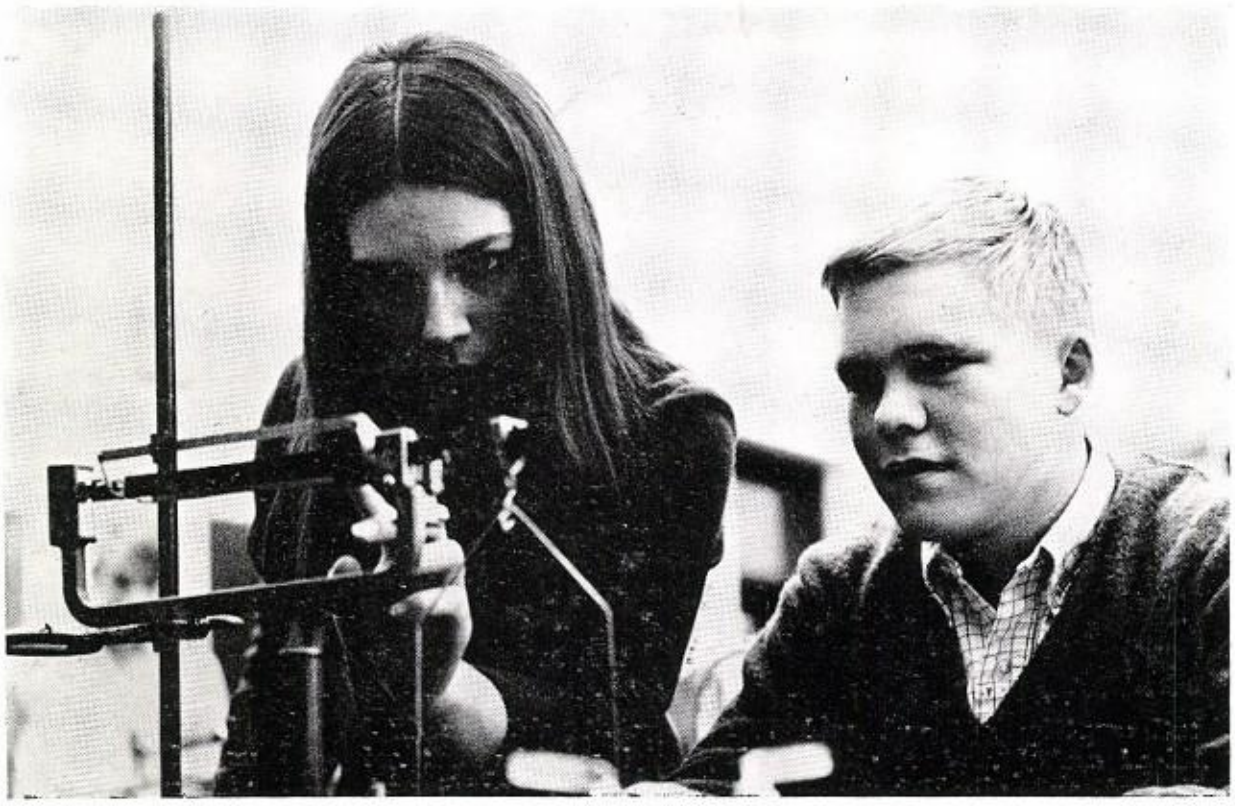
A cry of "Anyone for a nightshirt?" seemed to be the sales pitch for the School Store clerks as bright red nightshirts were introduced to the already extensive stock. Many frantic students found their way to the school store in a last minute rush to buy those supplies that had been called for days ago. Whether it was gym locks, typing paper or a compass for math class, the school store was happy to handle all crises.

Under the supervision of Miss Harrod, many Arlington students were given the opportunity to further their inventive abilities in the Creative Writers Club. This activity was a newcomer to the long list of extra-curricular programs available to the students. Creative Writers attracted the persons who hoped to develop finer writing techniques and an individual style. To give their writing a unique flair was the desired goal. There was no golden trophy at the end of their rainbow, only that satisfying feeling of accomplishment.

In this highly competitive world of business no one ever has enough experience or advice. Trying to aid in these two fields was the Business Education Club, a subsidiary of Arlington's business education courses. Because the business world seems to be massive in size and the possibilities of future careers endless, Business Education Club aided its new members in focusing on specific areas.

Learning To Question, Observe, And Experiment



Denise Dalton and Steve Chase check the weight of a solution as a part of a chemistry experiment on composition.

Science clubs presented interested students with the means to discover their preferred area of scientific study, to learn more about it, and to experiment with the equipment used in their chosen field.

"It's not work, because I would hope they enjoy what they're doing," was sponsor Mr. Holley's idea about the members of Chemistry Club and their projects. This year the students dealt with group laboratory activities which were not available in regular classwork. Biology Club, sponsored by Mr. Schonta, planned excursions to the Chicago Academy of Sciences, and nearby regions of ecological interest. Math Club, under the direction of Mr. Ulrich, sought knowledge from recreational mathematics such as quincunx, unicursal puzzles and mathematical spelldowns. However, the serious-minded club members, seeking more useful information, contemplated the wonders of Euler's line.

Members of Astronomy Club were active this year assembling and operating a six inch portable telescope as well as constructing a twelve inch telescope to be mounted on the school roof. Sponsor Mr. Knilans was pleased with the club's progress in what he considered "a big undertaking for high school students." Students in Jet Prop Hobby Club, supervised by Mr. Post, enjoyed the opportunity to work with model rockets and radio-controlled airplanes, which they either made themselves or assembled from special kits that they had purchased.

"Busy" and "capable" were two adjectives often used to describe the music department, which was usually in the state of uproar due to some minor "crisis." Either all the music had been misplaced or the ceiling of the music room had started to leak again. However, despite the confusion, the music department managed to present another year of exceptional and varied entertainment. Concerts were presented both in and out of the community.

The many vocal groups within the department were directed by Mr. White and Mr. Pugsley. The largest of the groups was Senior Choir, a mixed chorus made up of over one hundred voices. This year's choir presented programs at Northwestern Station and at Illinois State University at Normal.

Among the other musical groups were the Harmonettes, an ensemble of fourteen girls. They had the honor of performing at the Illinois Music Educators' Convention in Peoria. The Girls' Glee Club, fifty girls dressed in flowing, black crepe, was also active in school concerts.

Another organization of the department was Tri-M, an honorary music society. Only students who had proved their musical ability were initiated.

Girls of the class of '72 were initiated into the music department at AHS in Freshman Girl's Chorus. Performing at the school concerts under the direction of Mr. Boyd White, the girls were divided into two classes. The second hour class was led by President Marcia Tindall while Nancy Warnecke was vice-president. Their treasurer, Pauline Dority, was joined by Susan Maerker as secretary. Lee Ann Davidheiser was president of fifth hour chorus, with Kathy Wood as vice-president. Mel Opela served as treasurer, and the secretary was Debby Bunn.

Arlington's mixed vocal ensemble was composed of eight boys, eight girls, and their accompaniest Debby Brown. The Choraliers, directed by Mr. Jerome Pugsley, introduced a new idea in costumes this year. The girls of the ensemble surprised audiences with their detachable full length skirts over street length dresses. The Choraliers' performances included the traditional part in Homecoming.

Two of Arlington's many vocal groups were Mixed Chorus and the Revelaires. Mixed Chorus, mainly composed of sophomore students, displayed their musical talents at the seasonal concerts. Their director was Mr. Pugsley, and the president was Bev Walker. Denise Steinman was secretary, and Ellen Olson was treasurer.

Nine boys, dressed in burgundy jackets, made up the Revelaires. This student group was directed by Mr. White. Rex Parvin, a member of Revelaires, often took on the duties of student director. Terry Myer, a senior, and junior Mary Tuomi accompanied the boys on piano for their performances at Arlington and elsewhere. Some of the Revelaires' other performances were at the Northwest Community Hospital, local men's club meetings, and meetings of various local women's clubs. The group also sang for several children's gatherings, and at annual talent show.

Take eighteen boys in stiff, white collars and thirty-three girls in long, black skirts, forty-one music stands, two string basses, a kettle drum and fifteen other kinds of instruments, pack them into a bus, and what do you have? It's the AHS orchestra on its way to a performance for grade school children. Besides entertaining groups such as this outside of school, orchestra was also instrumental to the success of many music department concerts, as well as performing the score for the operetta in the spring.

Band was busy providing a background for cheers at basketball games and marching during football halftimes. Assemblies and concerts took up much of their time and talent, but there was energy to spare as the band marched down Dunton Street in the first Arlington Heights Christmas parade.

Authentic costumes including lederhosen for the boys and pinafores for the girls were a part of the German atmosphere enjoyed by the many organizations entertained by German Band this year. This group of select musicians specialized in polkas and other German folk tunes. Orchestra, band, and German Band were under the supervision of Mr. Fritz Schmoyer, who inspired their lively performances.

Service Synonymous With Key Club, Triple "S"

TRIPLE "S" OFFICERS

Starting its second year in affiliation with the American Red Cross program, Triple "S" again participated in projects sponsored by this organization. Last year's president, Julie Nowack, was re-elected and again led Triple "S" through a variety of new projects. The club, which had a membership of two hundred girls, held its annual all-school Christmas dinner in December. A Homecoming fashion show, Christmas stockings for an orphanage, Christmas cards for soldiers in Viet Nam, and toys for children in a local hospital were only some of the many service projects performed by Triple "S". Its most important project was the school chest, which was sent to the school in Iran that Arlington's Student Council built two years ago. Miss Haerther and Miss Ellingsen again acted as the co-sponsors of Triple "S".

Led by President Greg Shaffer, Key Club participated in a variety of service activities to the school and the community. Included in their list of numerous projects were their collecting of soap for Dixon State Hospital, selling candy to raise money for the blind, and selling peanuts to support the Boys' Clubs. Mr. Gibson sponsored the club and its service activities. The membership of thirty was chosen by the officers after each prospective member filled out an application telling the reasons why he was applying for membership and the year's service projects in which he most wanted to participate.

PEP CLUB BOARD

Think, Plan, And Move to Spirit And Victory

While the members of Chess Club were thinking, planning, and moving their way in and out of check, Pep Club supporters were planning and moving toward mass enthusiasm.

Pep Club, which was sponsored by Mrs. Markus and Mrs. Latour, worked to promote school spirit projects. The members sold spirit ribbons and took part in pep assemblies. Pep Club also was influential in the organization of car caravans to various athletic events. This began a new trend in many of the other schools in the district.

Chess Club, perhaps the most thinking club at Arlington, enjoyed a revival in 1968-69. Membership and participation increased. The club voted on a new constitution, held weekly business meetings and provided an opportunity for students to play chess any day after school in room 108. Rich Alderson served as president. Mr. Boesel was the sponsor.

RIDING CLUB OFFICERS

Soccer Club was a new organization this year and was led by Doug Thieman, Bryce Knorr, and Gary Drake. Soccer games were played during the fall primarily for practice. Competition games took place during the spring, but no inter-school games were planned for the year. Several clinics were held throughout the year. At one such clinic the players from the professional soccer team, the Chicago Mustangs, came to give a talk to the boys. Mr. Gardner sponsored the new club.

During the past year riding enthusiasts have gone to the Midwest Stables in West Dundee every Monday as members of Riding Club. Sponsors of the club, Miss Kelly and Miss Sternshein, helped the officers, President Wendy Hagenback, Vice-president Chris Ehlers, Secretary Pam Kurzka, and Treasurer Sue Larson, to put on a few horse shows against other stables. Sandy Brantner and Dawn McDonnell were of invaluable assistance to the officers in making all the arrangements involved in the club.

Printing and selling Christmas cards, making posters for various clubs, and presenting lectures and films on art were a few of the functions undertaken by the Art Club this year. President Linda McElhose, Vice-president Anne Owens, and Secretary-treasurer Dawn Nelson, along with co-sponsors Mr. Michaelis and Mr. Pink, organized field trips to benefit the understanding and appreciation of art.

Ski & Rifle Clubs Aim To Shoot Down The Hills

Ski and Rifle Clubs aimed to shoot down the hills for another successful year. Ski Club, this year sponsored by Mrs. Aleda Kresge and Mr. Edward Tourek, took advantage of another winter season. Officers, Cheryl Lustek, Sandy Vogeler, Marilyn Kehe, and Pat Erbach planned one weekend trip to Indianhead Mountain. The ski trip took place over semester break, serving as an enjoyable vacation after studying for exams. Also planned for the season were weekly night trips to Wilmot Mountain in Wisconsin. New this year was the opportunity for Arlington High School skiers to view thrilling ski movies and hear interesting guest speakers. The emphasis in these presentations was placed on ski safety. Any AHS student could become a member by attending three meetings.

This year's active Rifle Club was sponsored by Mr. Garcia and Mr. Stille, the police counsellor. The four officers, Jeff Stockdale, George Chapman, Greg Lude, and Gary Komarek planned two club matches which took place in the fall and in the spring. The first annual Arlington-Hersey match was also held this year. Twice weekly Rifle Club shot at the Arlington Heights police pistol range. The club members used their own twenty-two caliber target rifles for these practices. Rifle Club was NRA affiliated, and members earned NRA ratings.

STUDENT FORUM OFFICERS
Front Row: President Jim Parish. Second Row: Executive Secretary Lisby Peek, Topic Committee Chairman Tom Devine, Program Committee Chairman Cathy Rowe.

Many new and interesting projects were completed by Arlington's Sociology Club this year. Under the supervision of their sponsor, Mr. Mueller, and the president, Sandy Hilton, Sociology Club held Fun Nite booths where they sold posters from Old Town and took various field trips to local hospitals and institutions. Speakers also came and discussed many interesting and controversial subjects that concerned the student body. Teaching under-privileged children in Chicago, to read and write was the newest and most successful of the projects done this year.

Because the students at AHS demonstrated a need to express themselves, Mr. Wagner's persuasive speech class decided to form a club, Student Forum, to give them a chance to voice their opinions on current issues. Topics such as, "Values and Faults in Our Educational System," "How Schools and Community Should Adjust to Integration," and the "Suburban Liberation Front" were planned for discussion at the monthly meetings. Although Student Forum had a faculty adviser, the problems were investigated and presented by the students.

Future Teachers and Home Economics Careers clubs attracted students with an eye on the future. Members in FTA, sponsored by Mrs. Gragg, gained experience in teaching techniques, while Home Ec Club, sponsored by Mrs. Kane and Miss Ewan, offered a close look at opportunities in the field of homemaking through demonstrations and field trips.

Do you need to feel needed? Just donate your study hall and lend Arlington a helping hand!

Office Guides sacrificed study hall time to lend their assistance to the counseling and attendance offices. These volunteers were in evidence everywhere, distributing passes and attendance slips as they made themselves useful to their school.

Books, magazines, and microfilms surrounded the Library Aides as they whirled through each hour of checking out materials, collecting fines, and generally assisting the librarians. These students learned about the library while donating service.

Record players, tape recorders, and movie projectors made up the world of the Audio-Visual and Camera Club members. These students operated and were responsible for the equipment used as teaching aids — a much appreciated use of skill.

Special assistants to science teachers were Lab Aides, whose tasks included preparing apparatus and helping with experiments. The volunteers contributed their talents, developed their laboratory skills, and increased their knowledge of science.

Taking temperatures, filing, and giving simple first aid were a few duties performed by the aides to Mrs. Ford, the school nurse. "Angels of mercy" such as these provided a useful service which often proved helpful to an anticipated medical career.

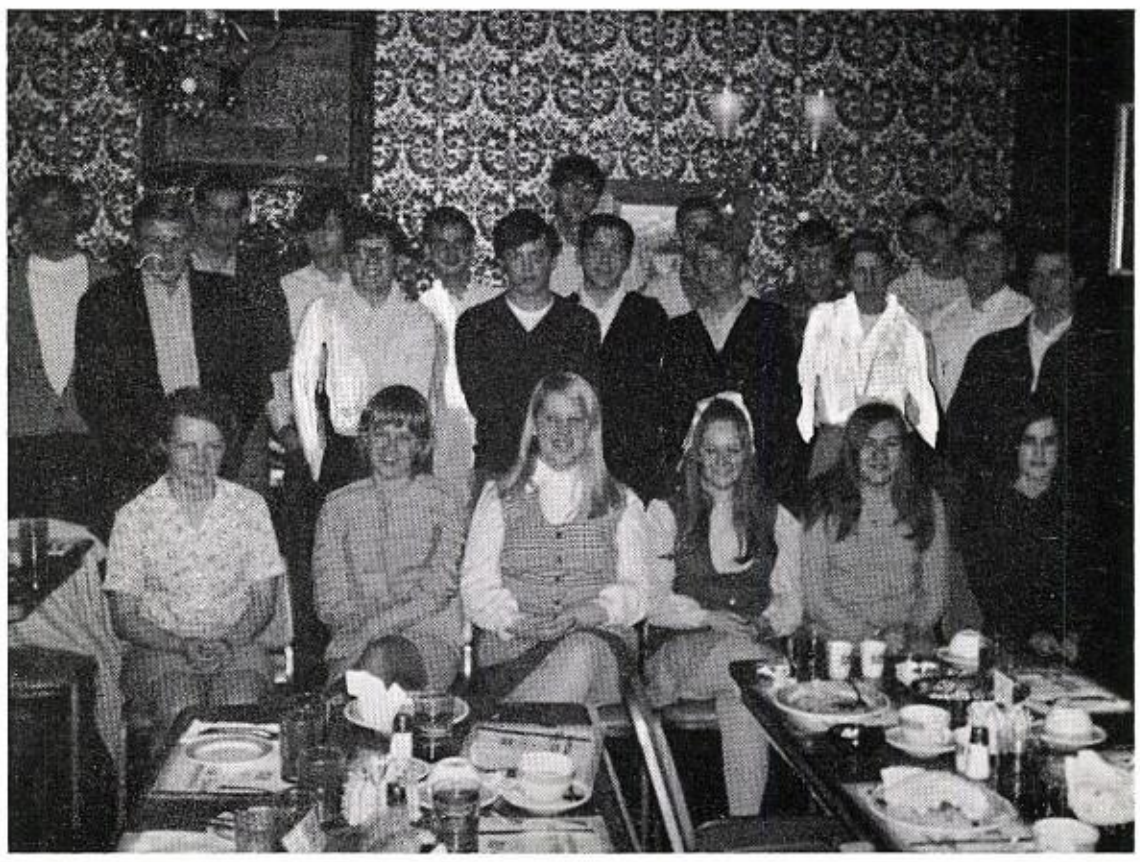
Scholastic Occupations

Arlington's D.E. and D.O. programs allow students to receive early training in an occupation of their choice before graduating. D.E. or Distributive Education trains students in occupations which involve the merchandising of goods. D.O. or Diversified Occupations offers training in specific trades, such as nursing or auto mechanics.

D.E. and D.O. students are required to spend one half day at school in order to complete their graduation requirements. They spend the rest of the day training at a job. At school the students attend at least two academic classes and a P.E. class. Two additional credits are received for working. Thus, the students are able to complete their education and receive valuable job training at the same time.



DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONS

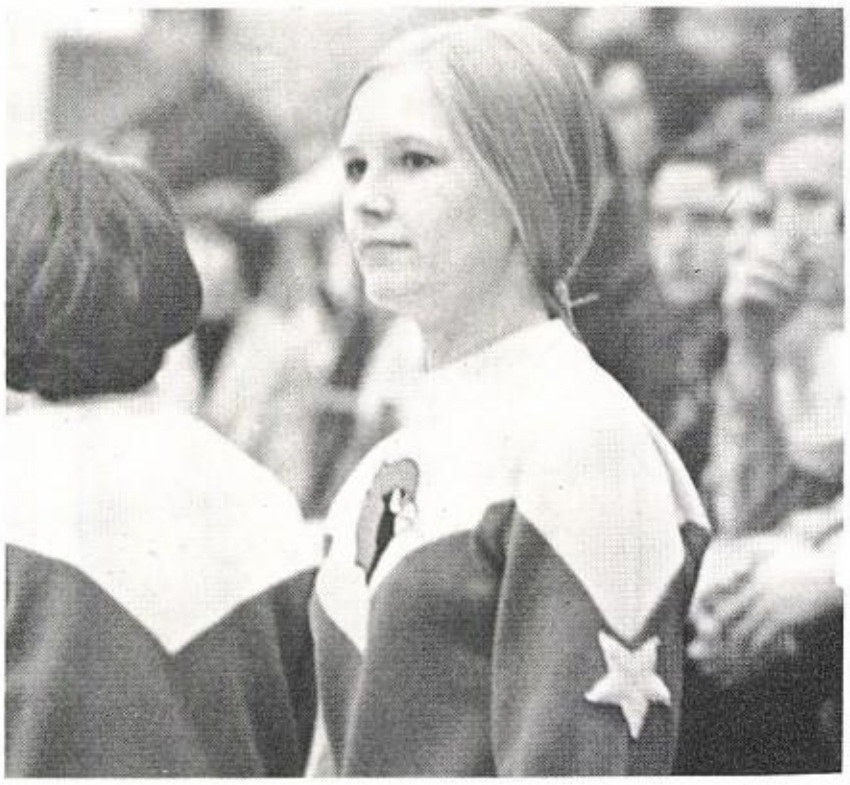
Forming the crowd's favorite, the pyramid of spirit, AHS varsity cheerleaders once again prove that "our team is so big."

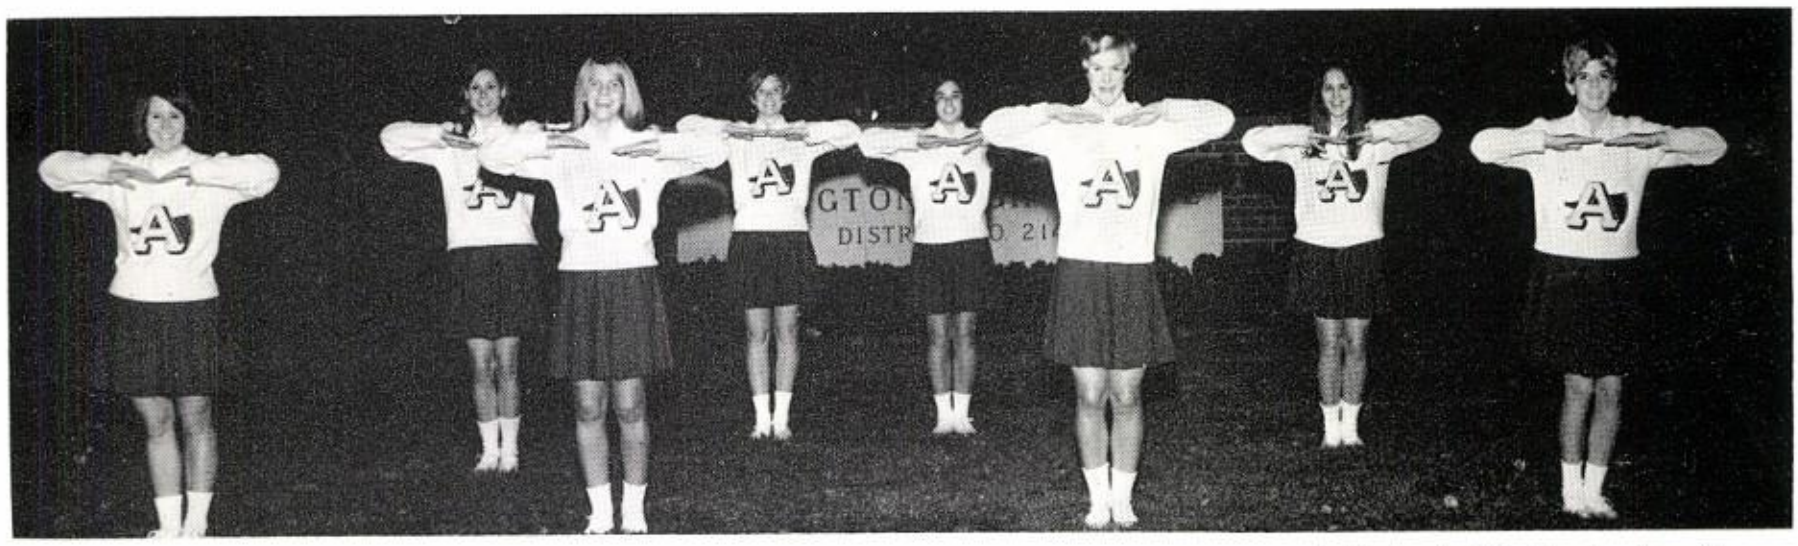


Reflecting the confidence of Cardinal Power, Varsity Captain Kris Engelbretsen enjoys a rare, calm moment in a tense game.

Who were those eighteen spirited girls dressed in red and white outfits that were seen at all athletic events? The Arlington Cheerleaders, of course. This enthusiastic group was divided into separate squads. There were four freshman on the freshman squad, four sophomores on the sophomore, four juniors on J.V., and five seniors and one junior on varsity. The sophomores cheered at sophomore events and each week two alternated on the J.V. squad, giving them a total of six.

Cheerleading included both enjoyment and work for these fortunate girls. They practiced several hours a week and were in charge of the pep assemblies. The cheerleaders were particularly busy during Homecoming week. It was their job to present the traditional coronation ceremony and sell mums.

The varsity bought new sweaters this year, red with a white v-neck and a Fighting Cardinal emblem. The cheerleaders sold spirit ribbons as a new way of boosting school spirit. Promoting interest in athletics was a responsibility that the girls enjoyed.



Arlington's JV cheerleaders fire up the crowd with a snappy version of an old favorite, "Fight Cards."

This year during varsity baseball the Cardinals "socked" it to their opponents. Although not one of its better seasons, the varsity team finished with an over-all record of eight victories, twelve losses. This was a sixth place finish in the Mid-Suburban League.

The varsity team was instructed and guided by Mr. Fran Somers, and it was aided by the adept catching of Jim Kenny, the power hitting of Bob Miller and Darrell Kasl, the alert fielding of Craig Cochran, plus the expert pitching of Gary Anderson. Many other players also contributed greatly to the Arlington team effort.

Both the sophomore and freshman "A" teams showed the promise of exciting varsity play in the future with impressive identical showings of twelve wins and only four losses. The freshman "B" team also had a respectable record of six wins and seven losses. Coaches Drain and Glover helped the sophomore and freshman "B" teams, respectively, while the frosh "A's" received the experienced coaching assistance of Mr. Bob Carter.

The young Redbird sluggers, hoping to continue their fine performance, gained much from the 1968 season. With improved skills and new attitudes, the diamondmen prepared themselves for another season where slugging and swinging proves success.

Girls Reach Athletic Heights Through GRA

The Girls Recreation Association, sponsored by Mrs. Hundt and Mrs. Vandenburgh, was one of Arlington's largest and most active clubs. Its 100 members participated in athletic activities which ranged from basketball to badminton two days each week. The girls worked to accumulate enough points to earn one of three major awards. Award presentations were made at the Winter Banquet and at the spring picnic, Crazy Daisies, held at Deer Grove.

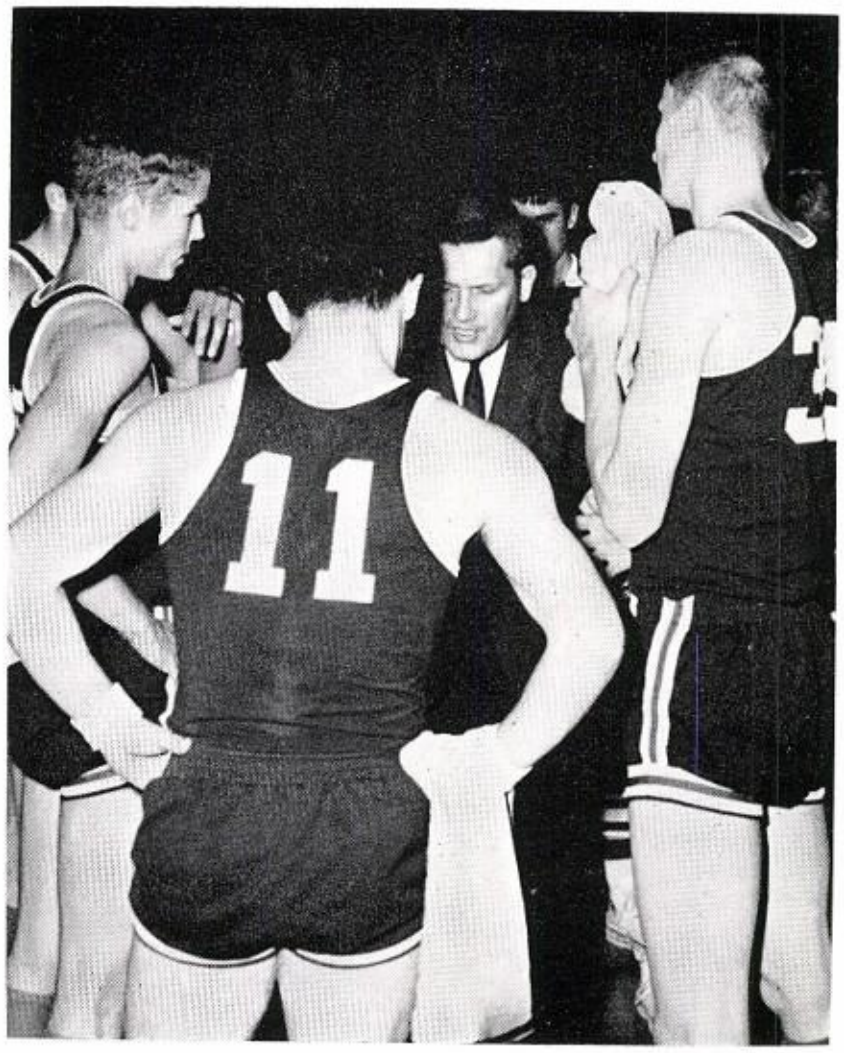
Basketball at Arlington has traditionally been a popular spectator sport. This year was no different as Arlington's speedy, determined cagers continued to attract crowds. Led by All-Conference seniors Chris Buttenob, Gary Anderson and Jim Baumgartner, the varsity team compiled a win-loss record of 18-6. Other valuable members of this year's squad were junior guards Bill Heffernan and Jim Stipp, and senior forwards Ken Jorgensen and Dave Steele. Starter Dean Schmelzer injured his ankle late in the season which kept him on the sidelines for the remaining games.

The varsity finished second to Wheeling in the Mid-Suburban League standings. Their only losses were to Wheeling and Fremd, teams that lost to Arlington once during the season. An exciting highlight of conference play was a one-point, come from behind victory over Wheeling.

The varsity also completed in a difficult holiday tournament at DeKalb where they finished fourth.

Under the direction of new head coach, Mr. George Zigman, Arlington basketball enjoyed success at all levels. The JV, coached by Mr. Carter and Mr. Pitchford finished third in the conference behind Prospect and Fremd. Coaching the sophomore conference champs was Mr. Haines, while Mr. Drain and Mr. Brodnan led the freshmen to similar titles.



Cardinal coach, George Zigman, gives advice to Arlington's varsity cagers about the execution of a crucial defensive play.

Hip, Ho, Marching, Twirling — Away They Go

"Hip ho, hut ho!" To this accompaniment Arlington High School's drill team, the Coronets, took the field and floor for football and basketball half-time shows. The performances of marching and precision drills, done to music at basketball games, reflected the hours of concentrated practicing by the thirty-six girls on the team. Because Coronets did not have a class period, the captain, Vivian Faitz taught the drills she created to the girls during before school and evening rehearsals. The Coronets, sponsored by Miss Thompson this year, also marched in the Homecoming parade. The color guard, a division of the Coronets, performed pre-game ceremonies, marching with sabres, rifles, and flags.

The Cardettes added life and sparkle to between-game and half-time shows. Sponsored by a former Cardette, Mrs. Clark, the eleven member crew practiced many long hours to perfect their baton and shaker routines. The effect of their routines, performed to the music of the Arlington High School band or recordings, was heightened by the Cardettes' new uniforms and their liberal use of costumes and props. Their performances led by Vicki Truax, included a hillbilly ho-down, children's games with lollipops, a special flag routine on Homecoming, and an old fashioned top hat, soft shoe dance.

Striders Set The Pace

Arlington's varsity cross country team, under the coaching of Mr. Bruce Samoore, proved to its opponents that it was worthy of its MSL championship. Senior Tom Swanson, who acted as the team's captain, led his eight team members to victory in the MSL. Other members of the team were sophomores Scott Teuber and Jeff Kowalski; juniors Scott Butler, Ken Malcolmson, and John Curtin; and seniors Joe Hooker, Dave Marszalek, and exchange student Angel Figueroa.

For the third consecutive, undefeated year, the Cards ended the season with a record of thirteen wins in as many dual meets. In the Libertyville Invitational, Arlington's harriers placed fourth out of sixteen teams. In the Maine West Center Meet and the Peoria Invitational, Arlington took second places out of fields of twenty-eight and thirty-three, respectively.

Continuing their drive toward the state meet, Card harriers out-ran Fremd for the first place title at the Conference meet by one point, 54-55. In the next leg of the race to the state meet, AHS paced its way through the District meet, again taking first place out of twenty-two teams. Swanson set the pace in this meet, taking the individual first place honors. In the state meet, Scott Butler, Dave Marszalek, and Joe Hooker placed fourteenth, thirty-first, and thirty-eighth, respectively, as the AHS team finished in eighth place for the 1968 season.

Redbird Power Soars Far Over Challengers

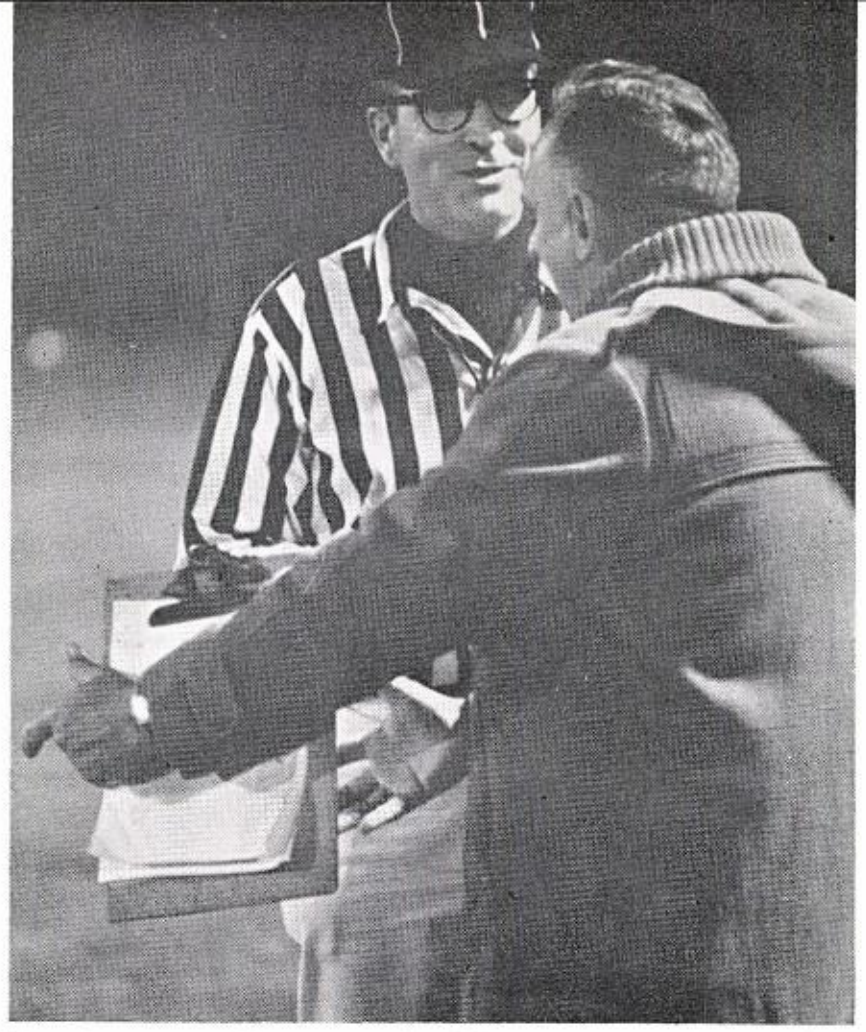
A strong senior eleven and a spirited coaching staff: Mr. Bob Walther, head coach; Mr. Tom Pitchford, defensive coach; and Mr. Jack Cutlip, line coach, composed the first undefeated football team at Arlington High School or in this area in forty-three years.

Co-captain Todd Somers, senior, led the powerful backfield of seniors Dave Ewart and Dennis Meacham, but the real credit goes to the line. Seniors Jim Ulrich and Paul Tollefson, who was co-captain, took the tackle positions and refused to be moved. The offense scored points, and the defense wouldn't give up any. The defense relinquished only twenty-six points all season, and very little yardage.

Although this was a history-making undefeated team, Mr. Chuck Haines and Mr. Julius Fleihler may have built another on the JV team. Arlington's JV team was also undefeated. They relied heavily on their defense, led by middle-linebacker Mike Weber. The interior line was made of sophomores. The defensive backfield held up with Gary Bratko and Sam Wit thwarting the opposing team's pass receivers. The offense had a dual set of quarterbacks, John Kuykendall and Fred Harth.

Following the JV team were the sophomores. Despite two early defeats, Mr. Tom Walthouse and Mr. Gregory Alcorn got their team to finish in good league standing.

The freshman teams turned in respectable season standings under the coaching of Mr. George Zigman, who began his first season at Arlington.



Two important figures on the field at every Arlington football game, Coach Walther and the referee, discuss the game.

Girls Gain Graceful Skills Through Participation

"Sit-ups, one, two, three, four," were typical commands of the senior leaders, who became semi-teachers during the past year. These girls found that being a teacher is not as simple as it may seem. A year of training when they were juniors may have enhanced their skills, but only experience could teach these girls to cope with fifty boisterous sophomores doing the "Salty Dog Rag." The silverfish in the temporary dressing room posed just another of many problems for the girls to handle with what grace and skill they could muster.

The leaders were chosen on the basis of enthusiasm, desire, and skill. During the past year they aided the P.E. teachers by taking attendance, leading exercises, teaching skills, helping to grade students, and sometimes taking over the class entirely. Many of these girls plan to go on in college to become physical education teachers.

In Orchesis girls learn to express their emotions through interpretive dance using basic locomotor skills, balance, and body control. During the past year the girls in Orchesis displayed their talent at school assemblies, at grade schools, during basketball half-times, and at the annual Orchesis show. The girls also visited art galleries and dance workshops on field trips. Miss Whitney, the group's sponsor aided officers Pat Hruby, president; Cindy Miller, vice-president; and Sharon Martin, secretary-treasurer. Nancy Grabow and Betsy Criswell were both elected to be the wardrobe mistresses.

Golfers Are Up To Par

Arlington's varsity golf team began the season determined to better its third place standing in last year's competition. The varsity linksmen met their challenge; and under the direction of Coach Tom Walthouse, they captured the conference crown during the 1968 tournament.

The team, mainly comprised of seniors, was headed by co-captains Doug Chaps and Pete Hahn. Five starting varsity linksmen Doug Chaps, Pete Hahn, Steve Coy, Jestin Yedor and Rich Armour again challenged par at the Golden Acres Country Club in Roselle, Illinois. Neither rain nor snow nor sleet nor hail nor dark of night could keep the golfers from practicing daily.

To start the ball rolling, Arlington defeated Waukegan High School for the first time in fourteen years. The varsity linksmen were victorious in all conference dual meets. They finished the season with a great follow through by defeating the Prospect Knights, the toughest opponents. In the district meet held at Glenbrook South's home course, Arlington finished fourth.

The frosh-soph team, again under the coaching of Mr. Walthouse, completed a successful season. The frosh-soph golfers participated in dual meets and the conference tournament. They strove for a perfect drive and a clear shot to a victorious season.

Conference, district, state. Any really great team can rack up trophies like that, but it takes a Walthouse team to do it twice in a row.

Sixteen hours of practice a week weren't uncommon for a dedicated gymnast. The fruits of such labor and the determination and skill of coaches Walthouse and Russell were obvious in the qualification of nine boys in state competition, at least one in every event. Sharing a third of the state team score were Jim Brousseau and Bob Gleichman, fourth and fifth in the all-around event. Jim also took first on the high bar and tenth on the parallel bars. In the side horse competition, Ron Jones secured tenth place. The strongest event, tumbling-free-exercise, was dominated by Steve Von Ebers, Gary Drake, and Nick Isaacs, who wrapped up first, third, and fifth places, respectively. Kevin Lindsey won a ninth place on still rings while George Creswell on high bar tied for third. Terry Haines retained his status as state champion on the tramp.

In addition to topping every other gymnastics team in the state of Illinois, they also beat the 1968 Indiana State Champions by an impressive margin at an invitational in the Grace Gym. The Indiana team proved no competition for these boys who have not lost a dual meet in the last two seasons.

The team's pride in the ability of Coach Walthouse was reinforced when he was chosen to attend a meeting of gym coaches in Basil, Switzerland.

Water Wingers Win

As temperatures dropped to below zero degrees, the 68-69 swim team devoted many long and tiresome hours to practice in warm, seventy degree water. During these freezing winter months, the tankers gathered early every morning at the school and took a bus to the Northwest Suburban YMCA in Des Plaines.

Under the supervision of Coaches Pete Clark and John Gardner, the varsity tankmen finished second in the ghost conference. Captain Kurt Thomson set new 100 and 200 yard free-style records at 52.4 and 1.55.3 seconds, respectively. Tom Rowe was tops in the butterfly event and recorded record-breaking times. Swimmers Jim Hilgenfeld, Bill Witcher, Kurt Tellschow, and Kurt Thomson, broke relay records also. Both Tom and Jim competed as individual medley swimmers. Breast stroke swimming was led by freshman Dennis Stout, and Eric Lindblad rounded out the events in swimming backstroke.

The Arlington swim team managed to advance two top Card swimmers, Kurt Thomson and Tom Rowe to the district finals which were held at New Trier East. Kurt, who qualified in the 200 yard free-style preliminaries, missed the qualifying time for state by two-tenths of a second. Tom finished sixth in the 100 yard butterfly preliminaries, and in the same position for the finals.

Though the team will lose three senior tankers by graduation, the future looks brighter since the returning swimmers will have a pool of their own.

Once again proving that tennis at Arlington is a winning racket, the Cardinal tennis team compiled a record of ten wins in thirteen dual meets. The senior co-captains, Bill Von Boeckmann and Matt Weeg led their team members through the successful season. The team was comprised of juniors Bill Stelling, Paul Stevens, Ken Jorgensen, and Robert Crockett, and sophomore Greg Harris.

The Card netmen also made an impressive showing in invitational meets. Coach Tom Pitchford's crew racked up two third place finishes at the Evanston Invitational and the New Trier Quadrangular where there were fields of eight teams and four teams, respectively. In the Arlington Invitational, the host team captured the first place trophy from its seven opponents.

Arlington made the Conference meet an intramural contest as the racketeers took first and second places in both singles and doubles play. Weeg was given second place to Von Boeckmann's first in singles play. The Jorgensen-Harris duo defeated teammates Stevens and Stelling for the doubles title.

Jorgensen and Harris again beat Stelling and Stevens as they took District titles. Von Boeckmann and Weeg took first and fourth in singles competition. Von Boeckmann made the quarter-finals as he led Arlington to a third place finish downstate.

Cards Run Down Mid-Suburban League Foes

Thinclad sprinters Joe Hooker and Dave Dieters seem to have left competition in their wake as they make tracks together.

Gaining greater experience, depth, and momentum, Coach Bruce Samoore's cindermen slowly pieced together another of many track and field squads which have proven to be a perennial powerhouse in District 214.

1968 saw the Cardinal trackmen running away with conference and district victories and finishing with an impressive twelfth at the state finals in Champaign.

Returning with laurels from downstate were senior Gary Fagerson, who placed fifth in pole vaulting competition, and senior Dave Steele, who sprinted to fourth place honors in the 120 yard high hurdles.

Other lettermen who played an important role in the team finish were seniors Mike Dority, Joe Hooker, Todd Somers, Tom Swanson, Paul Tollefson, and junior Scott Butler.

Again the big guns in Arlington's track arsenal were found in the distance runners, seasoned by a successful cross country season. Along with a potent attack supplied by the weight men and sprinters, they comprised a well-rounded team under the watchful eye of Coach Samoore.

The 1969 version of the Arlington track team will be setting its sights on a repeat performance of the '68 conference and district meets in addition to a prominent position at the state finals.

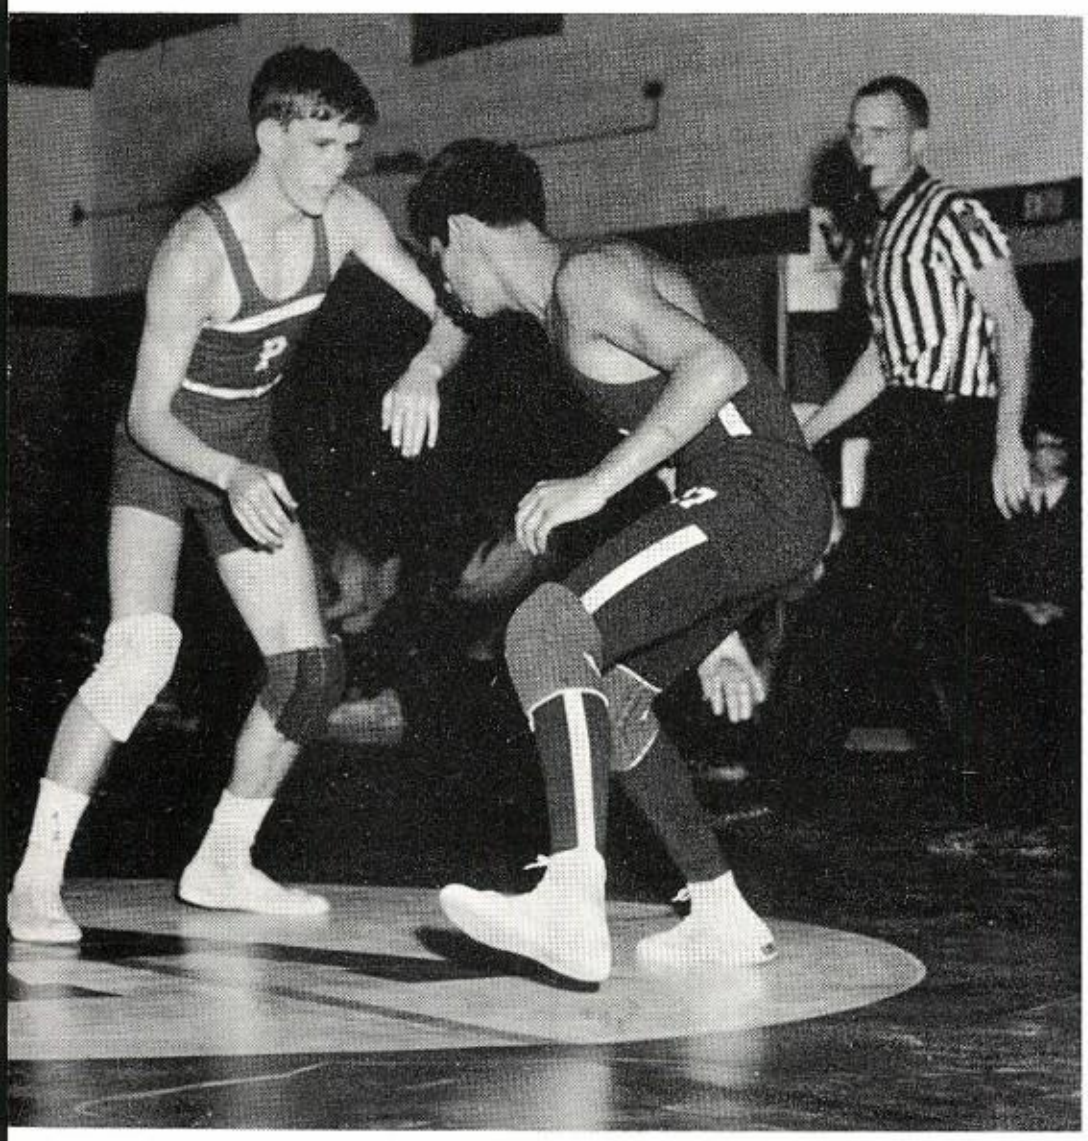
Grapplers Pin Opponents To The Mat Of Defeat



"Well now, stomp with the left and do-si-do." All join in to cheer Lupé Hernandez as he warily stalks a Palatine foe.

Grueling two hour practice sessions every day after school for nearly four months paid off for Arlington's grapplers this season. Under the coaching abilities of Mr. Jack Cutlip, and the leadership of co-captains Gary Prochaska and Jay McDonnell, a large varsity squad made up of talented and vigorous freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, muscled their way to a fine second place finish in the Conference. They ended their season with a Conference dual meet record of 8-1, falling only to league champs, Prospect. Their over-all dual meet record was an impressive 13-2. Some of their other achievements included a second place finish at the Proviso West Quadrangular Meet, a fourth place finish at the Palatine Holiday Tournament, and a first place finish at the Lake Park Tournament. They also retained their possession of "Pa's Bucket," which is the award given annually to the winner of the Arlington-Palatine match. Four outstanding Arlington matmen made it through the District meet to the sectionals. They were seniors Dan Selleck, Pat McCoy, and Jay Mconnell, and freshman Gary Stumph.

Following the tradition of winning seasons at Arlington, the junior-varsity matmen, coached by Mr. Greg Alcorn, proved to be just as successful as the varsity. With their only loss coming again at the hands of Prospect, the jayvee's finished second in league competition with a dual meet record of 9 wins and 1 loss and a 10-1 comprehensive record.

A Letterman's League

"A" Club is Arlington's organization for those boys that have earned their varsity letter through participation in athletics. Several times during the year certain boys are selected to become new pledges. For a few weeks they are kept busy doing various tasks and giving some strange performances. After this they are initiated, and then they become active members.

"A" Club sponsored many activities this year. They enthusiastically sold tickets for the annual raffle of the Homecoming football, adding a little suspense to the exciting October festivities at Arlington.

On the mystic evening of October twelfth the Homecoming dance, sponsored by "A" Club, was held in the Grace Gymnasium. The title of this year's dance was "Autumn Mist," and it was a very "rousing success", according to "A" Club president, senior Gary Drake.

December saw the extremely busy members of the club traveling to a dance in Park Ridge, Illinois. This dance was held for a group of girls from a girls' orphanage and school as special entertainment. "A" Club's sponsor for 1968-69 was Mr. Vena.

Seniors Sparkle With Spirit, Skill & Success

The opportunity to assert the rights and privileges of the Class of '69 was finally realized as that long awaited senior year unfolded. In addition to the many special activities performed by seniors, much time was spent thinking about college, jobs, and marriage.

Autumn signified the beginning of the Homecoming festivities. The choosing of the Homecoming Court, the long hours spent building floats, and the Homecoming dance — all of these had a special meaning for seniors.

One of the main concerns of the senior class was the preparation for the traditional Christmas Ball. Under the leadership of the senior class officers, President Craig Howard, Vice-president Pam Townsend, Secretary Sue Johnson, and Treasurer Marybeth Koch, the Grace Gymnasium was transformed into an "Evening In Evergreen." The winter wonderland quickly became filled with a scent of pine and the joy and happiness of the Christmas season.

Spring brought to mind thoughts of recreation and sports, the prom and after-the-prom, graduation, and future careers. The many activities associated with high school vanished. The senior status, the senior class spirit and the Cardinal caravans faded. Only memories remained as the Class of 1969 looked forward to the start of something new.

Loyalty, Unity, Creativity Describe Board of '70

Following one of Arlington's oldest traditions, the junior class once again sponsored the prom. The ideas and dreams that had been forming since their freshman year were brought to a climax on the evening of June 6, 1969, when the class of 1970 presented "Of Dawn And Dreams." The time and efforts of the class members unfolded into the successful prom which was held at Chevy Chase Country Club.

Although one hundred dollars was taken out of the treasury to aid the junior class at Hersey High School, the board had no trouble raising money for the prom. The final year of money-making projects began with football concessions and a kick-off coke dance. Successfully following these projects were two Fun Nite booths and a coke dance after a home wrestling meet.

Unlike previous years, the junior class board was open to all students. Every junior had the opportunity to attend the meetings and participate in the projects.

Working with the Junior Class Board were the advisors, Miss Mueller, Mr. Dorn, and Mr. Clark. Their guidance and advice proved to be invaluable to the many successful activities of the class of 1970.

Plans + Persistance = Productivity For Sophs

Arlington's sophomores began an exciting year by changing the structure of their class board. The class of 1971 made theirs an "open" board. Every sophomore was invited to attend at least three of the meetings and help with at least one project, thereby becoming a member of class board. In the past, members had been elected in homeroom. This change brought about a more active board, and it encouraged many students to become involved.

Sophomore class board sponsored many successful activities. Concessions were sold at two football games, one in September and another in October. In September, the enthusiastic sophomores surpassed by a full six dollars the existing record for the amount of concessions sold at a game. The previous record had been set the year before. A coke dance was sponsored in the fall.

Who could forget the "Marryin' Sam and Divorcin' Dan" booth at fun night? Certainly not the members of this class board, who had the great inspiration. And what about the talent show for which they all eagerly sold tickets? Every one will remember the car wash and the dance held during the spring with the other class boards. Miss Martha Craig and Mr. Jack Emery guided the successful sophomores, helping to make this year a most memorable one for the high-spirited, record-breaking class of 1971.

Vitality And Ability: Key To Freshman Politics

Confusion reigned as the freshmen started their first year at Arlington. Finding rooms in this impossibly numbered school was the biggest problem. As the first weeks passed, the school seemed to shrink in size as familiarity with it increased. After electing class board officers, the freshman class became more organized. The offices were filled by Jim Heffernan, president; Ann Lockwood, vice-president; Debbie Quick, treasurer, and Kathy Wood, secretary, who were aided by sponsors, Mr. Hicks and Mrs. Claney. Homeroom representatives and any freshman who attended a certain number of meetings made up the class board.

The freshmen expressed their first money-making ideas in the form of a Fun Nite booth. Armed with razors, fun lovers attempted to remove shaving cream from balloons without popping them. The main project of the Freshman Class Board was the traditional spring turn-about, which offered the girls a chance to date their favorite boys. On March 8, the girls pinned a corsage on their boys and escorted them to the dance. The dance required much planning and hard work several months in advance.

Money raised by the freshmen through these projects will be used to sponsor the prom during their junior year. The class of 1972 closed their first year at Arlington looking back on their successes and new experience, and looking forward with fresh ideas to the challenges of their next year.

All's Well That Ends Well-Heights Finishes 1969

Dazed by the debris of the year's work are Mr. Boesel and his hard-working homemakers of America, the "greatest yearbook staff ever."

John Pollitz, Photography

June, 1969 and Heights — a completed year and completed book of memories thanks to the assistance and cooperation of many. Special appreciation is extended to the inspiring Mr. Robert G. Boesel, who kept diligent watch over the Heights flock by day.

Cooly curing all the headaches when "Help!" became a Heights-hold word were our dedicated editors, Mary Donn Rossi and Julie Nowack.

We sincerely wish to thank the following organizations and people for our photographs: John Pollitz and Root Photographers for general photography; Ray Benson; and Carl Wysocki and the Nickerson Photo Company for play pictures.

Thanks also to John Faus for writing the track and football copies, Mr. Robert Merriman, cover manufacturer, Mr. David McConnell, patient printer, and especially to "Uncle" Larry Wells, engraver.

Pondering past picas, copious copies, and laborious layouts, a happy Heights staff giggles with glee over assorted accomplishments and collapses into a collected calm.
